BLAST HURLS FIRE INTO LARGE CROWD

Three Of Dead Are Firemen; Others Are Spectators Who Were At Scene

(International News Service)

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 19.—Blackened and seared by many hours of fighting the intense flames that followed the explosion of three giant gasoline tanks here late yesterday, taking a toll of six lives and causing severe injuries to seventeen firemen and civilians, firemen brought the blaze under control today after a hard battle.

The explosions occurred in the plant of the Richfield Oil Company here on the shore of Lake Chautauqua. The first blast hurled deadly flames into a crowd of men, women and children who had been attracted to the scene.

Recover Boys Body

The sixth body recovered was that of the youngest victim, Wayne Lewis, A 14-year-old boy. A 7-year-old boy, Harold Anderson, and three firemen were critically injured. The coroner was to hold an inquest into the disaster today and the police and fire departments planned to conduct investigations.

The dead, in addition to young

Agreement Settles Strike At Johnson Bronze Co.

All strike activities at the Johnson Bronze company plant ended at seven o'clock this morning when the employes returned to work. The machines began whirring, the bushings began rolling out and the strike which began Monday, May 28, was history.

The agreement to return to work came late Monday night when the members of Local 92, International Brotherhood of Foundry Employes met and verified an agreement which had been drawn up earlier in the evening between P. J. Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze company, and Charles J. Doerr, president of the local, and J. E. Roebuck, organizer.

Both Sides Satisfied

Both sides professed themselves as satisfied with the settlement agreement. Both sides compromised their original positions somewhat.

Speaking for the Bronze Works, P. J. Flaherty said: "The strike has been adjusted amicably and I am pleased at the outcome. Men will be put back to work as rapidly as possible. The plan will be operated as an open shop as it has in the past."

Speaking for the members of the union, Charles J. Doerr, president, said: "The agreement is satisfactory to us. I am very pleased that we have been able to settle our differences and get the men back to work."

Terms Of Agreement

The terms of the agreement are set forth in a letter written to Local

Groceries Taken Here In New Store Swindle Found In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 19—Troubles continue to pile on the shoulders of Roxie Long, ex-racketeer, who has been operating a grocery store here, and who today became the object of a search by Allegheny and Lawrence county authorities.

Long was released from county jail on Saturday, after being held on a charge of purchasing groceries with alleged worthless checks.

Authorities today confiscated the entire stock of canned goods in the Long store. They said that all of the merchandise was stolen from the Premium Supply Company; J. J. Dean Company, and the Rosenblum-Kline Company all of New Castle, Pa.

Arrest Mrs. Long.

PITTSBURGH, June 19.—With the arrest of Mrs. Virginia Long, wife of Roxie Long, reputed Pittsburgh racketeer, state and county authorities today were closing in on a group of persons sought in connection with a series of grocery store defrauds in Allegheny and Lawrence counties.

Members of the group who are the subjects of the search consist of Roxie, John Davis and Samuel Hoffman. They have been operating in the two counties extensively during the past six months, according to police, and affidavits filed against them by six companies, five of which are in New Castle, list the amount of their alleged defrauding activities at $1,300.

BISMARCH, N. D., June 19.— In the face of threatened court action to unseat him and with federal troops looking on, Gov. William Langer, convicted of soliciting federal funds, clung to the governorship today.

Lieut. Gov. Oles H. Olson, through his counsel, demanded that Attorney General P. O. Sathre relieve Gov. Langer of his duties. The attorney general took the request under advisement.

Federal troopers were still on hand in the state capital although Federal Judge Andrew Miller deferred the sentencing of Gov. Langer and four others until June 27. Why the soldiers were here was not fully explained.

Olson indicated he and his followers would bring court action to unseat Gov. Langer if the appeal to Attorney General Sathre brings no action.

Hanna's Election To Be Protested

TO PLAN ACTION IN HIS BEHALF

For the purpose of protesting the election of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna as County Chairman of the Democratic party, a group of Democrats styling themselves as "friends of Dr. Meehan" will meet tonight in the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz.

The meeting rises out of the Democratic County Committee meeting held Saturday afternoon in the Court House, when after a hectic session Hanna was elected. At that time it was contended by backers of Dr. Meehan that they were steam rollered, and that proxies were voted in violation of the Democratic committee rules.

For the purpose of finding out what rules were right Dr. Meehan wired the secretary of the Democratic state committee asking what rules were on file there. The answer indicates that they are the same rules under which the Meehanites were working and do not permit the voting of proxies in the manner done Saturday, it is stated.

The meeting tonight will probably result in a formal protest to the state committee or it might possibly

Automobile Skids On Wet Roadway, Returning From Youngstown Monday

They were enroute from Youngstown, where Mrs. McGill's little grandson, Bobby, has been undergoing treatment from a specialist. This was their last trip.

They were removed to the Jamieson Memorial hospital, where their injuries were dressed, after which they were able to go to their home here.

The car was being driven by Miss McGill. There is a grade at the point the accident occurred, coming down to a one-way bridge. Miss McGill applied the brakes when she noticed a big truck approaching from the opposite direction. The macadam was slippery from the rain, and hurled the car against a light guard rail, which collapsed and allowed the car to drop into the bed of the creek, about ten feet below. The machine landed on its side. Passing motorists and residents of the district helped to extricate them from the machine.

Their condition today is much improved, it is stated.

Joyous Scenes In Congress Chambers As Session Closes

Is Missing Woman Lawyer Dead?

Police of two continents are searching for the former Agnes Tufverson, shown here, missing New York city attorney, who married Captain Ivan Poderjay on December 20, 1933, and disappeared two weeks later, when they were preparing to sail on a European honeymoon. Captain Poderjay, arrested in Vienna, Austria, by request of New York police, was reported to have sailed without his wife, but taking along all their baggage. Authorities fear the missing woman lawyer may be dead.

Woman Held By Police In Vienna Has Clothes Of Missing Woman Lawyer

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 19.—Marguerite Susanne Ferrand, now under arrest in Vienna, had all the clothes of Miss Agnes Tufverson, missing New York corporation lawyer, altered to fit her by a London dressmaker before leaving for Austria.

This revelation published in today's News Chronicle is in direct contravention to the story Mme. Ferrand told the Viennese police.

Story Mixed Up

When arrested she said that she was merely keeping the clothes for Miss Tufverson until she came back from a "world tour." She had been asked to care for them, she said, by her husband, "Captain" Ivan Poderjay, whose allegedly bigamous marriage to Miss Tufverson in New York immediately preceded her disappearance.

How Mme. Ferrand had all the bride's trousseau altered to fit her slimmer form was told by Mrs. Mary Foley, a dressmaker who occupied the apartments below those rented by Poderjay and Mme. Ferrand in West Bourne Grove, London.

"A few days after Captain Poderjay returned from America," Mrs. Foley said, "the Ferrand woman brought me six frocks, a black sealskin coat, and a quantity of lingerie for alteration.

Three Youthful Applejack Hi-Jackers Found Slain Near South River, New Jersey

(International News Service)

SOUTH RIVER, N. J., June 19.—The bullet-riddled bodies of three youthful applejack hijackers lay in a morgue at New Brunswick today, marking the end of a Jersey rum feud.

The bodies, bound with coarse rope, were found in the rear seat of an automobile near here yesterday. The mouths of the victims were sealed with adhesive tape.

The murdered youths, Henry Teel, 24, Peter Georgianna, 25, and Isaac Gutman, 27, all of New Brunswick, had been "taken for a ride" because of their highjacking activities, police said. They had long criminal records.

PRESIDENT AT HELM OF ENTIRE PROGRAM

Action Taken Inaugurates Many New Fields For Governmental Agencies

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The seventy-third congress passed on into history today with its members homeward bound to face the November verdict of the people on its tremendous legislative record.

The prestige of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was at stake as his huge house majority and many of his senate leaders stand for re-election on his recovery program. It was the seventy-third that enacted his program into law, so its members shared his responsibility.

The seventy-third was born in the Roosevelt landslide. It came into office on the crest of a panic. It honeymooned through an era of crises. It died in youth, compared with other congresses, on the eve of the congressional elections.

Impressive Record.

The adjournment sine die left the seventy-third with a legislative record unsurpassed in peace-time history. Some of its legislation was reactionary, some of it an unprecedented liberality. Its foes called its product revolutionary; the president called it evolutionary.

Its last day was illustrative of its whole record. Then, it finally enacted a $2,400,000,000 deficiency ap-

Woman Held By Police In Vienna Has Clothes Of Missing Woman Lawyer

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 19.—Marguerite Susanne Ferrand, now under arrest in Vienna, had all the clothes of Miss Agnes Tufverson, missing New York corporation lawyer, altered to fit her by a London dressmaker before leaving for Austria.

This revelation published in today's News Chronicle is in direct contravention to the story Mme. Ferrand told the Viennese police.

Story Mixed Up

When arrested she said that she was merely keeping the clothes for Miss Tufverson until she came back from a "world tour." She had been asked to care for them, she said, by her husband, "Captain" Ivan Poderjay, whose allegedly bigamous marriage to Miss Tufverson in New York immediately preceded her disappearance.

How Mme. Ferrand had all the bride's trousseau altered to fit her slimmer form was told by Mrs. Mary Foley, a dressmaker who occupied the apartments below those rented by Poderjay and Mme. Ferrand in West Bourne Grove, London.

"A few days after Captain Poderjay returned from America," Mrs. Foley said, "the Ferrand woman brought me six frocks, a black sealskin coat, and a quantity of lingerie for alteration.

Three Youthful Applejack Hi-Jackers Found Slain Near South River, New Jersey

(International News Service)

SOUTH RIVER, N. J., June 19.—The bullet-riddled bodies of three youthful applejack hijackers lay in a morgue at New Brunswick today, marking the end of a Jersey rum feud.

The bodies, bound with coarse rope, were found in the rear seat of an automobile near here yesterday. The mouths of the victims were sealed with adhesive tape.

The murdered youths, Henry Teel, 24, Peter Georgianna, 25, and Isaac Gutman, 27, all of New Brunswick, had been "taken for a ride" because of their highjacking activities, police said. They had long criminal records.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The seventy-third congress passed on into history today with its members homeward bound to face the November verdict of the people on its tremendous legislative record.

The prestige of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was at stake as his huge house majority and many of his senate leaders stand for re-election on his recovery program. It was the seventy-third that enacted his program into law, so its members shared his responsibility.

Agreement Settles Strike At Johnson Bronze Co.

All strike activities at the Johnson Bronze company plant ended at seven o'clock this morning when the employes returned to work. The machines began whirring, the bushings began rolling out and the strike which began Monday, May 28, was history.

The agreement to return to work came late Monday night when the members of Local 92, International Brotherhood of Foundry Employes met and verified an agreement which had been drawn up earlier in the evening between P. J. Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze company, and Charles J. Doerr, president of the local, and J. E. Roebuck, organizer.

Both Sides Satisfied

Both sides professed themselves as satisfied with the settlement agreement. Both sides compromised their original positions somewhat.

Speaking for the Bronze Works, P. J. Flaherty said: "The strike has been adjusted amicably and I am pleased at the outcome. Men will be put back to work as rapidly as possible. The plan will be operated as an open shop as it has in the past."

Speaking for the members of the union, Charles J. Doerr, president, said: "The agreement is satisfactory to us. I am very pleased that we have been able to settle our differences and get the men back to work."

Terms Of Agreement

The terms of the agreement are set forth in a letter written to Local

Groceries Taken Here In New Store Swindle Found In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 19—Troubles continue to pile on the shoulders of Roxie Long, ex-racketeer, who has been operating a grocery store here, and who today became the object of a search by Allegheny and Lawrence county authorities.

Long was released from county jail on Saturday, after being held on a charge of purchasing groceries with alleged worthless checks.

Authorities today confiscated the entire stock of canned goods in the Long store. They said that all of the merchandise was stolen from the Premium Supply Company; J. J. Dean Company, and the Rosenblum-Kline Company all of New Castle, Pa.

BISMARCH, N. D., June 19.— In the face of threatened court action to unseat him and with federal troops looking on, Gov. William Langer, convicted of soliciting federal funds, clung to the governorship today.

Lieut. Gov. Oles H. Olson, through his counsel, demanded that Attorney General P. O. Sathre relieve Gov. Langer of his duties. The attorney general took the request under advisement.

Federal troopers were still on hand in the state capital although Federal Judge Andrew Miller deferred the sentencing of Gov. Langer and four others until June 27. Why the soldiers were here was not fully explained.

Olson indicated he and his followers would bring court action to unseat Gov. Langer if the appeal to Attorney General Sathre brings no action.

Hanna's Election To Be Protested

TO PLAN ACTION IN HIS BEHALF

For the purpose of protesting the election of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna as County Chairman of the Democratic party, a group of Democrats styling themselves as "friends of Dr. Meehan" will meet tonight in the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz.

The meeting rises out of the Democratic County Committee meeting held Saturday afternoon in the Court House, when after a hectic session Hanna was elected. At that time it was contended by backers of Dr. Meehan that they were steam rollered, and that proxies were voted in violation of the Democratic committee rules.

For the purpose of finding out what rules were right Dr. Meehan wired the secretary of the Democratic state committee asking what rules were on file there. The answer indicates that they are the same rules under which the Meehanites were working and do not permit the voting of proxies in the manner done Saturday, it is stated.

The meeting tonight will probably result in a formal protest to the state committee or it might possibly

They were enroute from Youngstown, where Mrs. McGill's little grandson, Bobby, has been undergoing treatment from a specialist. This was their last trip.

They were removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where their injuries were dressed, after which they were able to go to their home here.

The car was being driven by Miss McGill. There is a grade at the point the accident occurred, coming down to a one-way bridge. Miss McGill applied the brakes when she noticed a big truck approaching from the opposite direction. The macadam was slippery from the rain, and hurled the car against a light guard rail, which collapsed and allowed the car to drop into the bed of the creek, about ten feet below. The machine landed on its side. Passing motorists and residents of the district helped to extricate them from the machine.

Their condition today is much improved, it is stated.

Joyous Scenes In Congress Chambers As Session Closes

TIGHE IS MEETING WITH SECRETARY OF LABOR

Amalgamated Plan Outlined

Hope That Program Will Be Placed Before President Roosevelt

FOUR-POINT PLAN IS BEING PRESSED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 19.—The spotlight that has illuminated the steel industry for the past three weeks shifted to Washington again today to play on conferences that may have important bearing on continued peace in America's workshops.

Informed that William Green, American Federation of Labor president, had arranged meetings with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and other federal officials, union officers headed for the Capitol rather confident that President Roosevelt would see fit to lend his ears to their pleas.

Four Point Proposal

Their principal weapon to get better working conditions for union men was a four-point peace proposal adopted at the "strike convention" here last Friday. Adoption of this proposal not only gave the labor group something to work on but it also averted, temporarily at least, the nation-wide steel strike that was to have been called last Saturday.

The proposal that will be discussed with Miss Perkins and others interested in the momentuous problem specifies that the President appoint a labor board of three members to hear complaints and in reality as a peace maker between steel employers and employes.

Shortly before heading for Washington, Michael F. Tighe, International president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, said:

"We are ready to present a strong case and have reason to believe we can win the needed support."

He was accompanied on the trip by Vice-Presidents Edward W. Miller, and Thomas G. Gillis, and Louis Leonard, secretary-treasurer of the association.

AGREE MENT SETTLES STRIKE AT JOHNSON BRONZE COMPANY

92 of the Brotherhood on Monday, June 18. This letter which was delivered Monday afternoon to the representatives of the union follows:

June 18, 1934.

International Brotherhood of Foundry Employes,
Local Union No. 92.
New Castle, Pa.
Gentlemen:

This company is thoroughly in sympathy with the purpose of the National Recovery Act, and glad to recognize the right of employes to bargain either individually if such individual wishes, or collectively through representatives of their own choosing.

The company is entirely willing to recognize your committee as the representative of the members of your union and will also recognize any other committee of representatives of any group of employes and will take up any differences which might arise between your employe members or members representing any other group, and the company, with the duly authorized officers or committees of your union, or officers of committees of any other group, or groups. This will afford to the members of your union, or employes belonging to any other group, an opportunity to deal collectively on all problems, such as questions relating to rates of pay, hours of labor, rules, working conditions, health, safety and other similar matters of mutual interest. As provided in NIRA, this company will also recognize the right of any group of employes to bargain collectively.

Reductions or increases in force shall be made in accordance with the rules laid down by the president of the United States on March 18, 1934, to-wit: "Such human relationships as married men with families shall come first and then seniority, individual skill and efficient service." After these factors have been considered no greater proportion of union employes similarly situated shall be laid off than of other employes.

It is further understood that the explanation or interpretation of the above paragraph, entitled, Statement of Automobile Board on Lay-Off and Rehiring, copy of which is attached to this letter, will govern fully the matter of laying off and rehiring of employes. This statement is dated May 18, 1934, and signed by Leo Wolman, Nicholas Kelley and Richard L. Byrd, appointed by the president of the United States to arbitrate on all questions of this kind for members of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers association, of which this company is a member in good standing.

In explanation of this, this Labor Board was originally appointed to arbitrate for members of the Automobile Chamber of Commerce which includes practically all the automobile builders and later on the same board was appointed by the president of the United States to arbitrate for the members of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers, Inc.

If any question arises as to the use of the word "individual" in the above paragraphs, in explanation, such word is included for the simple reason that not to include it would be deviating from the interpretations of paragraph 7-A in the NIRA, as set forth by the president of the United States in his arbitration of this particular question between the Automobile Chamber of Commerce and the American Federation of Labor in Washington, D. C., on March 18, 1934.

We hope that all of such questions may be discussed and disposed of with good will and in such a way as to assist President Roosevelt in his effort to restore prosperity to our country.

Yours very truly,
P. J. FLAHERTY,
President.

St. Mary's To Picnic Thursday

GUILFOYLE HEADS COMMITTEE WORK

Arrangements have been completed for the picnic Thursday at Cascade Park of the children from St. Marys school. The outing will be sponsored by the Holy Name society and one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected during the afternoon and evening.

The children of St. Marys school have invited the children attending the several other parochial schools of the city to join with them and more than 1,000 Catholic children have accepted the invitation and are now looking forward to the arrival of Thursday.

A great number of special attractions have been arranged and there will be plenty of action every minute of the afternoon and evening and no doubt there will be many visitors from out of the city who went to St. Marys who will join again with their classmates.

The golf tourney will find 30 foursomes entered and there will be an athletic program for the children. Among the features will be a reunion of the class of 1890.

Mrs. Foley said that she had retained scraps from the altered clothes and had made paper patterns from some so it could be easily determined whether the clothes belonged to Miss Tufverson.

Dispatches from Vienna describe the same garments as found in a large trunk in Mme. Ferrand's apartment there, a discovery which led to her immediate arrest.

Find Blood Stains

Vienna, June 19.—Traces of blood were found on the lining of the wardrobe trunk belonging to Miss Agnes Tufverson, missing New York woman lawyer, which was found yesterday in the house where Ivan Powerjay lived with Mme. Suzanne Ferrand, the police chemist announced today.

Only a few drops of blood were found, the chemist said, and the traces were so slight that they might have come from a minor wound.

The discovery, however, stired police and stimulated their interest in the search for the missing woman, who disappeared soon after her marriage in New York to Poderjay, reputed international adventurer.

Poderjay is held here on charges of bigamy. He was said to have admitted marriage with both Miss Tufverson and Mme. Ferrand, Mme. Ferrand also is being held by police in connection with the investigation.

Poderjay and Mme. Ferrand met for the first time today since Poderjay was arrested. Both were brought before Police Councillor Dr. Hans Spring for questioning.

Mme. Ferrand wept hysterically and cried out to Poderjay:

"I know you are not guilty, Ivan. You meant well with me as well as with Miss Tufverson."

Both were highly nervous and it was reported their testimony conflicted at several points. Reporters were barred from the inquiry.

There is a time to hold back and be conservative, he stated, and a time to be optimistic and go forward, which time was the present. He stated that New Castle had every advantage a community desired, and in his opinion was going to go forward rapidly in the years to come.

He urged that the members of the chamber of commerce sell the community to themselves and then the community, after which there would be nothing to worry about.

NOTABLE SESSION OF 73RD CONGRESS COMES TO CLOSE

propriation Bill, a Tobacco Licensing Act, the Crosser-Dill Railway Labor Act with brand new agencies for arbitrating railroad disputes, a precedent-shattering Frazier-Lemke bill for granting five year moratoria on farm debts and a huge new federal housing program. The appropriation bill carried huge sums for direct federal unemployment and drought relief.

From March 9, 1933, when it met in special session, until it adjourned, this congress appropriated enough money to plunge the national government into debt to a point beyond the peak of war indebtedness. It shattered precedents of all time by carrying the government into the field of direct supervision of business and of direct federal relief of local distress. These decisions will furnish the issues for the forthcoming campaigns.

Some Legislation Dies.

With all its activity, some legislation died with the congress. It failed to act finally on the cash bonus bill for world war veterans. It abandoned the Bulkley bill for modifying the Glass Banking Act. It dropped the Ickes Oil Controll Bill and the Wallace Ball extending the government's power to license agriculture. Mr. Roosevelt did not insist on their enactment.

Throughout the two years, the president met with but four defeats. His plea for senate ratification of the world court was ignored. His appeal for ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty was rejected. His Economy Act was liberalized, as regards government pay and veterans' benefits, over his protest. And insurance of deposits in state banks was authorized, despite his private objections, otherwise, Mr. Roosevelt had his way with this congress.

The seventy-third passed through some of the greatest economic crisis in American history. It convened in March, 1933, during a bank panic and promptly enacted the Banking Holiday Act. Later, it revised the federal banking laws to protect depositors and to insure deposits. It also protected the national currency by authorizing the president to suspend gold payments and to impound all gold. These statutes carried the nation through two crises.

Established NRA.

To rescue industry, it enacted the National Industrial Recovery Act and created the NRA with its "blue eagle." To save farmers, it enacted the AAA, with its farm relief provisions. To succor the unemployed, it created the PAWA and CWA, with millions for direct relief.

There was an Economy Act to reduce governmental expenditures, but afterwards, congress twice liberalized its provisions. This economy, incidentally, was lost in the avalanche of appropriations for relief.

Among hundreds of bills, the first session also gave the nation 3.2 beer, provided for government operation of Muscle Shoals and enacted a "truth in securities" bill to protect investors. Many other measures helped individual groups of citizens or particular sections of the country.

At its final session, after repeal of prohibition, it revised the liquor taxing laws. Then it passed a new tax law, boosting many federal taxes.

Its greatest efforts toward social legislation probably came on the last day. Then it passed the Farm Debt Moratorium Bill and the great Housing Act, providing for federal aid in the construction or renovation of private homes.

Next to these measures probably were its labor bills. It passed a measure calling for federal conciliation boards to settle labor disputes. It passed a like bill for arbitration of railway labor disputes. It passed the Hatfield-Wagner bill calling for new retirement pay for railway employes.

Branching far afield, it provided for Philippine independence, for construction of a navy up to London treaty strength, for federal regulation of the cotton, cattle and tobacco industries, for revising airmail contracts, for federal supervision of all forms of communication. For injecting silver into the nation's monetary stocks on a ratio of 25 to 75 against gold and for federal regulation of the New York and all other security exchanges. It enacted scores of bills to remedy existing distress. There was a new bankruptcy act for corporations; a municipal bankruptcy act, giving cities a chance to reduce their debts; and a bill for direct federal loans to private industry from the RFC and federal reserve banks.

Even the Indians were remembered. The Wheeler-Howard Bill was passed, giving the tribes a large measure of self-government. Indeed, in its two years, the congress remembered every class of citizens, from the bankers, through the farmers and factories, down to the jobless and homeless.

It can well go down in history as the "relief" congress.

Long Is Important

In the more dignified atmosphere of the senate, Huey Long stalked about with self satisfaction while his colleagues awaited a bill from the house. Chewing a long cigar, the Louisiana kingfish twirled a straw hat and slapped senatorial backs with reckless abandon. He had won a great victory in jamming through a farm relief bill and he was happy.

An untoward incident was narrowly averted when a newspaper correspondent dropped a lighted cigaret in vice-president Garner's chair. A watchful clerk prevented any damage to vice-presidential dignity.

Declares Hitler Regime Will Fall

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19—Fall of the Hitler government in Germany was predicted here today by Baron De Rothchild member of the French senate and the powerful international banking firm.

"I don't say it will be tomorrow—but some day the Hitler regime will fall" said Baron Rothschild.

The Baron's statement was made in a reply to an invitation extended by Rep. Dickstein (D) of New York, to attend the Chicago century of Progress exposition on Jewish Day, July 29. The Baron said he would do his utmost to attend.

He told a group of Jewish members of Congress that "most gratifying" news was being dispatched from Germany. The mark is failing and gold reserves have been reduced, he said.

"I don't believe there will be in Germany the strong inflation there has been in the past" said Baron Rothschild, "but they won't have any more money to buy raw materials. They will have a strong depression.

"Naturally this will not take place tomorrow," he added.

expected to file formal charges against the college instructor today. A pair of eye glasses found near Manis' decomposed body in a field near Amity lead to the arrest of Bartholomew who also is wrestling coach at W. & J.

Were In Fight

Bartholomew according to Burchiral, claims the fight and subsequent death of the youth, a well-known female impersonator in the tri-state area, followed several attempts on his part to "blackmail" the physical director. Despite the youth's insistence that he be given money, Bartholomew never complied with the requests, police said they were informed.

Grief-stricken and shocked by the discovery of their son's lifeless body Saturday, Manis' parents scoffed at the blackmail motive. His father, A. L. Manis, called the motive ridiculous.

Will Press Charges

"George loved a good time—the bright lights and night club life but he was never a spendthrift," the father remarked. "We gave him all the money he needed."

His mother sobbed:

"I know my boy too well. It couldn't have been blackmail."

Meanwhile, the death youth's father swore to press charges against Bartholomew.

"I think electrocution would be too quick for Bartholomew" he observed. "I'm going to fight to the end for George."

The fatal fight between Manis and Barthomew occurred on the night of June 8, police said. In a signed statement, Bartholomew admitted requesting the youth to get into his car on that night following a demand for money. While driving, they quarrelled and suddenly Bartholomew brought his car to a halt. During an ensuing scuffle, the car door opened pitching both men to the ground and down an embankment.

Neck Is Broken

During another scuffle which followed shortly, Bartholomew told county detectives that Manis' body suddenly "went limp" and dropped to the field. Upon examination Bartholomew stated he discovered the youth had died.

An autopsy disclosed that young Manis' neck was broken although Bartholomew denied any knowledge that the actor had sustained such an injury.

The sight of the dead youth lying in the field caused him to become panic-stricken, Bartholomew said. So he covered the body with boards and branches from trees.

Kastenhuber, Allison and Bloom were firemen. Young Anderson and Golcynski were spectators, part of the crowd trapped when the first of three 20,000-gallon oil tanks, exploding under the intense heat, scattered burning oil over a wide area.

Spectators Flee

The flames from the exploding tank touched off two others. As the sheets of fire leaped at the spectators, they fled in panic, dozens of them, including children, being knocked down and trampled in the stampede. Screaming with pain, a score of others jumped into the lake.

All available firefighting apparatus and ambulances were rushed to the scene, and the injured taken to hospitals.

Great clouds of smoke, billowing from the tanks, lent an eerie touch to the scene, while the tongues of flame brought into bold relief the victims lying dead or injured.

out this area, was released from county jail on Saturday, after being held on a charge of purchasing groceries with alleged worthless checks.

County authorities, headed by District Attorney M. L. Ailey of Lawrence county, today arrested Mrs. Long at the Long store in the South Hills section of Pittsburgh. She was charged with larceny and conspiracy to cheat and defraud, and sent in the custody of officers to New Castle, where she was being held awaiting arraignment.

Following the arrest of Mrs. Long, authorities confiscated the entire stock of canned goods in the Long store. County Detective Frank Ritz said that all of the merchandise had been stolen.

The six stores, each of which made a separate information against the group, are: J. J. Dean Grocery Company, Rosenblum-Kline Company, New Castle Milling Company, New Castle Produce Company, New Castle Grocery Company, all of New Castle, and the Premium Supply Company, of Ellwood City, Pa.

The procedure and activities of the group are well known to authorities in both Allegheny and Lawrence counties. Their customary method of operation, according to police, is to order supplies from wholesalers for their "grocery store," payment for the goods, it is said, is generally made with worthless checks. The goods ordered are delivered, and during the same night, they are moved out.

Prior to his release on Saturday, Following his arrest on Friday, Long was arrested in Greensburg last week in connection with similar activities. According to authorities, there are five indictments in Allegheny county present against both Long and his wife.

The activities of the group of four persons have extended over a period of the last six months. Authorities today described Long's personal activities in this connection is extending over the last 18 years."

New Castle police on last Tuesday instituted a search for three men who said they were starting a grocery store at Cedar street and Madison avenue and purchased merchandise from several local firms. They gave checks signed "Sam Hoffman" drawn on the Wampum bank. The merchandise was delivetred Monday and hauled away to some other city some time Monday night. Discovery of the alleged swindle was made when the owner of the building discovered the merchandise had disappeared.

TIGHE IS MEETING WITH SECRETARY OF LABOR

Amalgamated Plan Outlined

Hope That Program Will Be Placed Before President Roosevelt

FOUR-POINT PLAN IS BEING PRESSED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 19.—The spotlight that has illuminated the steel industry for the past three weeks shifted to Washington again today to play on conferences that may have important bearing on continued peace in America's workshops.

Informed that William Green, American Federation of Labor president, had arranged meetings with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and other federal officials, union officers headed for the Capitol rather confident that President Roosevelt would see fit to lend his ears to their pleas.

Four Point Proposal

Their principal weapon to get better working conditions for union men was a four-point peace proposal adopted at the "strike convention" here last Friday. Adoption of this proposal not only gave the labor group something to work on but it also averted, temporarily at least, the nation-wide steel strike that was to have been called last Saturday.

The proposal that will be discussed with Miss Perkins and others interested in the momentuous problem specifies that the President appoint a labor board of three members to hear complaints and in reality as a peace maker between steel employers and employes.

Shortly before heading for Washington, Michael F. Tighe, International president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, said:

"We are ready to present a strong case and have reason to believe we can win the needed support."

He was accompanied on the trip by Vice-Presidents Edward W. Miller, and Thomas G. Gillis, and Louis Leonard, secretary-treasurer of the association.

AGREE MENT SETTLES STRIKE AT JOHNSON BRONZE COMPANY

92 of the Brotherhood on Monday, June 18. This letter which was delivered Monday afternoon to the representatives of the union follows:

June 18, 1934.

International Brotherhood of Foundry Employes,
Local Union No. 92.
New Castle, Pa.
Gentlemen:

This company is thoroughly in sympathy with the purpose of the National Recovery Act, and glad to recognize the right of employes to bargain either individually if such individual wishes, or collectively through representatives of their own choosing.

The company is entirely willing to recognize your committee as the representative of the members of your union and will also recognize any other committee of representatives of any group of employes and will take up any differences which might arise between your employe members or members representing any other group, and the company, with the duly authorized officers or committees of your union, or officers of committees of any other group, or groups. This will afford to the members of your union, or employes belonging to any other group, an opportunity to deal collectively on all problems, such as questions relating to rates of pay, hours of labor, rules, working conditions, health, safety and other similar matters of mutual interest. As provided in NIRA, this company will also recognize the right of any group of employes to bargain collectively.

Reductions or increases in force shall be made in accordance with the rules laid down by the president of the United States on March 18, 1934, to-wit: "Such human relationships as married men with families shall come first and then seniority, individual skill and efficient service." After these factors have been considered no greater proportion of union employes similarly situated shall be laid off than of other employes.

It is further understood that the explanation or interpretation of the above paragraph, entitled, Statement of Automobile Board on Lay-Off and Rehiring, copy of which is attached to this letter, will govern fully the matter of laying off and rehiring of employes. This statement is dated May 18, 1934, and signed by Leo Wolman, Nicholas Kelley and Richard L. Byrd, appointed by the president of the United States to arbitrate on all questions of this kind for members of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers association, of which this company is a member in good standing.

In explanation of this, this Labor Board was originally appointed to arbitrate for members of the Automobile Chamber of Commerce which includes practically all the automobile builders and later on the same board was appointed by the president of the United States to arbitrate for the members of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers, Inc.

C., on March 18, 1934.

We hope that all of such questions may be discussed and disposed of with good will and in such a way as to assist President Roosevelt in his effort to restore prosperity to our country.

Yours very truly,
P. J. FLAHERTY,
President.

The appropriation bill carried huge sums for direct federal unemployment and drought relief.

From March 9, 1933, when it met in special session, until it adjourned, this congress appropriated enough money to plunge the national government into debt to a point beyond the peak of war indebtedness. It shattered precedents of all time by carrying the government into the field of direct supervision of business and of direct federal relief of local distress. These decisions will furnish the issues for the forthcoming campaigns.

Some Legislation Dies.

With all its activity, some legislation died with the congress. It failed to act finally on the cash bonus bill for world war veterans. It abandoned the Bulkley bill for modifying the Glass Banking Act. It dropped the Ickes Oil Controll Bill and the Wallace Ball extending the government's power to license agriculture. Mr. Roosevelt did not insist on their enactment.

Throughout the two years, the president met with but four defeats. His plea for senate ratification of the world court was ignored. His appeal for ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty was rejected. His Economy Act was liberalized, as regards government pay and veterans' benefits, over his protest. There was an Economy Act to reduce governmental expenditures, but afterwards, congress twice liberalized its provisions. This economy, incidentally, was lost in the avalanche of appropriations for relief.

Among hundreds of bills, the first session also gave the nation 3.2 beer, provided for government operation of Muscle Shoals and enacted a "truth in securities" bill to protect investors. Many other measures helped individual groups of citizens or particular sections of the country.

At its final session, after repeal of prohibition, it revised the liquor taxing laws. Then it passed a new tax law, boosting many federal taxes.

Its greatest efforts toward social legislation probably came on the last day. Then it passed the Farm Debt Moratorium Bill and the great Housing Act, providing for federal aid in the construction or renovation of private homes.

Next to these measures probably were its labor bills. It passed a measure calling for federal conciliation boards to settle labor disputes. It passed a like bill for arbitration of railway labor disputes. It passed the Hatfield-Wagner bill calling for new retirement pay for railway employes.

Branching far afield, it provided for Philippine independence, for construction of a navy up to London treaty strength, for federal regulation of the cotton, cattle and tobacco industries, for revising airmail contracts, for federal supervision of all forms of communication. For injecting silver into the nation's monetary stocks on a ratio of 25 to 75 against gold and for federal regulation of the New York and all other security exchanges. It enacted scores of bills to remedy existing distress. expected to file formal charges against the college instructor today. A pair of eye glasses found near Manis' decomposed body in a field near Amity lead to the arrest of Bartholomew who also is wrestling coach at W. & J.

Were In Fight

Bartholomew according to Burchinal, claims the fight and subsequent death of the youth, a well-known female impersonator in the tri-state area, followed several attempts on his part to "blackmail" the physical director. Despite the youth's insistence that he be given money, Bartholomew never complied with the requests, police said they were informed.

Grief-stricken and shocked by the discovery of their son's lifeless body Saturday, Manis' parents scoffed at the blackmail motive. His father, A. L. Manis, called the motive ridiculous.

Will Press Charges

"George loved a good time—the bright lights and night club life but he was never a spendthrift," the father remarked. "We gave him all the money he needed."

His mother sobbed:

"I know my boy too well. It couldn't have been blackmail."

Meanwhile, the death youth's father swore to press charges against Bartholomew.

"I think electrocution would be too quick for Bartholomew" he observed. "I'm going to fight to the end for George."

The fatal fight between Manis and Barthomew occurred on the night of June 8, police said. In a signed statement, Bartholomew admitted requesting the youth to get into his car on that night following a demand for money. While driving, they quarrelled and suddenly Bartholomew brought his car to a halt. During an ensuing scuffle, the car door opened pitching both men to the ground and down an embankment.

Neck Is Broken

During another scuffle which followed shortly, Bartholomew told county detectives that Manis' body suddenly "went limp" and dropped to the field. Upon examination Bartholomew stated he discovered the youth had died.

An autopsy disclosed that young Manis' neck was broken although Bartholomew denied any knowledge that the actor had sustained such an injury.

The sight of the dead youth lyi ? in the field caused him to become panic-stricken, Bartholomew said. So he covered the body with boards and branches from trees.

Kastenhuber, Allison and Bloom were firemen. Young Anderson and Golcynski were spectators, part of the crowd trapped when the first of three 20,000-gallon oil tanks, exploding under the intense heat, scattered burning oil over a wide area.

Spectators Flee

The flames from the exploding tank touched off two others. As the sheets of fire leaped at the spectators, they fled in panic, dozens of them, including children, being knocked down and trampled in the stampede. Screaming with pain, a score of others jumped into the lake.

All available firefighting apparatus and ambulances were rushed to the scene, and the injured taken to hospitals.

Great clouds of smoke, billowing from the tanks, lent an eerie touch to the scene, while the tongues of flame brought into bold relief the victims lying dead or injured.

out this area, was released from county jail on Saturday, after being held on a charge of purchasing groceries with alleged worthless checks.

County authorities, headed by District Attorney M. L. Alley of Lawrence county, today arrested Mrs. Long at the Long store in the South Hills section of Pittsburgh. She was charged with larceny and conspiracy to cheat and defraud, and sent in the custody of officers to New Castle, where she was being held awaiting arraignment.

Following the arrest of Mrs. Long, authorities confiscated the entire stock of canned goods in the Long store. County Detective Frank Ritz said that all of the merchandise had been stolen.

The six stores, each of which made a separate information against the group, are: J. J. Dean Grocery Company, Rosenblum-Kline Company, New Castle Milling Company, New Castle Produce Company, New Castle Grocery Company, all of New Castle, and the Premium Supply Company, of Ellwood City, Pa.

The procedure and activities of the group are well known to authorities in both Allegheny and Lawrence counties. Their customary method of operation, according to police, is to order supplies from wholesalers for their "grocery store," payment for the goods, it is said, is generally made with worthless checks. The goods ordered are delivered, and during the same night, they are moved out.

Prior to his release on Saturday, Following his arrest on Friday, Long was arrested in Greensburg last week in connection with similar activities. According to authorities, there are five indictments in Allegheny county present against both Long and his wife.

The activities of the group of four persons have extended over a period of the last six months. Authorities today described Long's personal activities in this connection is extending over the last 18 years."

New Castle police on last Tuesday instituted a search for three men who said they were starting a grocery store at Cedar street and Madison avenue and purchased merchandise from several local firms. They gave checks signed "Sam Hoffman" drawn on the Wampum bank. The merchandise was delivered Monday and hauled away to some other city some time Monday night. Discovery of the alleged swindle was made when the owner of the building discovered the merchandise had disappeared.

Commenting upon the Saturday meeting Dr. Meehan said:

"That if the result of the illegally conducted meeting of Saturday, June 16, is allowed to stand, then there is no room in the Democratic party in Lawrence county for honest people, nor for Liberals or Progressives and it might just as well be given lock stock and barrel to the Old Guard and their henchmen, and the younger element look elsewhere for their political alignment".

TIGHE IS MEETING WITH SECRETARY OF LABOR

Amalgamated Plan Outlined

Hope That Program Will Be Placed Before President Roosevelt

FOUR-POINT PLAN IS BEING PRESSED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 19.—The spotlight that has illuminated the steel industry for the past three weeks shifted to Washington again today to play on conferences that may have important bearing on continued peace in America's workshops.

Informed that William Green, American Federation of Labor president, had arranged meetings with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and other federal officials, union officers headed for the Capitol rather confident that President Roosevelt would see fit to lend his ears to their pleas.

Four Point Proposal

Their principal weapon to get better working conditions for union men was a four-point peace proposal adopted at the "strike convention" here last Friday. Adoption of this proposal not only gave the labor group something to work on but it also averted, temporarily at least, the nation-wide steel strike that was to have been called last Saturday.

The proposal that will be discussed with Miss Perkins and others interested in the momentuous problem specifies that the President appoint a labor board of three members to hear complaints and in reality as a peace maker between steel employers and employes.

Shortly before heading for Washington, Michael F. Tighe, International president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, said:

"We are ready to present a strong case and have reason to believe we can win the needed support."

He was accompanied on the trip by Vice-Presidents Edward W. Miller, and Thomas G. Gillis, and Louis Leonard, secretary-treasurer of the association.

AGREE MENT SETTLES STRIKE AT JOHNSON BRONZE COMPANY

92 of the Brotherhood on Monday, June 18. This letter which was delivered Monday afternoon to the representatives of the union follows:

June 18, 1934.

International Brotherhood of Foundry Employes,
Local Union No. 92.
New Castle, Pa.
Gentlemen:

This company is thoroughly in sympathy with the purpose of the National Recovery Act, and glad to recognize the right of employes to bargain either individually if such individual wishes, or collectively through representatives of their own choosing.

The company is entirely willing to recognize your committee as the representative of the members of your union and will also recognize any other committee of representatives of any group of employes and will take up any differences which might arise between your employe members or members representing any other group, and the company, with the duly authorized officers or committees of your union, or officers of committees of any other group, or groups. This will afford to the members of your union, or employes belonging to any other group, an opportunity to deal collectively on all problems, such as questions relating to rates of pay, hours of labor, rules, working conditions, health, safety and other similar matters of mutual interest. As provided in NIRA, this company will also recognize the right of any group of employes to bargain collectively.

Reductions or increases in force shall be made in accordance with the rules laid down by the president of the United States on March 18, 1934, to-wit: "Such human relationships as married men with families shall come first and then seniority, individual skill and efficient service." After these factors have been considered no greater proportion of union employes similarly situated shall be laid off than of other employes.

It is further understood that the explanation or interpretation of the above paragraph, entitled, Statement of Automobile Board on Lay-Off and Rehiring, copy of which is attached to this letter, will govern fully the matter of laying off and rehiring of employes. This statement is dated May 18, 1934, and signed by Leo Wolman, Nicholas Kelley and Richard L. Byrd, appointed by the president of the United States to arbitrate on all questions of this kind for members of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers association, of which this company is a member in good standing.

In explanation of this, this Labor Board was originally appointed to arbitrate for members of the Automobile Chamber of Commerce which includes practically all the automobile builders and later on the same board was appointed by the president of the United States to arbitrate for the members of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers, Inc.

If any question arises as to the use of the word "individual" in the above paragraphs, in explanation, such word is included for the simple reason that not to include it would be deviating from the interpretations of paragraph 7-A in the NIRA, as set forth by the president of the United States in his arbitration of this particular question between the Automobile Chamber of Commerce and the American Federation of Labor in Washington, D. C., on March 18, 1934.

We hope that all of such questions may be discussed and disposed of with good will and in such a way as to assist President Roosevelt in his effort to restore prosperity to our country.

Yours very truly,
P. J. FLAHERTY,
President.

Pa Newc gave the public square a once over today from the newly completed roof of the city's new post office, if there was a little more room you could erect tennis courts on the top of it. Vacation time for the school youngsters already is fleeting and, Pa Newc feels that some sort of equipment should be installed at the Boyles field tennis courts by the city to afford the younger element deserving recreation.

St. Mary's To Picnic Thursday

GUILFOYLE HEADS COMMITTEE WORK

Arrangements have been completed for the picnic Thursday at Cascade Park of the children from St. Marys school. The outing will be sponsored by the Holy Name society and one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected during the afternoon and evening.

The children of St. Marys school have invited the children attending the several other parochial schools of the city to join with them and more than 1,000 Catholic children have accepted the invitation and are now looking forward to the arrival of Thursday.

A great number of special attractions have been arranged and there will be plenty of action every minute of the afternoon and evening and no doubt there will be many visitors from out of the city who went to St. Marys who will join again with their classmates.

The golf tourney will find 30 foursomes entered and there will be an athletic program for the children. Among the features will be a reunion of the class of 1890.

The executive committee consists of: chairman, Joseph Guilfoyle, Gerald Guinaugh, John Maher, and James T. Carey.

that Poderjay was in the dresswear business but I thought it curious he couldn't have bought something with a better fit for his wife."

Mrs. Foley said that she had retained scraps from the altered clothes and had made paper patterns from some so it could be easily determined whether the clothes belonged to Miss Tufverson.

Dispatches from Vienna describe the same garments as found in a large trunk in Mme. Ferrand's apartment there, a discovery which led to her immediate arrest.

Find Blood Stains

Vienna, June 19.—Traces of blood were found on the lining of the wardrobe trunk belonging to Miss Agnes Tufverson, missing New York woman lawyer, which was found yesterday in the house where Ivan Powerjay lived with Mme. Suzanne Ferrand, the police chemist announced today.

Only a few drops of blood were found, the chemist said, and the traces were so slight that they might have come from a minor wound.

The discovery, however, stired police and stimulated their interest in the search for the missing woman, who disappeared soon after her marriage in New York to Poderjay, reputed international adventurer.

Poderjay is held here on charges of bigamy. He was said to have admitted marriage with both Miss Tufverson and Mme. Ferrand, Mme. Ferrand also is being held by police in connection with the investigation.

Poderjay and Mme. Ferrand met for the first time today since Poderjay was arrested. Both were brought before Police Councillor Dr. Hans Spring for questioning.

Mme. Ferrand wept hysterically and cried out to Poderjay:

"I know you are not guilty, Ivan. You meant well with me as well as with Miss Tufverson."

Both were highly nervous and it was reported their testimony conflicted at several points. Reporters were barred from the inquiry.

He called attention to the fact that New Castle is much better off as far as conditions are concerned, having come through the difficult times of the last four years in a far better condition than a majority of the cities in the country.

Future Looks Good Here

There is a time to hold back and be conservative, he stated, and a time to be optimistic and go forward, which time was the present. He stated that New Castle had every advantage a community desired, and in his opinion was going to go forward rapidly in the years to come.

He urged that the members of the chamber of commerce sell the community to themselves and then the community, after which there would be nothing to worry about.

E. B. Machin, in asking for the reports, stated that the chamber of commerce should be an organization, which would number the leading and outstanding business firms of the city among its members, and that membership in it would be at a premium. If the people of the city would do business with only the firms which belonged to the chamber of commerce, then it would not be necessary to put on a campaign.

Tribute was paid the ladies team, headed by Miss Mary Ofterdinger, who took the high hat from Division C, having an equal number of subscriptions. Both were presented with the honor, however, the ladies getting a nice red hat.

'GAS' TANK FIRE COSTS SIX LIVES; SEVENTEEN HURT

Lewis, were: Henry Golcynski, 18; Oscar Bloom, 45; James Anderson, 15; Walter Kastenhuber, 35, and Raymond Allison.

Kastenhuber, Allison and Bloom were firemen. Young Anderson and Golcynski were spectators, part of the crowd trapped when the first of three 20,000-gallon oil tanks, exploding under the intense heat, scattered burning oil over a wide area.

Spectators Flee

The flames from the exploding tank touched off two others. As the sheets of fire leaped at the spectators, they fled in panic, dozens of them, including children, being knocked down and trampled in the stampede. Screaming with pain, a score of others jumped into the lake.

All available firefighting apparatus and ambulances were rushed to the scene, and the injured taken to hospitals.

Great clouds of smoke, billowing from the tanks, lent an eerie touch to the scene, while the tongues of flame brought into bold relief the victims lying dead or injured.

The first recorded observation of the bodies we now recognize as bacteria was made about the middle of the seventeenth century by Antony van Leeuwenhock, a Holland lens grindner.

The common sunflower, one of the most important species in cultivation, sometimes attains a height of 20 feet and produces flower heads from one to two feet in diameter.

Michael Bajus was one of the most distinguished theologians of the Roman Catholic church in the sixteenth century.

out this area, was released from county jail on Saturday, after being held on a charge of purchasing groceries with alleged worthless checks.

County authorities, headed by District Attorney M. L. Ailey of Lawrence county, today arrested Mrs. Long at the Long store in the South Hills section of Pittsburgh. She was charged with larceny and conspiracy to cheat and defraud, and sent in the custody of officers to New Castle, where she was being held awaiting arraignment.

Following the arrest of Mrs. Long, authorities confiscated the entire stock of canned goods in the Long store. County Detective Frank Ritz said that all of the merchandise had been stolen.

The six stores, each of which made a separate information against the group, are: J. J. Dean Grocery Company, Rosenblum-Kline Company, New Castle Milling Company, New Castle Produce Company, New Castle Grocery Company, all of New Castle, and the Premium Supply Company, of Ellwood City, Pa.

The procedure and activities of the group are well known to authorities in both Allegheny and Lawrence counties. Their customary method of operation, according to police, is to order supplies from wholesalers for their "grocery store," payment for the goods, it is said, is generally made with worthless checks. The goods ordered are delivered, and during the same night, they are moved out.

Prior to his release on Saturday. Following his arrest on Friday, Long was arrested in Greensburg last week in connection with similar activities. According to authorities, there are five indictments in Allegheny county present against both Long and his wife.

The activities of the group of four persons have extended over a period of the last six months. Authorities today described Long's personal activities in this connection is extending over the last 18 years."

New Castle police on last Tuesday instituted a search for three men who said they were starting a grocery store at Cedar street and Madison avenue and purchased merchandise from several local firms. They gave checks signed "Sam Hoffman" drawn on the Wampum bank. The merchandise was delivetred Monday and hauled away to some other city some time Monday night. Discovery of the alleged swindle was made when the owner of the building discovered the merchandise had disappeared.

lead to court action to have the election of Hanna set aside. The schism caused by the Saturday election is widening and the Meehan adherents expect to prosecute their claim with vigor.

Commenting upon the Saturday meeting Dr. Meehan said:

"That if the result of the illegally conducted meeting of Saturday, June 16, is allowed to stand, then there is no room in the Democratic party in Lawrence county for honest people, nor for Liberals or Progressives and it might just as well be given lock stock and barrel to the Old Guard and their henchmen, and the younger element look elsewhere for their political alignment".

The earliest recorded use of suffocating gases in military operations was at the siege of the cities of Platea and Belium in the war between the Athenians and the Spartans about 431 B. C.

The 15th President, James Buchanan, was known as "Old Public Functionary."

ROWLAND-BURNS WEDDING TODAY

A pretty wedding took place this morning at 8 o'clock in St. Joseph's church when the Rev. Fr. J. A. Doerr joined in holy wedlock Gladys E Rowland, Superior street and Edwards Burns, of West Washington street.

The ring ceremony was used in the presence of a large number of relatives and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns, the former a brother of the groom, served as attendants.

The bride was most attractive in a delicate green mousseline de soie gown, with flared skirt edged with pleating and made ankle length. A white sash, gloves and a large white picture hat completed her costume and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow tearoses. Mrs. Burns was attired in yellow crepe with white accessories and her flowers were Briar Cliff roses.

A wedding breakfast was served in the Rowland home after the marriage. Pink and green tones combined with garden flowers prevailed throughout the decorative theme. Covers were arranged for the families and a few intimate friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J Rowland of 618 Superior street and has been identified with the Standard Brands office force as cashier The groom is the son of J. J. Burns of West Washington street and is associated with his father in the contracting business.

Both are popular among a large circle of friends whom they will receive at their home 620 West Washington street after today as they have dispensed with a wedding trip.

L. C. Club

The L. C. Club met at the home of Joan Wadlinger, 125 Park avenue, when the winners for enjoyable contests were Virginia Brinko, Patricia Maroney, Catherine Frazier, Deloris Callahan.

Refreshments were served by the hostess' mother and it was decided to meet again June 30 at the home of Catherine Frazier, 927 Warren avenue.

NEW CASTLE FOLKS AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cauffield, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Syling motored to North Bloomfield, O., Monday afternoon to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Cauffield, brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Cauffield. Besides the New Castle folks, guests were present from Warren, Cleveland, Akron, as far south as Texas and as far west as California.

Informal receptions were held both afternoon and evening, the honor guests who are still very active, enjoying the day immensely.

Mrs. Cauffield who was formerly Myra McClain, is 75 years, of age and Mr. Cauffield is 77. They spent the early part of their married life in Texas. The couple have been blessed with three children, one daughter and two sons. They were saddened a few months ago by the passing on of the former who will be remembered as Mrs. Wesley Rowlee, who resided at North Bloomfield. The sons are Groves, who resides at Washington, D. C., and Edwin of California.

Mr. Cauffield has two brothers in addition to W. J., of North Liberty street, there being Dr. Edwin of Akron and G. B., of North Bloomfield. The two sisters are Katherine and Mary Cauffield who live at Salt Lake City.

I. B. H. Dinner

A picnic dinner featured the monthly meeting of the I. B. H. class of the First Christian church Monday evening at the home of Sarah Swan, 914 Vogan street.

At 6:30 a delicious dinner was served from the casseroles brought by the members at a long table, artfully decorated in pink and white, with lighted tapers forming the light by which they ate.

After dinner Matilda Drake called a business session and plans were completed for the social evening Friday at the church.

Informal sociability marked the remaining hours of the evening. Miss Marian Book was a special guest.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY; YOUNG COUPLE, TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Linton are spending today at their home, 130 Boyles avenue, in pleasant memories of their twenty-five years of happy married life which they have spent together.

The silver anniversary of the Lintons today is distinctive in that the happy bride of a quarter century ago, is but 39 years of age and the groom but 42.

When they were married at the respective ages of 14 and 19 on June 19, 1909, in the Presbyterian Manse at Meadville, Pa., by the Rev. W. D. Irwin, they were one of the youngest couples whom Rev. Irwin had ever united in wedlock. The pastor gave them quite a heart-to-heart talk about their future life which was gratefully accepted and has been strictly adhered to since. The encouragement of scores of friends helped them along the way and today they are celebrating a successful venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Linton are the parents of two children Maxine C., (now Mrs. Robert E. Bartlett of 827 Butler avenue) and Claude Wesley, at home. Two years ago, March 11, 1932, a wee granddaughter named Carolyn Ann Bartlett, arrived at the Bartlett home, the occasion distinguishing Mrs. Linton again, as it was determined that she had the honor of being the youngest grandmother known in the state at that time. Since, another granddaughter has arrived, Janet Lorene Bartlett, who will observe her first birthday soon.

Bith Mr. and Mrs. Linton are in good health, the former being connected with a local insurance company and the latter active in church work. They are members of the Christian Missionary Alliance and Mrs. Linton's highest ambition is being realized in being able to point out to several hundreds of young people highest standards of Christian living.

Hosts of friends in New Castle and elsewhere are extending congratulations and best wishes for continued happiness to the honored couple today.

WILL CELEBRATE 90TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Nancy E. Palmer will celebrate her ninetieth birthday Friday, June 22, 1934, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. McKinley Shaffer, Center church, R. D. 7, New Castle, with open house from 2 until 5 p. m., for her friends and a picnic supper at 6:30 p. m. for the relatives.

Bride Is Honored

Mrs. M. S. Livingston and Mrs. F. J. Bray, mother and sister of Mrs. Charles S. Riley of McKeesport, entertained for her pleasure on the evening of June 16.

A miscellaneous shower of gifts was presented Mrs. Riley who is a recent bride. Bridge was the main diversion with high score prizes being won by Miss Betty Conover, Miss Helen Curtis and Miss Grayce Morrissey.

At a late hour, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ernest Weber. A dainty color scheme was carried out in orchid tones.

Mrs. William Farenson of McKeesport was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley will be at home at 1724 Federal street, McKeesport, Pa.

Brisco Club

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scarazzo, of Laurel Boulevard, will receive the members of the Brisco club in their home Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Arthur Lindsley, Mrs. John Offutt, Miss Mildred Sargeant, Miss Neva Moore, Miss Nettie Clark, Miss Adeline Marshall and Miss Mary Alice White.

CLASS REUNION AT KIRKWOOD WEDNESDAY

This evening there will be a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. William Cosel, North Mercer street, to complete the final arrangements for the 20th annual reunion of the High School class of 1914.

The class will have its reunion Wednesday afternoon at "Kirkwood" the summer home of Herbert S. Kirk on the King's Chapel road.

Responses have been received so far from 35 members of the class.

Choir Has Meeting

Mrs. Martha Thomas, Park avenue, received the members of the choir of New Castle chapter 105 O. E. S. in her home Monday evening with Mrs. Charles Harris as associate hostess.

After a rehearsal period the members gathered about card tables and enjoyed bridge, with prizes being awarded those who held high scores. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses and plans were made for the picnic Tuesday, June 26, at Cascade Park.

Miss Carrie Anderson was a special guest.

At Carr Home

At the home of Mrs. James Carr on Dewey avenue, Monday evening, members of the M. and M. club were delightfully entertained, Mrs. Carr's sister, Mrs. Charlotte Shellenberger being assistant hostess.

Bridge was the pastime with favors going to Mrs. Lucille DeVore and Miss Geraldine McClelland.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held at the McClelland cottage along the Slippery Rock, July 13.

Meyers Reunion

The 26th annual reunion of the Meyers family will take place on Thursday all day at the Willard Grange Hall with dinner served at noon.

INTERESTING NEWS FOR WOMEN

Dry Cleaning Information

Since we no longer have control over silk shrinkage on a great many garments, we were compelled to purchase a new stretcher especially adapted to silks which will enable us to stretch most garments without getting them out of shape.

This new stretcher is about the finest one on the market for this purpose. We might say from a technical standpoint that the reason for shrinkage is variation in the manufacturing of material make-up because materials are stretched in the manufacturing, which is unavoidable, and then treated with a sizing such as metallic salt, weighting and other forms of sizing which hold the material to its proper size. This holds true for both expensive and inexpensive silk materials.

After a certain length of time, the sizing and weighting of material deteriorates, loses some of its body and shrinks. The best indication from our experience is that certain garments are cleaned for the first time and returned to the customer without any shrinkage, but after a length of time if the garment is recleaned, shrinkage take place even though the garment receives the same careful cleaning.

This information is obtained from our National Institute located in Washington D. C., which has tested textiles for this purpose.

The NU-SHEEN treatment now used by Smith's adds body to the fabric, repels moisture, is stain resisting and prolongs the life of your silk dresses.

Smith's invite you to take advantage of this treatment especially recommended for silks. Just phone 865.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION IN MONTREAL, CANADA

Miss Helen Westlake, of Highland avenue, will leave this evening for Toronto, Canada, where she will be the guest, for a few days, of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Tyrrell at their country home.

On Saturday, with Miss Suzanna Young of Harrisburg, she will leave for a motor trip to Montreal, where they will attend the sessions of the American Library Association during the week of June 25. They will be registered at the headquarters hotel, The Windsor.

Returning through the Adirondacks to Harrisburg, Miss Westlake will spend a week or two there with Miss Young.

QUOTARIAN PARTY AT NEW WILMINGTON

Quotarians Journeyed to New Wilmington last evening and enjoyed a very delightful dinner meeting at the McElwee residence. Weather conditions prohibited the swimming party which had been planned to precede the dinner, but other diversions filled the hours following the dinner.

A brief business meeting was conducted and plans discussed for the International convention at Hot Springs, Virginia, the first week in July.

A very interesting and detailed report of the outing at Mill Creek Park last Sunday, of which the Youngstown Quotarians were hostesses, was given by Mrs. Claire Brown. Miss Kathryn Hite, president, and Miss Marguerite Cordes were also in attendance at the outing.

Misses Mareline McElwee, Marguerite Cordes, and Anne Sweeney acted as hostesses during the eveing.

Mrs. Wm. McElwee, Jr., and Orra Jane Snyder were special guests.

The next meeting will be Monday evening, June 25th, at the Elks Club, at which time the attendance contest closes. The Gray Team, captained by Miss Marguerite Cordes, is leading the Blue Team, captained by Mrs. Reva Gormley. The losers will banquet the winners.

FRANCES COSTELLO BRIDE OF L. F. RIEG

Monday morning at 8:30 in St. Joseph's church, took place the marriage of Frances L. Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Costello of East Reynolds street, to Leo F. Rieg, son of Mrs. Clara Rieg of West Washington street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, the pretty ring ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Joseph Doerr. The bride wore a lovely gown of white mousseline de sole, a large white picture hat and other matching accessories. Her arm bouquet was of roses, gardenias and valley lilies.

Miss Rita Rieg, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor and she wore yellow mousseline de sole with large yellow hat and accessories. Yellow roses formed an attractive bouquet. Frank Gilfoyle was best man. Nuptial high mass sung by St. Joseph's male choir, followed the ceremony.

Later, a wedding dinner and reception was held at the bride's home with covers for thirty guests. The bride's table seated twelve, and on the center was a bridal cake holding a miniature bride and groom. Color tones were in yellow and white.

At the reception, beautiful vocal selections, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me", were rendered by Miss Katherine Frey and Miss Eva Brown accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Edna Flynn.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Lazear, Mrs. Lacy and daughter Mary Rae, A. Blum, Mrs. Mary McGallas, Carrolltown, Pa., Mrs. Lee Herman, New York; Dr. Emil Sloane, Mrs. Virginia Sloan, Washington, D. C.; Miss Helen McKay, Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, son Jack, Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rieg are graduates of New Castle high school, class 1926. Mrs. Rieg is a popular member of St. Joseph's church, having been president of the Sodality Girls. She was formerly connected with Sears-Roebuck company.

Mr. Rieg is manager of the Warren Feed store at Warren, O., and after June first, he and his bride will reside in Warren, O.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY; YOUNG COUPLE, TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Linton are spending today at their home, 130 Boyles avenue, in pleasant memories of their twenty-five years of happy married life which they have spent together.

The silver anniversary of the Lintons today is distinctive in that the happy bride of a quarter century ago, is but 39 years of age and the groom but 42.

When they were married at the respective ages of 14 and 19 on June 19, 1909, in the Presbyterian Manse at Meadville, Pa., by the Rev. W. D. Irwin, they were one of the youngest couples whom Rev. Irwin had ever united in wedlock. The pastor gave them quite a heart-to-heart talk about their future life which was gratefully accepted and has been strictly adhered to since. The encouragement of scores of friends helped them along the way and today they are celebrating a successful venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Linton are the parents of two children Maxine C., (now Mrs. Robert E. Bartlett of 827 Butler avenue) and Claude Wesley, at home. Two years ago, March 11, 1932, a wee granddaughter named Carolyn Ann Bartlett, arrived at the Bartlett home, the occasion distinguishing Mrs. Linton again, as it was determined that she had the honor of being the youngest grandmother known in the state at that time. Since, another granddaughter has arrived, Janet Lorene Bartlett, who will observe her first birthday soon.

Bith Mr. and Mrs. Linton are in good health, the former being connected with a local insurance company and the latter active in church work. They are members of the Christian Missionary Alliance and Mrs. Linton's highest ambition is being realized in being able to point out to several hundreds of young people highest standards of Christian living.

Hosts of friends in New Castle and elsewhere are extending congratulations and best wishes for continued happiness to the honored couple today.

WILL CELEBRATE 90TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Nancy E. Palmer will celebrate her ninetieth birthday Friday, June 22, 1934, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. McKinley Shaffer, Center church, R. D. 7, New Castle, with open house from 2 until 5 p. m., for her friends and a picnic supper at 6:30 p. m. for the relatives.

Bride Is Honored

Mrs. M. S. Livingston and Mrs. F. J. Bray, mother and sister of Mrs. Charles S. Riley of McKeesport, entertained for her pleasure on the evening of June 16.

A miscellaneous shower of gifts was presented Mrs. Riley who is a recent bride. Bridge was the main diversion with high score prizes being won by Miss Betty Conover, Miss Helen Curtis and Miss Grayce Morrissey.

At a late hour, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ernest Weber. A dainty color scheme was carried out in orchid tones.

Mrs. William Farenson of McKeesport was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley will be at home at 1724 Federal street, McKeesport, Pa.

Brisco Club

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scarazzo, of Laurel Boulevard, will receive the members of the Brisco club in their home Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Choir Has Meeting

Mrs. Martha Thomas, Park avenue, received the members of the choir of New Castle chapter 105 O. E. S. in her home Monday evening with Mrs. Charles Harris as associate hostess.

After a rehearsal period the members gathered about card tables and enjoyed bridge, with prizes being awarded those who held high scores. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses and plans were made for the picnic Tuesday, June 26, at Cascade Park.

Miss Carrie Anderson was a special guest.

At Carr Home

At the home of Mrs. James Carr on Dewey avenue, Monday evening, members of the M. and M. club were delightfully entertained, Mrs. Carr's sister, Mrs. Charlotte Shellenberger being assistant hostess.

Bridge was the pastime with favors going to Mrs. Lucille DeVore and Miss Geraldine McClelland.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held at the McClelland cottage along the Slippery Rock, July 13.

Meyers Reunion

The 26th annual reunion of the Meyers family will take place on Thursday all day at the Willard Grange Hall with dinner served at noon.

Dry Cleaning Information

Since we no longer have control over silk shrinkage on a great many garments, we were compelled to purchase a new stretcher especially adapted to silks which will enable us to stretch most garments without getting them out of shape.

This new stretcher is about the finest one on the market for this purpose. We might say from a technical standpoint that the reason for shrinkage is variation in the manufacturing of material make-up because materials are stretched in the manufacturing, which is unavoidable, and then treated with a sizing such as metallic salt, weighting and other forms of sizing which hold the material to its proper size. This holds true for both expensive and inexpensive silk materials.

After a certain length of time, the sizing and weighting of material deteriorates, loses some of its body and shrinks. The best indication from our experience is that certain garments are cleaned for the first time and returned to the customer without any shrinkage, but after a length of time if the garment is recleaned, shrinkage take place even though the garment receives the same careful cleaning.

This information is obtained from our National Institute located in Washington D. C., which has tested textiles for this purpose.

The NU-SHEEN treatment now used by Smith's adds body to the fabric, repels moisture, is stain resisting and prolongs the life of your silk dresses.

Smith's invite you to take advantage of this treatment especially recommended for silks. Just phone 885.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION IN MONTREAL, CANADA

Miss Helen Westlake, of Highland avenue, will leave this evening for Toronto, Canada, where she will be the guest, for a few days, of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Tyrrell at their country home.

FRANCES COSTELLO BRIDE OF L. F. RIEG

Monday morning at 8:30 in St. Joseph's church, took place the marriage of Frances L. Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Costello of East Reynolds street, to Leo F. Rieg, son of Mrs. Clara Rieg of West Washington street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, the pretty ring ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Joseph Doerr. The bride wore a lovely gown of white mousseline de soie, a large white picture hat and other matching accessories. Her arm bouquet was of roses, gardenias and valley lilies.

Miss Rita Rieg, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor and she wore yellow mousseline de soie with large yellow hat and accessories. Yellow roses formed an attractive bouquet. Frank Gilfoyle was best man. Nuptial high mass sung by St. Joseph's male choir, followed the ceremony.

Later, a wedding dinner and reception was held at the bride's home with covers for thirty guests. The bride's table seated twelve, and on the center was a bridal cake holding a miniature bride and groom. Color tones were in yellow and white.

At the reception, beautiful vocal selections, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me", were rendered by Miss Katherine Frey and Miss Eva Brown accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Edna Flynn.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Lazear, Mrs. Lacy and daughter Mary Rae, A. Blum, Mrs. Mary McGallas, Carrolltown, Pa., Mrs. Lee Herman, New York; Dr. Emil Sloane, Mrs. Virginia Sloan, Washington, D. C.; Miss Helen McKay, Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, son Jack, Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rieg are graduates of New Castle high school, class 1926. Mrs. Rieg is a popular member of St. Joseph's church, having been president of the Sodality Girls. She was formerly connected with Sears-Roebuck company.

Mr. Rieg is manager of the Warren Feed store at Warren, O., and after June first, he and his bride will reside in Warren, O.

ROWLAND-BURNS WEDDING TODAY

A pretty wedding took place this morning at 8 o'clock in St. Joseph's church when the Rev. Fr. J. A. Doerr joined in holy wedlock Gladys E. Rowland, Superior street and Edwards Burns, of West Washington street.

The ring ceremony was used in the presence of a large number of relatives and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns, the former a brother of the groom, served as attendants.

The bride was most attractive in a delicate green mousseline de soie gown, with flared skirt edged with pleating and made ankle length. A white sash, gloves and a large white picture hat completed her costume and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow tearoses. Mrs. Burns was attired in yellow crepe with white accessories and her flowers were Briar Cliff roses.

A wedding breakfast was served in the Rowland home after the marriage. Pink and green tones combined with garden flowers prevailed throughout the decorative theme. Covers were arranged for the families and a few intimate friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J Rowland of 618 Superior street and has been identified with the Standard Brands office force as cashier The groom is the son of J. J. Burns of West Washington street and is associated with his father in the contracting business.

Both are popular among a large circle of friends whom they will receive at their home 620 West Washington street after today as they have dispensed with a wedding trip.

QUOTARIAN PARTY AT NEW WILMINGTON

Quotarians journeyed to New Wilmington last evening and enjoyed a very delightful dinner meeting at the McElwee residence. Weather conditions prohibited the swimming party which had been planned to precede the dinner, but other diversions filled the hours following the dinner.

A brief business meeting was conducted and plans discussed for the International convention at Hot Springs, Virginia, the first week in July.

A very interesting, and detailed report of the outing at Mill Creek Park last Sunday, of which the Youngstown Quotarians were hostesses, was given by Mrs. Claire Brown. Miss Kathryn Hite, president, and Miss Marguerite Cordes were also in attendance at the outing.

Misses Mareline McElwee, Marguerite Cordes, and Anne Sweeney acted as hostesses during the evening.

Mrs. Wm. McElwee, Jr., and Orra Jane Snyder were special guests.

The next meeting will be Monday evening, June 25th, at the Elks Club, at which time the attendance contest closes. The Gray Team, captained by Miss Marguerite Cordes, is leading the Blue Team, captained by Mrs. Reva Gormley. The losers will banquet the winners.

LOCAL MUSICIANS APPEAR ON PROGRAM

Miss Ruth E. Drescher and Miss Dorothy Fisher, two of New Castle's talented musicians, were honored today by being selected to appear on the musical program given for the entertainment of Jewish women who observed President's Day with a large gathering at the hotel at Zelienople.

Miss Drescher was heard in a group of solo numbers accompanied by Miss Fisher, the latter presenting a group of piano selections.

Guests were present from New Castle, Pittsburgh, Aliquippa, Beaver Falls, Youngstown, Ellwood City.

Menorahs' Meet

Monday evening the Young Menorahs met at the home of Rose and Irene Greenberg, 510 Moody avenue, with Mrs. L. S. Moss, supervisor, in charge.

Plans were made for a theater party Thursday, with the members meeting at the theater at one o'clock. A fund raising affair is being planned for June 30, with Mrs. L. S. Moss, Marian Ginsburg, Clara Schiffman, Eleanor Markley and Sylvia Saul in charge of arrangements.

A gift of remembrance is to be sent Mrs. William Aptaker, former supervisor.

Business closed and a social period was enjoyed with the hostesses, assisted by their mother, serving refreshments.

Hunt Reunion

The annual Hunt reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hunt on Wednesday, June 13, with 175 present. After dinner a business meeting was called to order by the president, William Weigle.

Officers elected for next year: William Weigle, president; Lewis Hunt, vice president; Thelma V. Dean, secretary; S. J. Hunt, treasurer; table committee, Mrs. Lewis Hunt, chairman, Jesse Hunt, Nancy Young, Grace McClelland, Nannie Hunt. Mrs. Anna Weigle reported two deaths, three marriages and four births.

Invitation to met at the same place next year.

Book Reunion

The sixth annual reunion of the descendants of William and Nancy Book will be held Wednesday, June 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Book. Officers for year are William Book, president; N. M. Book, vice president; Bessie B. Dean, secretary and treasurer.

FRANCES COSTELLO BRIDE OF L. F. RIEG

Monday morning at 8:30 in St. Joseph's church, took place the marriage of Frances L. Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Costello of East Reynolds street, to Leo F. Rieg, son of Mrs. Clara Rieg of West Washington street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, the pretty ring ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Joseph Doerr. The bride wore a lovely gown of white mousseline de soie, a large white picture hat and other matching accessories. Her arm bouquet was of roses, gardenias and valley lilies.

Miss Rita Rieg, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor and she wore yellow mousseline de soie with large yellow hat and accessories. Yellow roses formed an attractive bouquet. Frank Gilfoyle was best man. Nuptial high mass sung by St. Joseph's male choir, followed the ceremony.

Later, a wedding dinner and reception was held at the bride's home with covers for thirty guests. The bride's table seated twelve, and on the center was a bridal cake holding a miniature bride and groom. Color tones were in yellow and white.

At the reception, beautiful vocal selections, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me", were rendered by Miss Katherine Frey and Miss Eva Brown accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Edna Flynn.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Lazear, Mrs. Lacy and daughter Mary Rae, A. Blum, Mrs. Mary McGallas, Carrolltown, Pa., Mrs. Lee Herman, New York; Dr. Emil Sloane, Mrs. Virginia Sloan, Washington, D. C.; Miss Helen McKay, Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, son Jack, Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rieg are graduates of New Castle high school, class 1926. Mrs. Rieg is a popular member of St. Joseph's church, having been president of the Sodality Girls. She was formerly connected with Sears-Roebuck company.

Mr. Rieg is manager of the Warren Feed store at Warren, O., and after June first, he and his bride will reside in Warren, O.

P. H. Club

Members of the P. H. Club were entertained last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Konopka on Cunningham avenue.

After a delightful evening spent in playing various games, prizes were awarded to the following, Mrs V. Sanczyk, Mrs. J. Kopsky, Mrs. S. Wienski, and the Misses S. Antonka and Vera Skenesky.

At an appropriate hour the hostess served a delicious lunch and was assisted by Miss V. Skenesky. The Misses S. Antonka and Vera Skenesky were special guests.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. Mitchell on Summit street in two weeks.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Lenhart, Sr., of Meadow avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary I. Lenhart to Edward D. Barrea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barrea of 608 Chestnut street. The ceremony was performed November 30, 1932. By Rev. Father Marinaro at the St. Michael Catholic church in Butler, Pa.

Mraz-Fundoots

Miss Mary Stamata Mraz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stamata, of 23 Fulton street, was united in marriage to Andy Fundotts of West Pittsburg Saturday afternoon at 3:30 with Alderman O. H. P. Green officiating.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss Ann Cline of South New Castle Boro and John Formati of West Pittsburgh.

At 6:30 a dinner was served to a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Fundoots are at home to many friends at 23 Fulton street, having dispensed with a wedding trip for the present.

Basket Picnic

Members of the Temple Bible class of the First Baptist church, taught by William Bowman, with their families, will have a basket picnic Friday at Cascade park, with dinner at 6:30.

Tureen Dinner

The Ladies' Aid society of the Zion Lutheran church will have a tureen luncheon Thursday at Cascade park at one o'clock.

Friendship Club

Mrs. Fred Maccarelli, of Pearson street, will entertain the Friendship club at her home Wednesday evening.

WOULD REFORM MOTORING MANNERS

A MOVE to bring about reform of motoring manners has been inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, A. A. A., as a part of its statewide campaign to reduce vehicular accidents. Through its seventy-five affiliated clubs the federation is appealing to motorists to observe common courtesy in driving.

"Common courtesy among drivers would eliminate at least fifty per cent of the motor accidents in Pennsylvania," said S. Edward Gable, president of the P. M. F. and chairman of the governor's committee on street and highway safety. He deplored "the all-too-general lack of common courtesy in the operation of automobiles" and cited instances of impoliteness not unfamiliar to the average driver.

"Men and women we meet on the streets, in parks, theatres or public gatherings, at home or on trains almost always are courteous and considerate," he said, "but the great majority of them seem quite different when they get behind the wheel of an automobile." His statement continued:

"Why do drivers steer a slow course in the middle of the road and express resentment when asked to move aside for another vehicle?

"Why do drivers press forward around other cars at lights at the risk of safety, and certainly with nothing to accomplish except to crowd ahead of orderly traffic until the next stoplight?

"What possesses drivers who jump their cars toward other cars at intersections to give the impression that they have the right of way? Ordinarily it results in a waste of time for both. And it surely is poor motoring manners.

"Any man of ordinary decency is willing to defer to a lady when passing through a doorway, but in a car the majority of male drivers will not defer to the extent of an inch for the woman driver.

"Once in a car, many people seem transformed as to manners. From Chesterfieldian courtesy they descend to almost animal selfishness. Management of a motor car has developed a sort of superiority complex that has gone to the heads of many, and this is what the federation seeks to overcome to as marked a degree as possible through calling on the motorists of Pennsylvania to practice common courtesy on the road. Reformation of motoring manners must start somewhere, and we feel that if the fair-minded drivers of motor cars in Pennsylvania will co-operate by observing common courtesy much can be accomplished not only in overcoming the all-too-general lack of politeness, but in cutting the number of motor vehicle accidents."

YOU PAY A SALES TAX

In a recent referendum the voters of the state of Oregon decisively defeated a proposal for a general sales tax.

By doing that, the Oregon electorate followed an example that has been set by the people of a number of other states and communities.

However, if the voters think that they have eliminated the sales tax, they are badly mistaken. They are paying a sales tax now. They have been paying one in the past. They will pay one in the future.

The corner grocery where you buy your food pays taxes. The concerns which produce his stock likewise pay taxes—heavy ones. Those taxes are necessarily passed on to the consumer as part of the selling price.

That is true of everything you buy—gasoline or entertainment or food or clothes. Part of every dollar you spend goes for taxes—and the proportion mounts constantly. The fact that the tax isn't apparent means nothing—an indirect tax can be every bit as expensive as a direct one.

The great lesson the people of the United States must learn is that no one can escape taxes—and that exorbitant cost of government is a real menace.

When that fact is really implanted in the public mind, there may be a campaign for tax reduction that will get results.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT

"No system is perfect," said Cassius E. Gates, past president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce recently. "Certainly wrongdoers should be punished. Abuses should be corrected . . . Wise governmental regulation . . . is needed in many directions—but it is not necessary to destroy that which we gained in a century and a half of progress, nor is it necessary, in the desire to cure one evil, to go so far as to destroy the fundamental rights of institutions and of men."

All genuine progress must be built upon the foundations of the past—on that which has been learned through trial and error and long experience. Change which dismisses the past as being entirely unworthy of consideration must inevitably do great damage and little permanent good. To keep that which time has proven valuable and worthwhile, while eliminating that which is inimical to the common welfare, is the purpose of the patriotic American.

Today we have an excellent example, in many countries, of what uncontrolled zeal to make changes can do. Germany, Italy, Russia, come to mind—and the fact that unbiased observers forecast that present systems of government in those powers will either collapse or be entirely overhauled, is significant. Human rights were abrogated, traditions were forgotten, dictatorships with a vast lust for power were set up.

We are seeking to do great things in America. We can do them only if we temper the theories of the present with the experience of the past.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but most insurance is payable to women.

Publicity doesn't "glorify" the "gangster." A loose baboon would be given equal headlines.

Cubans would be wise not to celebrate their new liberty by taking pot shots at Americans.

How can the race be improving if ancients enjoyed the classics that moderns read as a painful duty?

Americanism: Cutting wages to reduce overhead because taxes are so high; increasing taxes to provide a dole to take the place of wages.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

HOW BIG IS THE WORLD?

It is indeed a small world.

You pack your bag and travel to the heart of Africa, and beside a stream where a hippopotamus puffs and wallows you meet a man with whom you used to play marbles in a little town in Ohio. . . . On a street in New York you encounter a fine lady who used to be your skinny little girl friend in Memphis, Tenn. . . . You can eat breakfast in San Francisco, lunch in Los Angeles, dinner in San Francisco, if you ride the air. . . . You send a message to Germany and receive an answer that very evening. . . . It IS a small world. . . . A man finds a diamond in South Africa and the next day's paper has the news in Emporia, Kas. . . . A man steals in Sweden and a family in Nevada is impoverished. . . . An archduke in Serajevo was killed and millions died in every corner of the world. . . . A man named Einstein puts a complicated formula on paper in Germany and people he will never meet decide that God does not exist and life is hardly worth living—while other men are convinced that God does exist and life is more wonderful than ever. . . . It is, all men admit, an exceedingly small world.

It is also a most enormous world. . . . There are so many people you do not know and will never encounter. . . . So many hills and valleys and little towns that will never meet your eye, where you will never set foot. . . . So many songs you will never hear, so many messages that will never reach your ear. . . . So many experiences that will never be yours. . . . Stretch your arms wide, broaden your spirit though you may, you cannot encompass everything.

You are but one small person. You cannot be everything in one. There are dreams and there is action. There is discipline and there is rebellion, economy and extravagance, beauty and ugliness, poetry and prose, storm and peace, wild wandering and staying-at-home, sickness and health, loneliness and company, talk and silence, starvation and plenty, agony and content, all manner of things in this wide world. You cannot touch them all, you cannot be everything. Attempt this vain endeavor and you end by being nothing. Struggle to know all men and you know not one of all the millions who surround you. . . . The world is deep and wide and, praises be, a large one.

IMPROVE YOUR TECHNIQUE BY HELPING OTHERS

Give the duffer a chance.

Why always avoid those who are not proficient in the sport you enjoy?

You have experience and ability, and those who are learning would appreciate it very much if you would take an interest in their play.

To see you do certain things would benefit them greatly.

But you are selfish and prefer to play with your superiors.

Many times you have regretted the lack of opportunity to see those play who stand high in your sport.

They might consider you as much of a duffer as those you avoid.

To an expert you would seem an amateur, only to beginners you seem an expert.

The standard of excellence is decided by comparisons.

In trying to help those who are new at the game you are bound to improve your play.

Perhaps you are at the top of your game because you won't study and practice to improve.

When you are not going forward you are really going backward.

In helping others you may come to see your own imperfections, by trying you may improve through playing with some beginners.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE UNDER DOG RISES

Out of the ranks he came, fighting,
ragged and tattered of coat,
A lad with a strong heart for battle,
but never a tie at his throat;
A stranger that no one had heard of;
a fellow the big folks would snub,
Too poor for a Pullman car ticket,
too poor to belong to a club,
And they scornfully laughed when then saw him, but after the struggle began
They soon ceased to notice his clothing and started to notice the man.

There's little in snobbery lasting. It
is brittle and feeble and thin.
It cracks at the first sign of courage and bows to the man who can win.
And the chap who was scorned at the outset and by many was openly jeered
By the very same people at evening for this triumph was openly cheered.
"The poor man has done it!" they shouted. "The underdog comes out on top!
"Hooray for the stranger unheard of! Hooray for the lad of the shop!"

The tale is as old as our nature. The man is the master of place.
Who comes from the ranks of the lowly will first have the scornful to face,
But if he have merit within him and the courage and skill to succeed,
The rich and the great and the fine
folk will cheer as he breaks
in the lead.
They'll rally numbers behind him
and help him along if they can,
For people this wide world all over delight to discover a man.

A really helpful department describing how tasty dishes can be made from such things as:

Stale Ginger Ale—When you have an inch of ginger ale left in half dozens bottles the next morning, pour it all into a soup tureen. Immerse tureen in warm bath, being careful not to pull the plug too soon. Add the other half of the receipe, which has been freezing in the ice box meanwhile. (Never mind what this consists of: it will taste better if you don't know.)

Pour this mess into patty shells and serve with a dash of whipped cream. There you are.

Melted Ice Cream—Your guests have been unable to finish the ice cream. It is sticky, sogt mass in the bottom of the carton. What do you do?

First of all you know your onions. Then a dash of garlic won't hurt anything. Add cherries or artichokes—any fruit in season. Don't rubbiot. Boil fifteen minutes. Then bury under a pile of newspapers. This will keep the moths out.

Serve for a Derby Day breakfast or after the theatre.

H 2 O—Money will melt away at times, and the thrifty student will be glad of his inexpensive receipts:

Boil H 2 O in water fifteen minutes or until tender. Add salt, sugar and a dash of cinnamon. This will thicken everything. Drain off liquid slice and serve cold. Makes a quiet dish and the children just howl for it.

Recently a scientist in New York advertised for a number of specialists of different sorts to go with him on a trip to explore the interior of Brazil. One man who read the advertisement had been drinking rather freely and he felt in a friendly mood. It was late in the night but he called the scientist up by phone, then and there. The scientist was roused out of a sound sleep and asked what was wanted. The man in the friendly mood replied: "Are you the man who advertised for men to go with you on an exploring trip to the interior of Brazil?" The scientist answered that he was. The friendly man then said: "That's nice, old fellow! I just wanted to let you know that I can't go."

New National Hero Of England
A Dramatic War Story From France
"Wrongful Arrests" Stir British

By LESLIE EICHEL

NEW YORK, June 19.—Do you know who the national hero of England is now?

He's Police Constable Jex.

In short, he's the policeman who was shot by England's only gunman.

A frightened young robber shot him, you will recall, and England became so enraged that the robber was tracked down by an immense posse. Rather than face an English prison, the cornered robber shot himself.

Well, the policeman who was shot (not so very badly at that) is 22—and handsome.

And the hospital at which he is staying has been bombarded by letters from girls, who would marry him—the only policeman in England to be shot by a gangster.

Even the father of the gangster came to the policeman's bed and shook hands with the young officer.

Truly, England is a quaint country—or is it the United States that is quaint?

IN FRANCE

In France there has been a queer trial.

Four widowed mothers have sought to clear the names of their sons, shot with a fifth man for cowardice during the war.

The Germans, however, began an advance.

The French survivors were ordered back.

The men went back, exhausted. Dead comrades strew the road.

The survivors were ordered to attack.

The officers advanced into "No-Man's Land." Then men did not follow.

The general came along. He ordered the battalion court-martialed.

Officers protested. The general was adamant. Out of six companies, five men were chosen by lot to be shot. The lieutenant of one company had refused to comply with the order.

Five names were drawn out of hats. Five men were shot. They did not plead to be saved. It would merely have meant that other comrades would take their place.

That's how men are sacrificed during a war.

WRONGFUL ARRESTS

The British home secretary is being asked in parliament concerning numerous "wrongful arrests" in Great Britain. Magistrates release the persons because of lack of evidence—after they have been arrested and in jail.

It would surprise Americans how many such cases there are in the United States, too.

There is a mania for putting people into jail in the United States. Social workers assert that one reason we have so much crime is that persons who have been wrong-doers once literally are rounded into crime thereafter.

Any effort at a parole system which would rehabilitate, or for that matter, for a penal system that would rehabilitate instead of forever making a man a miscast, is defeated through hysteria and stupidity.

MRS. F. D. R.'S WORK

There was more behind the fight on Mrs. Roosevelt's plea for a government-owned factory at Reedsville, W. Va., than was at first supposed.

Representatives and senators had attacked the Reedsville project as taking bread out of the mouths of workers in plants that sold postal equipment to the government.

Now it is disclosed that the government had learned the equipment sold by the private firms was at a large profit—and the real fight against Mrs. Roosevelt's project was to save that large profit, which came out of the pockets of the taxpayers, and did not go to the workers.

PLANNED AGRICULTURE

Farmers are not so eager for a dirt farmer in the agricultural department as are senators who fear that a professor will turn the United States into a soviet.

The government may have to recruit the most brilliant professors it can obtain to find methods to rejuvenate American soil. Otherwise, the dirt farmer is more likely to starve to death than a professor.

TRAVEL HEAVY

Travel on American railroads is surprising traffic officials. Much equipment, not in use in years, may be put to work this summer.

June 19, 1864—A British-built vessel armed with British cannon, manned, except for her captain, by British subjects and provided with coal and other supplies from British ports, ended her career as a raider under the Confederate flag. The Alabama, commanded by Captain Raphael Semmes, 55, of Maryland, fought for an hour with the federal corvette Kearsarge, commanded by Captain John A. Winslow, 55, of North Carolina, before it was sent to the bottom of the ocean, seven miles off Cherbourg, France.

Another British built, equipped and manned ship, the Tallahassee, quickly took the Alabama's place and did great damage to U. S. shipping in the next two months. But Britain had to foot the bill for the damages. In a decision of the Geneva tribunal, historic because of the rules relating to neutrals which it adopted to guide its action, the U. S. was awarded $15,500,000 damages from Britain for over-stepping the bonds of neutrality.

WOULD REFORM MOTORING MANNERS

A MOVE to bring about reform of motoring manners has been inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, A. A. A., as a part of its statewide campaign to reduce vehicular accidents. Through its seventy-five affiliated clubs the federation is appealing to motorists to observe common courtesy in driving.

"Common courtesy among drivers would eliminate at least fifty per cent of the motor accidents in Pennsylvania," said S. Edward Gable, president of the P. M. F. and chairman of the governor's committee on street and highway safety. He deplored "the all-too-general lack of common courtesy in the operation of automobiles" and cited instances of impoliteness not unfamiliar to the average driver.

"Men and women we meet on the streets, in parks, theatres or public gatherings, at home or on trains almost always are courteous and considerate," he said, "but the great majority of them seem quite different when they get behind the wheel of an automobile." His statement continued:

"Why do drivers steer a slow course in the middle of the road and express resentment when asked to move aside for another vehicle?

"Why do drivers press forward around other cars at lights at the risk of safety, and certainly with nothing to accomplish except to crowd ahead of orderly traffic until the next stoplight?

"What possesses drivers who jump their cars toward other cars at intersections to give the impression that they have the right of way? Ordinarily it results in a waste of time for both. And it surely is poor motoring manners.

"Any man of ordinary decency is willing to defer to a lady when passing through a doorway, but in a car the majority of male drivers will not defer to the extent of an inch for the woman driver.

"Once in a car, many people seem transformed as to manners. From Chesterfieldian courtesy they descend to almost animal selfishness. Management of a motor car has developed a sort of superiority complex that has gone to the heads of many, and this is what the federation seeks to overcome to as marked a degree as possible through calling on the motorists of Pennsylvania to practice common courtesy on the road. Reformation of motoring manners must start somewhere, and we feel that if the fair-minded drivers of motor cars in Pennsylvania will co-operate by observing common courtesy much can be accomplished not only in overcoming the all-too-general lack of politeness, but in cutting the number of motor vehicle accidents."

YOU PAY A SALES TAX

In a recent referendum the voters of the state of Oregon decisively defeated a proposal for a general sales tax.

By doing that, the Oregon electorate followed an example that has been set by the people of a number of other states and communities.

However, if the voters think that they have eliminated the sales tax, they are badly mistaken. They are paying a sales tax now. They have been paying one in the past. They will pay one in the future.

The corner grocery where you buy your food pays taxes. The concerns which produce his stock likewise pay taxes—heavy ones. Those taxes are necessarily passed on to the consumer as part of the selling price.

That is true of everything you buy—gasoline or entertainment or food or clothes. Part of every dollar you spend goes for taxes—and the proportion mounts constantly. The fact that the tax isn't apparent means nothing—an indirect tax can be every bit as expensive as a direct one.

The great lesson the people of the United States must learn is that no one can escape taxes—and that exorbitant cost of government is a real menace.

When that fact is really implanted in the public mind, there may be a campaign for tax reduction that will get results.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT

"No system is perfect," said Cassius E. Gates, past president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce recently. "Certainly wrongdoers should be punished. Abuses should be corrected . . . Wise governmental regulation . . . is needed in many directions—but it is not necessary to destroy that which we gained in a century and a half of progress, nor is it necessary, in the desire to cure one evil, to go so far as to destroy the fundamental rights of institutions and of men."

All genuine progress must be built upon the foundations of the past—on that which has been learned through trial and error and long experience. Change which dismisses the past as being entirely unworthy of consideration must inevitably do great damage and little permanent good. To keep that which time has proven valuable and worthwhile, while eliminating that which is inimical to the common welfare, is the purpose of the patriotic American.

Today we have an excellent example, in many countries, of what uncontrolled zeal to make changes can do. Germany, Italy, Russia, come to mind—and the fact that unbiased observers forecast that present systems of government in those powers will either collapse or be entirely overhauled, is significant. Human rights were abrogated, traditions were forgotten, dictatorships with a vast lust for power were set up.

We are seeking to do great things in America. We can do them only if we temper the theories of the present with the experience of the past.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but most insurance is payable to women.

Publicity doesn't "glorify" the "gangster." A loose baboon would be given equal headlines.

Cubans would be wise not to celebrate their new liberty by taking pot shots at Americans.

How can the race be improving if ancients enjoyed the classics that moderns read as a painful duty?

Americanism: Cutting wages to reduce overhead because taxes are so high; increasing taxes to provide a dole to take the place of wages.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

HOW BIG IS THE WORLD?

It is indeed a small world.

You pack your bag and travel to the heart of Africa, and beside a stream where a hippopotamus puffs and wallows you meet a man with whom you used to play marbles in a little town in Ohio. . . . On a street in New York you encounter a fine lady who used to be your skinny little girl friend in Memphis, Tenn. . . . You can eat breakfast in San Francisco, lunch in Los Angeles, dinner in San Francisco, if you ride the air. . . . You send a message to Germany and receive an answer that very evening. . . . It IS a small world. . . . A man finds a diamond in South Africa and the next day's paper has the news in Emporia, Kas. . . . A man steals in Sweden and a family in Nevada is impoverished. . . . An archduke in Serajevo was killed and millions died in every corner of the world. . . . A man named Einstein puts a complicated formula on paper in Germany and people he will never meet decide that God does not exist and life is hardly worth living—while other men are convinced that God does exist and life is more wonderful than ever. . . . It is, all men admit, an exceedingly small world.

It is also a most enormous world. . . . There are so many people you do not know and will never encounter. . . . So many hills and valleys and little towns that will never meet your eye, where you will never set foot. . . . So many songs you will never hear, so many messages that will never reach your ear. . . . So many experiences that will never be yours. . . . Stretch your arms wide, broaden your spirit though you may, you cannot encompass everything.

You are but one small person. You cannot be everything in one. There are dreams and there is action. There is discipline and there is rebellion, economy and extravagance, beauty and ugliness, poetry and prose, storm and peace, wild wandering and staying-at-home, sickness and health, loneliness and company, talk and silence, starvation and plenty, agony and content, all manner of things in this wide world. You cannot touch them all, you cannot be everything. Attempt this vain endeavor and you end by being nothing. Struggle to know all men and you know not one of all the millions who surround you. . . . The world is deep and wide and, praises be, a large one.

IMPROVE YOUR TECHNIQUE BY HELPING OTHERS

Give the duffer a chance.

Why always avoid those who are not proficient in the sport you enjoy?

You have experience and ability, and those who are learning would appreciate it very much if you would take an interest in their play.

To see you do certain things would benefit them greatly.

But you are selfish and prefer to play with your superiors.

Many times you have regretted the lack of opportunity to see those play who stand high in your sport.

They might consider you as much of a duffer as those you avoid.

To an expert you would seem an amateur, only to beginners you seem an expert.

The standard of excellence is decided by comparisons.

In trying to help those who are new at the game you are bound to improve your play.

Perhaps you are at the top of your game because you won't study and practice to improve.

When you are not going forward you are really going backward.

In helping others you may come to see your own imperfections, by trying you may improve through playing with some beginners.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE UNDER DOG RISES

Out of the ranks he came, fighting,
ragged and tattered of coat,
A lad with a strong heart for battle,
but never a tie at his throat;
A stranger that no one had heard of;
a fellow the big folks would snub.
Too poor for a Pullman car ticket,
too poor to belong to a club,
And they scornfully laughed when then saw him, but after the struggle began
They soon ceased to notice his clothing and started to notice the
man.

There's little in snobbery lasting. It
is brittle and feeble and thin.
It cracks at the first sign of courage and bows to the man who can win.
And the chap who was scorned at the outset and by many was openly jeered
By the very same people at evening
for this triumph was openly
cheered.
"The poor man has done it!" they shouted. "The underdog comes out on top!
"Hooray for the stranger unheard of! Hooray for the lad of the shop!"

The tale is as old as our nature. The man is the master of place.
Who comes from the ranks of the lowly will first have the scornful to face,
But if he have merit within him and the courage and skill to succeed,
The rich and the great and the fine
folk will cheer as he breaks
in the lead.
They'll rally numbers behind him
and help him along if they can,
For people this wide world all over
delight to discover a man.

PLANNED AGRICULTURE

Farmers are not so eager for a dirt farmer in the agricultural department as are senators who fear that a professor will turn the United States into a soviet.

The government may have to recruit the most brilliant professors it can obtain to find methods to rejuvenate American soil. Otherwise, the dirt farmer is more likely to starve to death than a professor.

June 19, 1864—A British-built vessel armed with British cannon, manned, except for her captain, by British subjects and provided with coal and other supplies from British ports, ended her career as a raider under the Confederate flag. The Alabama, commanded by Captain Raphael Semmes, 55, of Maryland, fought for an hour with the federal corvette Kearsarge, commanded by Captain John A. Winslow, 55, of North Carolina, before it was sent to the bottom of the ocean, seven miles off Cherbourg, France.

Another British built, equipped and manned ship, the Tallahassee, quickly took the Alabama's place and did great damage to U. S. shipping in the next two months. But Britain had to foot the bill for the damages. In a decision of the Geneva tribunal, historic because of the rules relating to neutrals which it adopted to guide its action, the U. S. was awarded $15,500,000 damages from Britain for over-stepping the bonds of neutrality.

WORDS JUST WORDS

"Don't you think," airily suggested the new partner, "that you ought to brush up a bit on your correspondence? Use big words; they lend dignity to your letters.

"Perhaps you're right," admitted the other, calmly studying the end of his cigar, "but, while eschewing mediocrity of expression platitudinous phraseology, it behooves one to beware of ponderosity, and to be mindful that pendantry, being indicatory of an inherent megalomania, frustrates its own aim and results merely in obnubilation."

WOULD REFORM MOTORING MANNERS

A MOVE to bring about reform of motoring manners has been inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, A. A. A., as a part of its statewide campaign to reduce vehicular accidents. Through its seventy-five affiliated clubs the federation is appealing to motorists to observe common courtesy in driving.

"Common courtesy among drivers would eliminate at least fifty per cent of the motor accidents in Pennsylvania," said S. Edward Gable, president of the P. M. F. and chairman of the governor's committee on street and highway safety. He deplored "the all-too-general lack of common courtesy in the operation of automobiles" and cited instances of impoliteness not unfamiliar to the average driver.

"Men and women we meet on the streets, in parks, theatres or public gatherings, at home or on trains almost always are courteous and considerate," he said, "but the great majority of them seem quite different when they get behind the wheel of an automobile." His statement continued:

"Why do drivers steer a slow course in the middle of the road and express resentment when asked to move aside for another vehicle?

"Why do drivers press forward around other cars at lights at the risk of safety, and certainly with nothing to accomplish except to crowd ahead of orderly traffic until the next stoplight?

"What possesses drivers who jump their cars toward other cars at intersections to give the impression that they have the right of way? Ordinarily it results in a waste of time for both. And it surely is poor motoring manners.

"Any man of ordinary decency is willing to defer to a lady when passing through a doorway, but in a car the majority of male drivers will not defer to the extent of an inch for the woman driver.

"Once in a car, many people seem transformed as to manners. From Chesterfieldian courtesy they descend to almost animal selfishness. Management of a motor car has developed a sort of superiority complex that has gone to the heads of many, and this is what the federation seeks to overcome to as marked a degree as possible through calling on the motorists of Pennsylvania to practice common courtesy on the road. Reformation of motoring manners must start somewhere, and we feel that if the fair-minded drivers of motor cars in Pennsylvania will co-operate by observing common courtesy much can be accomplished not only in overcoming the all-too-general lack of politeness, but in cutting the number of motor vehicle accidents."

YOU PAY A SALES TAX

In a recent referendum the voters of the state of Oregon decisively defeated a proposal for a general sales tax.

By doing that, the Oregon electorate followed an example that has been set by the people of a number of other states and communities.

However, if the voters think that they have eliminated the sales tax, they are badly mistaken. They are paying a sales tax now. They have been paying one in the past. They will pay one in the future.

The corner grocery where you buy your food pays taxes. The concerns which produce his stock likewise pay taxes—heavy ones. Those taxes are necessarily passed on to the consumer as part of the selling price.

That is true of everything you buy—gasoline or entertainment or food or clothes. Part of every dollar you spend goes for taxes—and the proportion mounts constantly. The fact that the tax isn't apparent means nothing—an indirect tax can be every bit as expensive as a direct one.

The great lesson the people of the United States must learn is that no one can escape taxes—and that exorbitant cost of government is a real menace.

When that fact is really implanted in the public mind, there may be a campaign for tax reduction that will get results.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT

"No system is perfect," said Cassius E. Gates, past president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce recently. "Certainly wrongdoers should be punished. Abuses should be corrected . . . Wise governmental regulation . . . is needed in many directions—but it is not necessary to destroy that which we gained in a century and a half of progress, nor is it necessary, in the desire to cure one evil, to go so far as to destroy the fundamental rights of institutions and of men."

All genuine progress must be built upon the foundations of the past—on that which has been learned through trial and error and long experience. Change which dismisses the past as being entirely unworthy of consideration must inevitably do great damage and little permanent good. To keep that which time has proven valuable and worthwhile, while eliminating that which is inimical to the common welfare, is the purpose of the patriotic American.

Today we have an excellent example, in many countries, of what uncontrolled zeal to make changes can do. Germany, Italy, Russia, come to mind—and the fact that unbiased observers forecast that present systems of government in those powers will either collapse or be entirely overhauled, is significant. Human rights were abrogated, traditions were forgotten, dictatorships with a vast lust for power were set up.

We are seeking to do great things in America. We can do them only if we temper the theories of the present with the experience of the past.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but most insurance is payable to women.

HOW BIG IS THE WORLD?

It is indeed a small world.

You pack your bag and travel to the heart of Africa, and beside a stream where a hippopotamus puffs and wallows you meet a man with whom you used to play marbles in a little town in Ohio. . . . On a street in New York you encounter a fine lady who used to be your skinny little girl friend in Memphis, Tenn. . . . You can eat breakfast in San Francisco, lunch in Los Angeles, dinner in San Francisco, if you ride the air. . . . You send a message to Germany and receive an answer that very evening. . . . It IS a small world. . . . A man finds a diamond in South Africa and the next day's paper has the news in Emporia, Kas. . . . A man steals in Sweden and a family in Nevada is impoverished. . . . An archduke in Serajevo was killed and millions died in every corner of the world. . . . A man named Einstein puts a complicated formula on paper in Germany and people he will never meet decide that God does not exist and life is hardly worth living—while other men are convinced that God does exist and life is more wonderful than ever. . . . It is, all men admit, an exceedingly small world.

It is also a most enormous world. . . . There are so many people you do not know and will never encounter. . . . So many hills and valleys and little towns that will never meet your eye, where you will never set foot. . . . So many songs you will never hear, so many messages that will never reach your ear. . . . So many experiences that will never be yours. . . . Stretch your arms wide, broaden your spirit though you may, you cannot encompass everything.

You are but one small person. You cannot be everything in one. There are dreams and there is action. There is discipline and there is rebellion, economy and extravagance, beauty and ugliness, poetry and prose, storm and peace, wild wandering and staying-at-home, sickness and health, loneliness and company, talk and silence, starvation and plenty, agony and content, all manner of things in this wide world. You cannot touch them all, you cannot be everything. Attempt this vain endeavor and you end by being nothing. Struggle to know all men and you know not one of all the millions who surround you. . . . The world is deep and wide and, praises be, a large one.

IMPROVE YOUR TECHNIQUE BY HELPING OTHERS

Give the duffer a chance.
Why always avoid those who are not proficient in the sport you enjoy?
You have experience and ability, and those who are learning would appreciate it very much if you would take an interest in their play.
To see you do certain things would benefit them greatly.
But you are selfish and prefer to play with your superiors.
Many times you have regretted the lack of opportunity to see those play who stand high in your sport.
They might consider you as much of a duffer as those you avoid.
To an expert you would seem an amateur, only to beginners you seem an expert.
The standard of excellence is decided by comparisons.
In trying to help those who are new at the game you are bound to improve your play.
Perhaps you are at the top of your game because you won't study and practice to improve.
When you are not going forward you are really going backward.
In helping others you may come to see your own imperfections, by trying you may improve through playing with some beginners.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE UNDER DOG RISES

Out of the ranks he came, fighting,
ragged and tattered of coat,
A lad with a strong heart for battle,
but never a tie at his throat;
A stranger that no one had heard of;
a fellow the big folks would snub.
Too poor for a Pullman car ticket,
too poor to belong to a club,
And they scornfully laughed when then saw him, but after the struggle began
They soon ceased to notice his clothing and started to notice the man.

There's little in snobbery lasting. It
is brittle and feeble and thin.
It cracks at the first sign of courage and bows to the man who can win.
And the chap who was scorned at the outset and by many was openly jeered
By the very same people at evening for this triumph was openly cheered.
"The poor man has done it!" they shouted. "The underdog comes out on top!
"Hooray for the stranger unheard of! Hooray for the lad of the shop!"

The tale is as old as our nature. The man is the master of place.
Who comes from the ranks of the lowly will first have the scornful to face,
But if he have merit within him and the courage and skill to succeed,
The rich and the great and the fine folk will cheer as he breaks in the lead.
They'll rally numbers behind him and help him along if they can,
For people this wide world all over delight to discover a man.

A Dramatic War Story From France
"Wrongful Arrests" Stir British

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—Do you know who the national hero of England is now?

He's Police Constable Jex.

In short, he's the policeman who was shot by England's only gunman.

A frightened young robber shot him, you will recall, and England became so enraged that the robber was tracked down by an immense posse. Rather than face an English prison, the cornered robber shot himself.

Well, the policeman who was shot (not so very badly at that) is 22—and handsome.

And the hospital at which he is staying has been bombarded by letters from girls, who would marry him—the only policeman in England to be shot by a gangster.

Even the father of the gangster came to the policeman's bed and shook hands with the young officer.

Truly, England is a quaint country—or is it the United States that is quaint?

IN FRANCE

In France there has been a queer trial.

Four widowed mothers have sought to clear the names of their sons, shot with a fifth man for cowardice during the war.

The Germans, however, began an advance.

The French survivors were ordered back.

The men went back, exhausted. Dead comrades strew the road.

The survivors were ordered to attack.

The officers advanced into "No-Man's Land." Then men did not follow.

The general came along. He ordered the battalion court-martialed.

Officers protested. The general was adamant. Out of six companies, five men were chosen by lot to be shot. The lieutenant of one company had refused to comply with the order.

Five names were drawn out of hats. Five men were shot. They did not plead to be saved. It would merely have meant that other comrades would take their place.

That's how men are sacrificed during a war.

WRONGFUL ARRESTS

The British home secretary is being asked in parliament concerning numerous "wrongful arrests" in Great Britain. Magistrates release the persons because of lack of evidence—after they have been arrested and in jail.

It would surprise Americans how many such cases there are in the United States, too.

There is a mania for putting people into jail in the United States. Social workers assert that one reason we have so much crime is that persons who have been wrong-doers once literally are hounded into crime thereafter.

Any effort at a parole system which would rehabilitate, or for that matter, for a penal system that would rehabilitate instead of forever making a man a miscast, is defeated through hysteria and stupidity.

MRS. F. D. R.'S WORK

There was more behind the fight on Mrs. Roosevelt's plea for a government-owned factory at Reedsville, W. Va., than was at first supposed.

Representatives and senators had attacked the Reedsville project as taking bread out of the mouths of workers in plants that sold postal equipment to the government.

Now it is disclosed that the government had learned the equipment sold by the private firms was at a large profit—and the real fight against Mrs. Roosevelt's project was to save that large profit, which came out of the pockets of the taxpayers, and did not go to the workers.

WORDS JUST WORDS

"Don't you think," airily suggested the new partner, "that you ought to brush up a bit on your correspondence? Use big words; they lend dignity to your letters.

"Perhaps you're right," admitted the other, calmly studying the end of his cigar, "but, while eschewing mediocrity of expression platitudinous phraseology, it behooves one to beware of ponderosity, and to be mindful that pendantry, being indicatory of an inherent megalomania, frustrates its own aim and results merely in obnubilation."

HOLLYWOOD, June 19.—Objectionable pictures should not be blamed upon the actors who appear in them for they can't help it, declares Eddie Cantor, joining today the nationwide discussion over the purity of Hollywood movies.

"We just work here. There aren't six actors in Hollywood with enough authority to say I will or will not play this story, I will or will not do this scene. We are employes, we do what we are told.

"The producer is the authority, the boss, and he alone has the responsibility."

Self Respect.

Given his preference, no screen actor would pick an unpleasant or suggestive film, says Cantor.

"In the first place, simple decency, pride and self respect would keep him from it. He doesn't want to be a professional dirty story teller," the comedian argues.

"Then the actor is concerned with talent, ability, cleverness, imagination. The dirty stories that get to the screen aren't clever."

Eddie belies that most of the clubs and organizations interested in the screen have been generous; have looked beyond the actor to lay the blame upon the shoulders of the people who selected the story and brought it to the screen.

Girl Admits She Shot Admirer

(International News Service)

CLARION, Pa., June 19.— With the expectation of standing trial at the September term of court, Miss Leona Menser, 20, accused by a coroner's jury of murdering her 61-year-old fiance, was to have been arraigned here today in justice court.

Before the coroner's jury, Miss Menser openly admitted shooting John B. Kelly in his Clarion county home last Thursday—the day they were to have been married. The two were said to have met through a matrimonial agency.

The verdict of the jury was returned following Miss Menser's story of the shooting. She told calmly, without a trace of emotion, how she killed the farmer in his home after he had threatened here, and refused to let her have clothing.

Old Confederate Bond To Be Sold

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 19.—Dated 1863 and payable "to bearer at the seat of government." A $500 bond of the Confederate states of America, has been claimed by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in Common Pleas court No. 2 here.

The bond was deposited with the Continental-Equitable Title & Trust company by Walter A. Kirkpatrick, and has been unclaimed for seven years, according to the state's petition filed by Attorney General William Schnader, Republican nominee for governor.

The court has been asked to authorize the sale of the Confederate bonds and other unclaimed securities mentioned in the petition. The proceeds would revert to the state treasury under acts of state assembly of 1919, 1921 and 1929.

Some 20,000,000 Americans suffer from varying degrees of deafness.

West Washington Street Section Is Opened To Traffic

West Washington street from Beaver street to the bridge was opened to traffic Monday after being closed for several weeks while repaving was in progress.

Street car tracks were torn out, a concrete base was poured and a brick paving laid during that period. Traffic was detoured during most of the time.

Workmen are now engaged in tearing up the section on West Washington street between Beaver street to the Diamond and will replace it with new pavement.

Banner Hatch Of Bass Is Promised

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19.—Ideal conditions in Pennsylvania waters point to a banner hatch of young bass for this season, according to the fish commission. The season runs from July 2 to November 30.

In most parts of the state waters are clear and low, ideal for the hatching of bass eggs. High waters always carry a heavy content of silt and mud and damage the bass eggs.

Unseasonal warm weather, the commission said, also will aid the bass crop because bass grow faster in warm water. The weather conditions have increased the normal supply of natural food in the waters.

Jails Were Urge For New Counties

Study Of Early State History Brings To Light Some Novel Facts

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19.—For nearly a century in the early history of Pennsylvania, the principal reason for creating new counties was the need for jails in the more thinly settled districts, a study of time-aged documents in the department of Internal Affairs shows.

In the era of William Penn, the state had only three counties and legislative acts creating new counties between 1729 and 1911 almost always cited as a reason the need for a local jail.

Most of these acts declared that "idle and dissolute persons who resort to remote parts of the province and by reason of the great distance from a court or prison do frequently find means of making their escape." Other legislative acts said that these idle persons committed "abuses almost daily."

Lancaster was the first county created by an act which cited the need of a new prison. The last county so formed was Schuylkill, created in 1811.

Producers Tell Movie Stars To Take Up Parts

Actors Do Not Like Hard Roles That Portray Suggestive Characters

NO CHOICE IN MATTER GIVEN

By HARRISON CARROLL
International News Service Hollywood Correspondent
(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 19.—Objectionable pictures should not be blamed upon the actors who appear in them for they can't help it, declares Eddie Cantor, joining today the nationwide discussion over the purity of Hollywood movies.

"We just work here. There aren't six actors in Hollywood with enough authority to say I will or will not play this story, I will or will not do this scene. We are employes, we do what we are told.

"The producer is the authority, the boss, and he alone has the responsibility."

Self Respect.

Given his preference, no screen actor would pick an unpleasant or suggestive film, says Cantor.

"In the first place, simple decency, pride and self respect would keep him from it. He doesn't want to be a professional dirty story teller," the comedian argues.

"Then the actor is concerned with talent, ability, cleverness, imagination. The dirty stories that get to the screen aren't clever."

Eddie belies that most of the clubs and organizations interested in the screen have been generous; have looked beyond the actor to lay the blame upon the shoulders of the people who selected the story and brought it to the screen.

Girl Admits She Shot Admirer

(International News Service)

CLARION, Pa., June 19.— With the expectation of standing trial at the September term of court, Miss Leona Menser, 20, accused by a coroner's jury of murdering her 61-year-old fiance, was to have been arraigned here today in justice court.

Before the coroner's jury, Miss Menser openly admitted shooting John B. Kelly in his Clarion county home last Thursday—the day they were to have been married. The two were said to have met through a matrimonial agency.

The verdict of the jury was returned following Miss Menser's story of the shooting. She told calmly, without a trace of emotion, how she killed the farmer in his home after he had threatened here, and refused to let her have clothing.

Knights Of St. Vitus Plan For Official Opening Of New Club House

About 100 members attended the regular meeting of the Knights of St. Vitus on Monday night. Plans for the official opening of the new club house located in the yard of the church, were made.

The new club house will be opened on Thursday, July 12. A banquet will also be held, it was announced. On Sunday morning, July 8, the Knights of St. Vitus will receive Holy Communion in a body. Joseph Nocera, a member of the committee in charge of the coming Tin Mill picnic, extended the Knights of St. Vitus an invitation to attend the affair.

The next regular meeting will be held on Monday night, July 2.

Says People Ought To Be Hilarious

(International News Service)

CLIFTON HEIGHTS, Pa., June 19.—Ralph Cheyney, recently named poet laureate of Pennsylvania by the poet laureate league, deplores "repressions" and finds that because of "our infantile emotional development our lives are highly standardized."

"People are so afraid of their own emotion and of being thought romantic they are usually dull, repressed and unhappy," says Cheyney. He added: "There ought to be a law that necessitates people always being a little hilarious."

Old Confederate Bond To Be Sold

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 19.—Dated 1863 and payable "to bearer at the seat of government." A $500 bond of the Confederate states of America, has been claimed by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in Common Pleas court No. 2 here.

The bond was deposited with the Continental-Equitable Title & Trust company by Walter A. Kirkpatrick, and has been unclaimed for seven years, according to the state's petition filed by Attorney General William Schnader, Republican nominee for governor.

The court has been asked to authorize the sale of the Confederate bonds and other unclaimed securities mentioned in the petition. The proceeds would revert to the state treasury under acts of state assembly of 1919, 1921 and 1929.

Some 20,000,000 Americans sufffer from varying degrees of deafness.

West Washington Street Section Is Opened To Traffic

West Washington street from Beaver street to the bridge was opened to traffic Monday after being closed for several weeks while repaving was in progress.

Street car tracks were torn out, a concrete base was poured and a brick paving laid during that period. Traffic was detoured during most of the time.

Workmen are now engaged in tearing up the section on West Washington street between Beaver street to the Diamond and will replace it with new pavement.

Banner Hatch Of Bass Is Promised

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19.—Ideal conditions in Pennsylvania waters point to a banner hatch of young bass for this season, according to the fish commission. The season runs from July 2 to November 30.

In most parts of the state waters are clear and low, ideal for the hatching of bass eggs. High waters always carry a heavy content of silt and mud and damage the bass eggs.

Unseasonal warm weather, the commission said, also will aid the bass crop because bass grow faster in warm water. The weather conditions have increased the normal supply of natural food in the waters.

Jails Were Urge For New Counties

Study Of Early State History Brings To Light Some Novel Facts

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19.—For nearly a century in the early history of Pennsylvania, the principal reason for creating new counties was the need for jails in the more thinly settled districts, a study of time-aged documents in the department of Internal Affairs shows.

In the era of William Penn, the state had only three counties and legislative acts creating new counties between 1729 and 1911 almost always cited as a reason the need for a local jail.

Most of these acts declared that "idle and dissolute persons who resort to remote parts of the province and by reason of the great distance from a court or prison do frequently find means of making their escape." Other legislative acts said that these idle persons committed "abuses almost daily."

Lancaster was the first county created by an act which cited the need of a new prison. The last county so formed was Schuylkill, created in 1811.

Dall Children Under Guard In Home In Nevada

Secret Service Men Watch Over Children Of Intended Divorcee

(International News Service)

RENO, Nev., June 19.—"Sistie" and "Buzzie," the children of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, played happily in the sunshine near their mother's mountain bungalow at Calvada today unmindful of the careful watch being kept over them by United States secret service men.

As Mrs. Dall, daughter of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, began the third day of her six weeks' residence in Nevada, a chauffeur for Samuel Platt, her Reno attorney, remained at the bungalow also as a guard.

Mrs. Dall paid an unexpected visit to Reno and conferred with Attorney Platt yesterday.

Mrs. Dall's six weeks' residence on the Nevada side of picturesque Lake Tahoe is expected to terminate in a divorce from Curtis B. Dall, New York broker, at Minden, Nev., where her brother, Elliott Roosevelt, was divorced.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—That time-honored badge of policemen—flat feet—is just another myth. Or so it would seem from the assertion of Dr. Hubley R. Owens, chief police and fire surgeon, who claims Philadelphia patrolmen hardly know what flat-feet are like.

"Since we established our orthopedic clinics six years ago not a single patrolman has lost a day because of his feet," Dr. Owen declared.

The freak was born yesterday.

"It's the queerest sight I've ever seen," Dr. Burnette said, and rubbed his eyes at the recollection.

Day's Yacht Races Have Been Called Off

(International News Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19.—The yachtsmen and committeemen in charge of the America's cup trial races wanted more wind. Today they have the wind aplenty, and in addition, off shore fog with rain thrown in for good measure.

Not desiring to ruin some of the new sets of sails which the combination of a blow and rain would do, the committee called off today's races and the series will be continued tomorrow if the rain and blow combination does not continue.

Murder Mystery Stirs Britain

Mutilated Torso Of Woman Is Found In Trunk In Railway Station

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 19.—British police were engaged today in a feverish hunt for the slayer of an unidentified woman, whose mutilated torso was found yesterday in the Central Railway station at Brighton, famous seashore resort. The limbs of the body later were found in the Kings Cross station in London.

Initial suspicions that the body might have been that of Agnes Tufverson, missing New York woman lawyer, were dispelled when cabled identification marks of Miss Tufverson failed to correspond with those of the body. An abdominal scar Miss Tufverson was known to have was lacking on the body of the woman found at Brighton.

All efforts of the police to trace the man who brought the trunk in which the torso was found to the Brighton station have proved futile although a determined manhunt still is in progress.

DR. JORDAN'S CONDITION

Face Full of Pimples. Could Not Go Anywhere. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was full of hard, red pimples. My skin was very sore and red and I could not go anywhere without everybody looking at me. The pimples were very itchy and I scratched them until they bled. I lost my night's sleep so many times I was disgusted.

"I tried different things, but without success. I happened to see an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I bought more and after I had used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Anna Krouchick, 430 Emmett St., Scranton, Pa.

Dall Children Under Guard In Home In Nevada

Secret Service Men Watch Over Children Of Intended Divorcee

(International News Service)

RENO, Nev., June 19.—"Sistie" and "Buzzie," the children of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, played happily in the sunshine near their mother's mountain bungalow at Calvada today unmindful of the careful watch being kept over them by United States secret service men.

As Mrs. Dall, daughter of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, began the third day of her six weeks' residence in Nevada, a chauffeur for Samuel Platt, her Reno attorney, remained at the bungalow also as a guard.

Mrs. Dall paid an unexpected visit to Reno and conferred with Attorney Platt yesterday.

Mrs. Dall's six weeks' residence on the Nevada side of picturesque Lake Tahoe is expected to terminate in a divorce from Curtis B. Dall, New York broker, at Minden, Nev., where her brother, Elliott Roosevelt, was divorced.

Quaker City Cops Not Flat-Footed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—That time-honored badge of policemen—flat feet—is just another myth. Or so it would seem from the assertion of Dr. Hubley R. Owens, chief police and fire surgeon, who claims Philadelphia patrolmen hardly know what flat-feet are like.

"Since we established our orthopedic clinics six years ago not a single patrolman has lost a day because of his feet," Dr. Owen declared.

Freak Calf Is Reported Born

(International News Service)

WINSTED, Conn., June 19.—A one-headed, three-eyed, two-mouthed, two tongued, four-nostriled calf was alive today at John Peyre's farm in Mepaug and Dr. C. A. Burnette, local veterinarian, said it may continue to live.

The freak was born yesterday.

"It's the queerest sight I've ever seen," Dr. Burnette said, and rubbed his eyes at the recollection.

Day's Yacht Races Have Been Called Off

(International News Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19.—The yachtsmen and committeemen in charge of the America's cup trial races wanted more wind. Today they have the wind aplenty, and in addition, off shore fog with rain thrown in for good measure.

Not desiring to ruin some of the new sets of sails which the combination of a blow and rain would do, the committee called off today's races and the series will be continued tomorrow if the rain and blow combination does not continue.

Jury Completed For Davis Trial

(International News Service)

CARLYLE, Ill., June 19.—A jury, which will try Thomas A. Davis, Jr., Pittsburgh high school student on charges of assault with intent to kill and robbery with a gun, was completed here today.

Immediately after completion of the jury, the prosecution began to outline its case against the youth. Testimony was expected to be started either lat: today or early tomorrow.

Murder Mystery Stirs Britain

Mutilated Torso Of Woman Is Found In Trunk In Railway Station

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 19.—British police were engaged today in a feverish hunt for the slayer of an unidentified woman, whose mutilated torso was found yesterday in the Central Railway station at Brighton, famous seashore resort. The limbs of the body later were found in the Kings Cross station in London.

Initial suspicions that the body might have been that of Agnes Tufverson, missing New York woman lawyer, were dispelled when cabled identification marks of Miss Tufverson failed to correspond with those of the body. An abdominal scar Miss Tufverson was known to have was lacking on the body of the woman found at Brighton.

All efforts of the police to trace the man who brought the trunk in which the torso was found to the Brighton station have proved futile although a determined manhunt still is in progress.

DR. JORDAN'S CONDITION

Face Full of Pimples. Could Not Go Anywhere. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was full of hard, red pimples. My skin was very sore and red and I could not go anywhere without everybody looking at me. The pimples were very itchy and I scratched them until they bled. I lost my night's sleep so many times I was disgusted.

"I tried different things, but without success. I happened to see an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I bought more and after I had used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Anna Krouchick, 430 Emmett St., Scranton, Pa.

Dall Children Under Guard In Home In Nevada

Secret Service Men Watch Over Children Of Intended Divorcee

(International News Service)

RENO, Nev., June 19.—"Sistie" and "Buzzie," the children of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, played happily in the sunshine near their mother's mountain bungalow at Calvada today unmindful of the careful watch being kept over them by United States secret service men.

As Mrs. Dall, daughter of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, began the third day of her six weeks' residence in Nevada, a chauffeur for Samuel Platt, her Reno attorney, remained at the bungalow also as a guard.

Mrs. Dall paid an unexpected visit to Reno and conferred with Attorney Platt yesterday.

Mrs. Dall's six weeks' residence on the Nevada side of picturesque Lake Tahoe is expected to terminate in a divorce from Curtis B. Dall, New York broker, at Minden, Nev., where her brother, Elliott Roosevelt, was divorced.

Quaker City Cops Not Flat-Footed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—That time-honored badge of policemen—flat feet—is just another myth. Or so it would seem from the assertion of Dr. Hubley R. Owens, chief police and fire surgeon, who claims Philadelphia patrolmen hardly know what flat-feet are like.

"Since we established our orthopedic clinics six years ago not a single patrolman has lost a day because of his feet," Dr. Owen declared.

Freak Calf Is Reported Born

(International News Service)

WINSTED, Conn., June 19.—A one-headed, three-eyed, two-mouthed, two tongued, four-nostriled calf was alive today at John Peyre's farm in Mepaug and Dr. C. A. Burnette, local veterinarian, said it may continue to live.

The freak was born yesterday.

"It's the queerest sight I've ever seen," Dr. Burnette said, and rubbed his eyes at the recollection.

Day's Yacht Races Have Been Called Off

(International News Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19.—The yachtsmen and committeemen in charge of the America's cup trial races wanted more wind. Today they have the wind aplenty, and in addition, off shore fog with rain thrown in for good measure.

Not desiring to ruin some of the new sets of sails which the combination of a blow and rain would do, the committee called off today's races and the series will be continued tomorrow if the rain and blow combination does not continue.

Jury Completed For Davis Trial

(International News Service)

CARLYLE, Ill., June 19.—A jury, which will try Thomas A. Davis, Jr., Pittsburgh high school student on charges of assault with intent to kill and robbery with a gun, was completed here today.

Immediately after completion of the jury, the prosecution began to outline its case against the youth. Testimony was expected to be started either late today or early tomorrow.

Murder Mystery Stirs Britain

Mutilated Torso Of Woman Is Found In Trunk In Railway Station

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 19.—British police were engaged today in a feverish hunt for the slayer of an unidentified woman, whose mutilated torso was found yesterday in the Central Railway station at Brighton, famous seashore resort. The limbs of the body later were found in the Kings Cross station in London.

Initial suspicions that the body might have been that of Agnes Tufverson, missing New York woman lawyer, were dispelled when cabled identification marks of Miss Tufverson failed to correspond with those of the body. An abdominal scar Miss Tufverson was known to have was lacking on the body of the woman found at Brighton.

All efforts of the police to trace the man who brought the trunk in which the torso was found to the Brighton station have proved futile although a determined manhunt still is in progress.

DR. JORDAN'S CONDITION

Face Full of Pimples. Could Not Go Anywhere. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was full of hard, red pimples. My skin was very sore and red and I could not go anywhere without everybody looking at me. The pimples were very itchy and I scratched them until they bled. I lost my night's sleep so many times I was disgusted.

"I tried different things, but without success. I happened to see an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I bought more and after I had used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Anna Krouchick, 430 Emmett St., Scranton, Pa.

Relations Of Railroads To Industry Told

Head Of Industrial Relations Department Of Pennsylvania Speaks Here

COMPETITION FOR INDUSTRIES KEEN

Some good sound logic was dealt out by Edward J. Israel, head of the industrial relations department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at Pittsburgh, in an address before the members of the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce team workers at The Castleton, Monday noon.

He told about the organization that the Pennsylvania Railroad maintains to promote industry and agriculture, industry being more important east of the Mississippi, and agriculture, west of the Mississippi.

Their department is no panacea for industrial ills, as many people suppose, but seeks to aid industry in securing locations at strategic points and to aid them in marketing their products.

Industries make a science of these things today and do not locate in localities simply because some nice people invite them there, but they go where they can be near their market and have other advantages necessary to make their business successful.

The competition is keener today than ever before, and civic nimrods are gunning for industries, using magnetic decoys. He frowned on the offering of concessions to secure industry as a bad practice and not worth the effort. He also frowned on misadvertising the community.

In speaking on Chambers of Commerce, with whom he has had considerable contact in his time, Mr. Israel stated that it was a bad thing for a community where cliques develop and attempt to run such organizations.

In order to put a place over industrially, the residents of the community must be sold on themselves. One should know exactly what he has to sell and be able to tell the rest of the world about it.

One does not join a Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Israel said, but rather invests in it. A town without a Chamber of Commerce is dead both from the neck up and the neck down. A town that is satisfied with itself and does not want new industries, is doomed to industrial oblivion, he also said.

In giving service to an organization, Mr. Israel likened it to laying down a sacrifice bunt. Some men, he said, are blind to the fact that their prosperity depends on the prosperity of their fellow man.

Anyone, he stated, can plant radishes and grow a quick crop, but it take a man of courage to plant acorns and wait for the oak trees. He stated that he was optimistic about the future and felt things are gradually righting themselves.

In conclusion, he stated that he trusted the city of New Castle and its Chamber of Commerce were planting acorns.

Mr. Israel, a rapid fire speaker, who used many metaphors in his address, was secured through the efforts of C. W. Van Nort, former division superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who last week was promoted to the position of superintendent of freight transportation of the Central region of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Visitors at the meeting yesterday included John Lawther and Dr. Frederick Taylor of the New Wilmington Rotary Club; James P. Cope of Ellwood City, E. C. Garber, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Thomas Caruthers, of Butler.

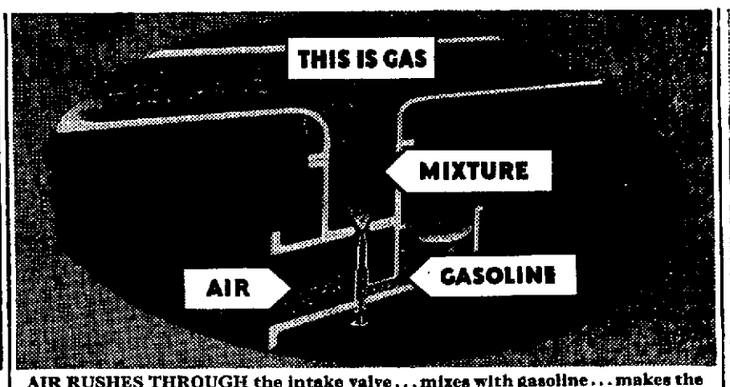
WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU "Step on the Gas"

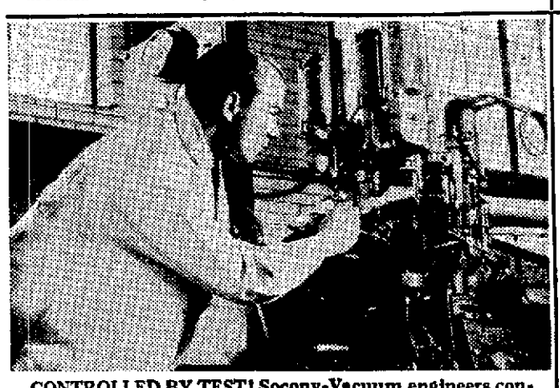
This Advertisement tells how Gasoline and AIR are Mixed to Run your Car!

ATOMIZER SHOWS HOW carbureter works. Liquid and air are mixed to make vapor, much as a carbureter makes GAS.



AIR RUSHES THROUGH the intake valve . . . mixes with gasoline . . . makes the "gas" which gives your car its power to run. This takes place continuously.

UNDER A PARCHING SUN! This car is inhaling hot, dry air. Tonight, air may be damp and cold, affecting "gas."



CONTROLLED BY TEST! Socony-Vacuum engineers constantly test Mobilgas to make sure it mixes better with air.

WHAT REALLY HAPPENS when you step on the "gas"?

A valve opens. Liquid gasoline spurts in. Air rushes to the carbureter. And in a flashing second . . . powerful GAS is formed. In an instant, this gas is fed to cylinders. Spark plugs fire . . . the gas explodes . . . and thus is born the power that runs your car.

This factor of AIR is important for two reasons. In the first place, the weather is constantly changing—day to day—even hour to hour.

Secondly, all types of gasoline do not mix equally well with all kinds of air. So when the weather changes, you are likely to lose power, have trouble starting, or lack pick-up.

That's why Mobilgas has Climatic Control. This gasoline is preadjusted at the refinery to mix better with air. The result is the kind of performance you want—regardless of the weather!

On Court House Hill

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell announces that the last day for placing cases on the argument list for Monday, July 2 argument court, will be on June 22.

M. A. Bickett presented to court his resignation as guardian of Leona Margaret Bryan. Judge R. L. Hildebrand appointed Attorney Jos. W. Humphrey as guardian.

Mrs. Isabell Nye, executrix in the estate of the late Ross Smith, presented a petition to court asking leave to place a mortgage of $1500 on a farm of 109 acres in Perry Twp. the money being needed in settling up the estate. Mr. Smith also owned property in Beaver county.

Receipts at the county treasurer's office on last Saturday amounted to $3,802.96, distributed as follows: County $1,484.70: state, $45.60; poor $2,272.66. Disbursements were $1,950 from the poor fund and $886.64 from the general fund. Collections for the entire week ending June 16 $20,770.71, as against $13,277.14 the previous week.

Leoppolda Fazzoni has issued an attachment at the prothonotary's office against John B. and Francesa Matura in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money due defendants from Assorta Giamozino and Frank A. Giamozino in satisfaction of a claim of $1,006.67.

Deputy Prothonotary Emma Carson has issued a passport to Miss Mary McDowell who is a teacher in the Beaver Falls school, and who is planning a trip to Europe. Miss McDowell will accompany Mrs. Nellie Duff, Miss Mary Perdue and Miss Eleanor Galbraith to whom passports were issued several days ago. They expect to leave about June 30.

All previous records by the local Home Owners Loan Corporation were broken last week when twelve mortgages, totaling $40,911.93 were placed on record at the register and recorder's office. The smallest loan on the list was $1,956.87 and the highest, $6,883.20. The local office now has a good corps of workers and is making a fine record. In all Register and Recorded Hanna recorded 54 instruments last week. There were 15 deeds and 25 mortgages.

The second largest list of mortgages was recorded by the State Capital Savings and Loan Association and amounted to $18,950, there being eight mortgages. One mortgage for $2000 was given to the Federal land bank and one for $2,200 to the Land Bank Commissioner Three mortgages totalling $1,950 were given to private individuals. During the previous week the Home Owners Loan corporation placed $36,616.33 in mortgages and building and loans, $5,800.

Clerks in the county commissioners office are getting well along with the work of writing descriptions of properties in the tax books. This was deferred at the time the tax duplicates were made up in order that they might be placed in the hands of the county treasurer as soon as possible.

Up until yesterday no applications for new trials had been filed in cases before the June term of court. Sentence court will be held on Thursday morning and if motions for new trials have not been filed by that time, those who were convicted or who pleaded guilty, will be sentenced.

The estate of the late Edward R. McLaughlin, a world war veteran is now being settled up by the administrator, Shuby E. Triplet. This is a case in which there was considerable litigation before a final decree recognizing Triplett's right to settle up the estate was filed.

Beauty sleep's important—for you and for your skin, too. So don't go to bed with daytime make-up clogging your pores—spoiling your beauty.

Many a girl who thinks she removes cosmetics thoroughly actually leaves bits of stale rouge and powder still in the pores. It is this choking of the pores that causes ugly Cosmetic Skin to develop.

Look closely in your mirror now. Do you see enlarged pores, tiny blemishes—blackheads, perhaps—warning signals of this modern complexion trouble? Then it's time to start using gentle Lux Toilet Soap—Hollywood's beauty care!

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its ACTIVE lather sinks deeply into the pores, swiftly carries away every vestige of dust, dirt, stale cosmetics. Before you put on fresh make-up during the day—ALWAYS before you go to bed at night, use Lux Toilet Soap—the gentle care that for years has guarded Hollywood's priceless complexions.

In this way you can protect your skin—keep it lovely!

Use Cosmetics? Yes, indeed! But I always use Lux Toilet Soap to guard against Cosmetic Skin

Betty's ready for 8 hours Beauty sleep...

_What about her SKIN?

Let's hope she removes daytime make-up the Hollywood way.

Beauty sleep's important—for you and for your skin, too. So don't go to bed with daytime make-up clogging your pores—spoiling your beauty.

Many a girl who thinks she removes cosmetics thoroughly actually leaves bits of stale rouge and powder still in the pores. It is this choking of the pores that causes ugly Cosmetic Skin to develop.

Look closely in your mirror now. Do you see enlarged pores, tiny blemishes—blackheads, perhaps—warning signals of this modern complexion trouble? Then it's time to start using gentle Lux Toilet Soap—Hollywood's beauty care!

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its ACTIVE lather sinks deeply into the pores, swiftly carries away every vestige of dust, dirt, stale cosmetics. Before you put on fresh make-up during the day—ALWAYS before you go to bed at night, use Lux Toilet Soap—the gentle care that for years has guarded Hollywood's priceless complexions.

In this way you can protect your skin—keep it lovely!

Relations Of Railroads To Industry Told

Head Of Industrial Relations Department Of Pennsylvania Speaks Here

COMPETITION FOR INDUSTRIES KEEN

Some good sound logic was dealt out by Edward J. Israel, head of the industrial relations department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at Pittsburgh, in an address before the members of the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce team workers at The Castleton, Monday noon.

He told about the organization that the Pennsylvania Railroad maintains to promote industry and agriculture, industry being more important east of the Mississippi, and agriculture, west of the Mississippi.

Their department is no panacea for industrial ills, as many people suppose, but seeks to aid industry in securing locations at strategic points and to aid them in marketing their products.

Industries make a science of these things today and do not locate in localities simply because some nice people invite them there, but they go where they can be near their market and have other advantages necessary to make their business successful.

The competition is keener today than ever before, and civic nimrods are gunning for industries, using magnetic decoys. He frowned on the offering of concessions to secure industry as a bad practice and not worth the effort. He also frowned on misadvertising the community.

In speaking on Chambers of Commerce, with whom he has had considerable contact in his time, Mr. Israel stated that it was a bad thing for a community where cliques develop and attempt to run such organizations.

In order to put a place over industrially, the residents of the community must be sold on themselves. One should know exactly what he has to sell and be able to tell the rest of the world about it.

One does not join a Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Israel said, but rather invests in it. A town without a Chamber of Commerce is dead both from the neck up and the neck down. A town that is satisfied with itself and does not want new industries, is doomed to industrial oblivion, he also said.

In giving service to an organization, Mr. Israel likened it to laying down a sacrifice bunt. Some men, he said, are blind to the fact that their prosperity depends on the prosperity of their fellow man.

Anyone, he stated, can plant radishes and grow a quick crop, but it take a man of courage to plant acorns and wait for the oak trees. He stated that he was optimistic about the future and felt things are gradually righting themselves.

In conclusion, he stated that he trusted the city of New Castle and its Chamber of Commerce were planting acorns.

Mr. Israel, a rapid fire speaker, who used many metaphors in his address, was secured through the efforts of C. W. Van Nort, former division superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who last week was promoted to the position of superintendent of freight transportation of the Central region of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Visitors at the meeting yesterday included John Lawther and Dr. Frederick Taylor of the New Wilmington Rotary Club; James P. Cope of Ellwood City, E. C. Garber, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Thomas Caruthers, of Butler.

Given High Rating For Physical Work

The physical department of New Castle's Y. M. C. A. shared honors with the physical department of the York association in a new comparative report on administration which the Pennsylvania Y. M. C. A. has issued. Out of a possible five percent, New Castle and York were given a 4.50 percent rating. Lancaster, with 3.95 percent, ranked second. Williamsport, McKeesport, Johnstown and Chester ranked next in the report for Y's of cities with 40,000 to 75,000 population.

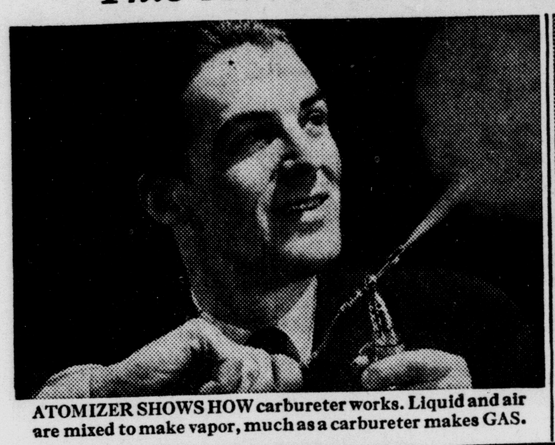
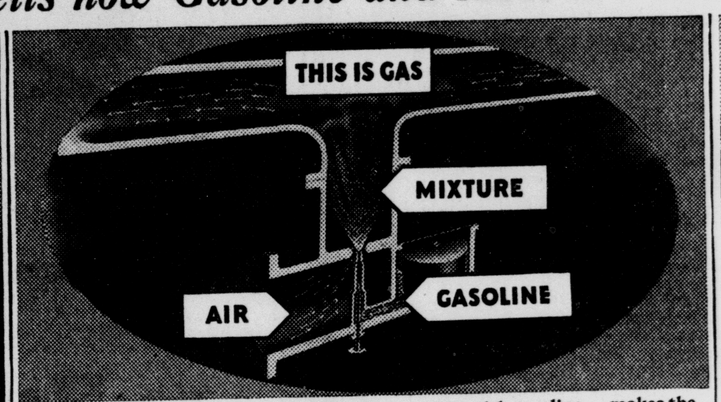
WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU "Step on the Gas"

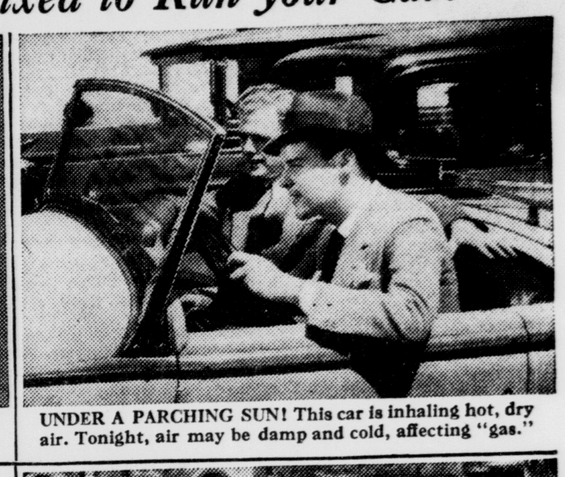
This Advertisement tells how Gasoline and AIR are Mixed to Run your Car!



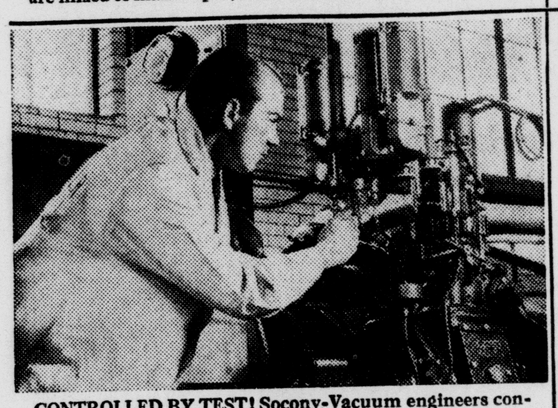
ATOMIZER SHOWS HOW carbureter works. Liquid and air are mixed to make vapor, much as a carbureter makes GAS.



AIR RUSHES THROUGH the intake valve... mixes with gasoline... makes the "gas" which gives your car its power to run. This takes place continuously.



UNDER A PARCHING SUN! This car is inhaling hot, dry air. Tonight, air may be damp and cold, affecting "gas."



CONTROLLED BY TEST! Socony-Vacuum engineers constantly test Mobilgas to make sure it mixes better with air.

WHAT REALLY HAPPENS when you step on the "gas"?

A valve opens. Liquid gasoline spurts in. Air rushes to the carbureter. And in a flashing second ... powerful GAS is formed. In an instant, this gas is fed to cylinders. Spark plugs fire ... the gas explodes ... and thus is born the power that runs your car.

This factor of AIR is important for two reasons. In the first place, the weather is constantly changing—day to day—even hour to hour.

Secondly, all types of gasoline do not mix equally well with all kinds of air. So when the weather changes, you are likely to lose power, have trouble starting, or lack pick-up.

That's why Mobilgas has Climatic Control. This gasoline is preadjusted at the refinery to mix better with air. The result is the kind of performance you want—regardless of the weather!

Try Mobilgas. Just look for the sign with the Flying Red Horse.

LOOK FOR THE Flying Red Horse! It shows where to buy Mobilgas, the fuel that lets you forget about the weather.

On Court House Hill

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell announces that the last day for placing cases on the argument list for Monday, July 2 argument court, will be on June 22.

M. A. Bickett presented to court his resignation as guardian of Leona Margaret Bryan. Judge R. L. Hildebrand appointed Attorney Jos. W. Humphrey as guardian.

Mrs. Isabell Nye, executrix in the estate of the late Ross Smith, presented a petition to court asking leave to place a mortgage of $1500 on a farm of 109 acres in Perry Twp. the money being needed in settling up the estate. Mr. Smith also owned property in Beaver county.

Receipts at the county treasurer's office on last Saturday amounted to $3,802.96, distributed as follows: County $1,484.70: state, $45.60; poor $2,272.66. Disbursements were $1,950 from the poor fund and $886.64 from the general fund. Collections for the entire week ending June 16 $20,770.71, as against $13,277.14 the previous week.

Leoppolda Fazzoni has issued an attachment at the prothonotary's office against John B. and Francesa Matura in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money due defendants from Assorta Giamozino and Frank A. Giamozino in satisfaction of a claim of $1,006.67.

Deputy Prothonotary Emma Carson has issued a passport to Miss Mary McDowell who is a teacher in the Beaver Falls school, and who is planning a trip to Europe. Miss McDowell will accompany Mrs. Nellie Duff, Miss Mary Perdue and Miss Eleanor Galbraith to whom passports were issued several days ago. They expect to leave about June 30.

All previous records by the local Home Owners Loan Corporation were broken last week when twelve mortgages, totaling $40,911.93 were placed on record at the register and recorder's office. The smallest loan on the list was $1,956.87 and the highest, $6,883.20. The local office now has a good corps of workers and is making a fine record. In all Register and Recorded Hanna recorded 54 instruments last week. There were 15 deeds and 25 mortgages.

The second largest list of mortgages was recorded by the State Capital Savings and Loan Association and amounted to $18,950, there being eight mortgages. One mortgage for $2000 was given to the Federal land bank and one for $2,200 to the Land Bank Commissioner Three mortgages totalling $1,950 were given to private individuals. During the previous week the Home Owners Loan corporation placed $36,616.33 in mortgages and building and loans, $5,800.

Clerks in the county commissioners office are getting well along with the work of writing descriptions of properties in the tax books. This was deferred at the time the tax duplicates were made up in order that they might be placed in the hands of the county treasurer as soon as possible.

Up until yesterday no applications for new trials had been filed in cases before the June term of court. Sentence court will be held on Thursday morning and if motions for new trials have not been filed by that time, those who were convicted or who pleaded guilty, will be sentenced.

The estate of the late Edward R. McLaughlin, a world war veteran is now being settled up by the administrator, Shuby E. Triplet. This is a case in which there was considerable litigation before a final decree recognizing Triplett's right to settle up the estate was filed.

The application states that Foley was sentenced to the penitentiary on January 19, 1934.

All Strike Cases Are Held Over

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 18.—In the belif ill feeling would be engendered if trials were held as scheduled at the June term, and that time might make possible a "sifting out" process decreasing costs, Judge Thomas H. Hudson postponed all Fayette county strike cases until September term of court.

Program For Card Party Is Now Completed

Red Cross Benefit On Wednesday Evening Expected To Attract Many

PROCEEDS WILL BE USED FOR AUTO

Arrangements for the Red Cross benefit in the Cathedral Wednesday evening, were completed at a meeting of the General committee, headed by Mrs. John S. Crowl, in the Chapter rooms on South Mercer street, Monday afternoon.

One of the big features of the evening's entertainment will be the Penny Bingo, which will be conducted by the members of the Legion of Honor, in the same manner in which their games during the winter were operating. Children who are accompanied by their parents will be admitted for bingo without an admission ticket, it was announced.

Then in addition, there will be bridge and 500 for devotees of these games, with table prizes, and fortune telling, seven fortune telling booths having been secured for the evening.

W. O. "Red" Williams will be master of ceremonies, during the evening, and there will be a snappy revue given, featuring Miss Betty Glover, reader; the Pennsylvania Power male quartet, Dudley Arnold, "Red" Williams and "Bill" Jones, of Ellwood City, in songs, and a tap dance by Nellie Brady. Judy Sypher will be the accompanist.

The cards will start promptly at 8:15, and the musical program will follow the party. Bingo will be played throughout the evening.

WOMEN PROVOKE WAR DECLARES GENERAL

Cooking School Opens Wednesday

Sponsored By Independent Grocers—Staged In Haney Store

COOKING SCHOOL FACTS
To be held, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 20, 21, 22 and 23.
In Haney's Furniture Store on Washington street
Under the direction of Miss Gladys Hamilton, Cookery and Home Economist expert.
There will be four classes 2 to 4 p. m.
Free to everyone.

Scores of New Castle women will return to their school days tomorrow. In this case, however, it is not going to be the three R's (reading, writing and arithmetic,) but the art of modern home making. The Henkel Housewife Cooking school, sponsored by the Independent grocers and Haney's Furniture store.

Opening at 2 p. m. in Haney's Furniture Store, it will continue at the same hour for four days, and will be conducted by Miss Gladys Hamilton well known Home Economist and Dietician.

"Let's Cook the Fish that Didn't Get Away," will be the topic of Miss Hamilton's first lecture, and don't forget she shows you exactly what to do, and tells you why it is beneficial for proper healthy bodies.

"Foods That Men Like"

Miss Hamilton calls her lecture for the second day "Foods That Men Like" for she believes the old adage "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." If you tell her what your husband likes, she can tell you your husband's age, for tastes change with the years, as well as body requirements. She will also talk about table setting and service, color and its appeal to appetite.

The third day of the school will be devoted to the Sunday morning breakfast, as this is the one important breakfast of the week when the whole family can relax and enjoy a pleasant hour.

On the fourth day, "Cooking our Dinner in the Morning" will be discussed and prepared.

Miss Hamilton stated that she hopes the homemakers will come every day as there will be so much to say in such a short length of time. She also said that baked goods and other valuable door prizes will be given away each afternoon.

Mortgage Bill Faced By Veto

Roosevelt May Veto Farm Mortgage Moratorium Bill, Is Reported

ONE OF SESSION'S IMPORTANT BILLS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt had before him today the Frazier-Lemke-Year Farm Mortgage Moratorium bill, with a veto considered a strong possibility.

Although its sponsors were optimistic over chances of presidential approval, there were intimations among administration leaders to the contrary.

The measure—one of the most important bills passed in a history-making session—was swept through to the white house in a swift closing session fight.

Slash Interest Rates

The bill provides a means of slashing farm mortgage interest rates to one per cent a year for five years. Farm mortgage experts estimated the total interest bill could be slashed $840,000,000 a year under the bill.

Rep. Lemke (R) of North Dakota, predicted it would accomplish good for both creditors and debtors. Unless some similar measure is provided, he maintained, insurance companies and other holders of farm mortgages would suffer far greater losses.

Lemke estimated that present farm mortgage total on land is eight and one-half billions with about four billions of personal property. The law applies to both.

Federal Farm Credit

The bill, Lemke said, would force a scaling down of indebtedness and permit refinancing of mortgages through the federal farm credit administration. The administration has met difficulties in attempting to persuade creditors to scale down mortgages.

A movement is under way, Lemke disclosed, for passage of a similar bill in the next session of congress for relief of city debtors in the same manner.

No Bail Yet For Sanders

Sharon Man Still Confined To Jail Cell At Mercer

(International News Service)

MERCER, Pa., June 19— Still awaiting the outcome of his attorneys' efforts to arrange for his liberation, Homer S. Sanders, 43 confessed he cremated the body of four year old Leah Minerva Dilley, missing Sharon child, after he found her in a house fumigated, remained in his Mercer county jail cell here today.

Sanders is charged with involuntary manslaughter and with destroying a body.

Funeral services for the child, whose ashes and a few charred bones were pointed out by Sanders in a grove near Sharpsville, were held privately at Sharpsville yesterday afternoon. The gruesome fragments of her body were held pending Sander's trial.

Sanders, himself the family of four motherless children, was cheered today by the news that his tots were being cared for by their maternal grandmother.

Seven Hundred At RWD Outing

Athletic Events And Flag Raising Feature Park Picnic

Seven hundred persons attended the RWD employes outing held yesterday at Cascade Park. During the evening hours a flag raising was held. The flag was purchased by RWD workers of Cunningham park, Cascade boulevard and Cascade park. It was presented to Superintendent C. C. Coulthard by John Paul and the flag raising speech was made by C. W. Herman Hess. A drill was also staged by the ladies' auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign wars.

During the afternoon an athletic program was held and more than a score prizes were distributed.

The general chairman of the day was John Huffner who was assisted by committeemen as follows, Messrs. Huffner, Paul, Bellman, Aubel, Nicholson, Patton, Sweezy, Grove, Foringer and Burns.

The men who picnicked yesterday were those who gave several days work free at Cascade Park so the stone entrance would be completely built before the park opened. They were accompanied to the park by their families.

He had practiced here since 1900. He is survived by his widow, four children and two brothers, one of whom is Frank W. Goodwin, Pittsburgh school teacher.

HIGHWAYS MADE SAFER BY FRIGID WINTER WEATHER

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Strange as it sounds, the statement that the extremely cold weather experienced last winter may result in the saving of many lives on Massachusetts highways this summer is nevertheless true.

The Governor's Committee on street and highway safety says that high shrubbery at many an intersection will no longer prove an accident hazard to drivers by obstructing their view, as winter frosts have damaged the shrubbery to such an extent that it has been clipped close to the ground in order to save it from extinction.

Thus the weather has accomplished what the Governor's Safety Committee has long been trying to persuade residents at street intersections to do.

NDA FOR HORSES,

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 18—NRA codes have reached many industries and trades, but it was hitherto unreported that they affected animals. Police Commissioner O'Ryan recently ordered all mounted cops to dismount 10 minutes every hour in order to give the horses a rest. Nothing was said about the minimum hourly wage for the beasts.

Program For Card Party Is Now Completed

Red Cross Benefit On Wednesday Evening Expected To Attract Many

PROCEEDS WILL BE USED FOR AUTO

Arrangements for the Red Cross benefit in the Cathedral Wednesday evening, were completed at a meeting of the General committee, headed by Mrs. John S. Crowl, in the Chapter rooms on South Mercer street, Monday afternoon.

One of the big features of the evening's entertainment will be the Penny Bingo, which will be conducted by the members of the Legion of Honor, in the same manner in which their games during the winter were operating. Children who are accompanied by their parents will be admitted for bingo without an admission ticket, it was announced.

Then in addition, there will be bridge and 500 for devotees of these games, with table prizes, and fortune telling, seven fortune telling booths having been secured for the evening.

W. O. "Red" Williams will be master of ceremonies, during the evening, and there will be a snappy revue given, featuring Miss Betty Glover, reader; the Pennsylvania Power male quartet, Dudley Arnold, "Red" Williams and "Bill" Jones, of Ellwood City, in songs, and a tap dance by Nellie Brady. Judy Sypher will be the accompanist.

The cards will start promptly at 8:15, and the musical program will follow the party. Bingo will be played throughout the evening.

WOMEN PROVOKE WAR DECLARES GENERAL

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Women, not diplomats, cause war.

So declared General Johnson Hagood, commander of the Third Field Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

"The lipstick causes more to provoke war than the big stick," said the General. "Men fight for their women, and there will be wars as long as there are women worth fighting for."

Cooking School Opens Wednesday

COOKING SCHOOL FACTS
To be held, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 20, 21, 22 and 23.
In Haney's Furniture Store on Washington street
Under the direction of Miss Gladys Hamilton, Cookery and Home Economist expert,
There will be four classes 2 to 4 p. m.
Free to everyone.

Scores of New Castle women will return to their school days tomorrow. In this case, however, it is not going to be the three R's (reading, writing and arithmetic.) but the art of modern home making. The Henkel Housewife Cooking school, sponsored by the Independent grocers and Haney's Furniture store.

Opening at 2 p. m. in Haney's Furniture Store, it will continue at the same hour for four days, and will be conducted by Miss Gladys Hamilton well known Home Economist and Dietician.

"Let's Cook the Fish that Didn't Get Away," will be the topic of Miss Hamilton's first lecture, and don't forget she shows you exactly what to do, and tells you why it is beneficial for proper healthy bodies.

"Foods That Men Like"

Miss Hamilton calls her lecture for the second day "Foods That Men Like" for she believes the old adage "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." If you tell her what your husband likes, she can tell you your husband's age, for tastes change with the years, as well as body requirements. She will also talk about table setting and service, color and its appeal to appetite.

The third day of the school will be devoted to the Sunday morning breakfast, as this is the one important breakfast of the week when the whole family can relax and enjoy a pleasant hour.

On the fourth day, "Cooking our Dinner in the Morning" will be discussed and prepared.

Miss Hamilton stated that she hopes the homemakers will come every day as there will be so much to say in such a short length of time. She also said that baked goods and other valuable door prizes will be given away each afternoon.

28th Division Men In Reunion

World War Veterans Have Enjoyable Gathering At Armory Saturday Evening

Members of the Society of the 28th Division, A. E. F., held an enjoyable reunion at the Armory on West Washington street, Saturday evening, when they were hosts to a number of members from the Pittsburgh district.

Addresses were made during the evening by Col. John Shenkel, national commander of the society, and William Blau, national secretary, both of Pittsburgh.

Plans were made to attend the national reunion, which will take place in Erie at the time of the state convention of the American Legion in August.

Mortgage Bill Faced By Veto

Roosevelt May Veto Farm Mortgage Moratorium Bill, Is Reported

ONE OF SESSION'S IMPORTANT BILLS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt had before him today the Frazier-Lemke-Year Farm Mortgage Moratorium bill, with a veto considered a strong possibility.

Although its sponsors were optimistic over chances of presidential approval, there were intimations among administration leaders to the contrary.

The measure—one of the most important bills passed in a history-making session—was swept through to the white house in a swift closing session fight.

Slash Interest Rates

The bill provides a means of slashing farm mortgage interest rates to one per cent a year for five years. Farm mortgage experts estimated the total interest bill could be slashed $840,000,000 a year under the bill.

Rep. Lemke (R) of North Dakota, predicted it would accomplish good for both creditors and debtors. Unless some similar measure is provided, he maintained, insurance companies and other holders of farm mortgages would suffer far greater losses.

Lemke estimated that present farm mortgage total on land is eight and one-half billions with about four billions of personal property. The law applies to both.

Federal Farm Credit

The bill, Lemke said, would force a scaling down of indebtedness and permit refinancing of mortgages through the federal farm credit administration. The administration has met difficulties in attempting to persuade creditors to scale down mortgages.

A movement is under way, Lemke disclosed, for passage of a similar bill in the next session of congress for relief of city debtors in the same manner.

No Bail Yet For Sanders

Sharon Man Still Confined To Jail Cell At Mercer

(International News Service)

MERCER, Pa., June 19— Still awaiting the outcome of his attorneys' efforts to arrange for his liberation, Homer S. Sanders, 43 confessed he cremated the body of four year old Leah Minerva Dilley, missing Sharon child, after he found her in a house fumigated, remained in his Mercer county jail cell here today.

Sanders is charged with involuntary manslaughter and with destroying a body.

Funeral services for the child, whose ashes and a few charred bones were pointed out by Sanders in a grove near Sharpsville, were held privately at Sharpsville yesterday afternoon. The gruesome fragments of her body were held pending Sander's trial.

Sanders, himself the family of four motherless children, was cheered today by the news that his tots were being cared for by their maternal grandmother.

Seven Hundred At RWD Outing

Athletic Events And Flag Raising Feature Park Picnic

Seven hundred persons attended the RWD employes outing held yesterday at Cascade Park. During the evening hours a flag raising was held. The flag was purchased by RWD workers of Cunningham park, Cascade boulevard and Cascade park. It was presented to Superintendent C. C. Coulthard by John Paul and the flag raising speech was made by C. W. Herman Hess. A drill was also staged by the ladies' auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign wars.

During the afternoon an athletic program was held and more than a score prizes were distributed.

The general chairman of the day was John Huffner who was assisted by committeemen as follows, Messrs. Huffner, Paul, Beltman, Aubel, Nicholson, Patton, Sweezy, Grove, Forlingger and Burns.

The men who picnicked yesterday were those who gave several days work free at Cascade Park so the stone entrance would be completely built before the park opened. They were accompanied to the park by their families.

INVITE AL WILLIAMS TO PARIS AIR MEET

OIL CITY, Pa., June 19.—Dr. A. W. Goodwin, 65, well known Oil City physician, died at his summer home near Diamond following a stroke suffered yesterday, it was learned here Monday.

He had practiced here since 1900.

He is survived by his widow, four children and two brothers, one of whom is Frank W. Goodwin, Pittsburgh school teacher.

HIGHWAYS MADE SAFER BY FRIGID WINTER WEATHER

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Strange as it sounds, the statement that the extremely cold weather experienced last winter may result in the saving of many lives on Massachusetts highways this summer is nevertheless true.

The Governor's Committee on street and highway safety says that high shrubbery at many an intersection will no longer prove an accident hazard to drivers by obstructing their view, as winter frosts have damaged the shrubbery to such an extent that it has been clipped close to the ground in order to save it from extinction.

Thus the weather has accomplished what the Governor's Safety Committee has long been trying to persuade residents at street intersections to do.

NDA FOR HORSES.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 18—NRA codes have reached many industries and trades, but it was hitherto unreported that they affected animals. Police Commissioner O'Ryan recently ordered all mounted cops to dismount 10 minutes every hour in order to give the horses a rest. Nothing was said about the minimum hourly wage for the beasts.

Eight Major Investigations To Be Made During Congress Recess

PREDICT GRAFT WILL BE REVEALED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Evidence of a sensational nature, involving graft and fraud and covering many activities, was predicted today by sponsors of eight major house investigations ordered to be made during congress recess.

The investigation will cover a wide field, embracing international as well as domestic affairs. The house authorized $170,000 to carry on the work.

Many Probes.

With some of the inquiries already under way, others will begin soon as congress adjourns. They include:

Interstate commerce sub-committee on oil situation. Sponsors say shippers of "hot oil", including both big and small oil companies, will be exposed, and theft of oil will be disclosed.

Sponsors of investigation of bondholders protective committees on real estate mortgages said privately evidence would disclose "rings" formed to buy defaulted mortgages at bargain prices. Committee plans to demand list of bondholders of defaulted mortgages, alleged in some instance to be kept by original sellers who use the list ot extort money from bondholders and obtain property cheaply.

Military affairs sub-committee investigating army contracts. One member asserted one army buyer was found to have banked $170,000 in one year.

Ways and means sub-committee authorized to investigate taxes will, said Rep. McFadden (R) of Pennsylvania, inquire into his charge of a ring between government employes and tax lawyers to defraud government of hundreds of millions in taxes.

Foreign affairs committee, named to investigate American dependence on foreign tin supply, will inquire into a charge of American tieup with British monopoly. A house member asserted the Mellon-owned Aluminum company would be involved in an undisclosed fashion. No wrongdoing is involved, he added.

Investigate Propaganda.

In addition the Nazi committee will explore charges of communist and Fascist propaganda in this country, along with its investigation of German propaganda, with important disclosures promised.

The judiciary sub-committee, which investigated bankruptcy courts in Chicago, has received charges from other cities, asserting federal courts have been "used to exact huge fees from bankrupt companies."

The veterans sub-committee, inquiring into handling of estates of insane guardians, has received new complaints of veterans' funds being lost through investments in which guardians are suspected of having an interest.

The house list of investigations is the longest since the early post-war days and has drawn complaint from members opposing expenditure of funds for the purpose.

Firemen To Be Paid For Cleaning Houses

County Will Pay City And Later Will Pay City Firemen

Council on Monday, upon motion of Safety Director D. O. Davies passed a motion which authorized Solicitor White to prepare the proper documents by which county commissioners and city will enter into an arrangement whereby the former can rent firehouses for election purposes.

Under the proposed plan the county will pay the city treasurer the rent and the firemen who clean the house after the elections will be paid for cleaning them by the city.

Sometime ago two firemen were suspended following an argument which grew out of work and payment in connection with the holding of election in a firehouse here.

After reading Governor Pinchot's article in The News the other day about the drastic increase of automobile accidents since the repeal of the 18th amendment, I endeavored to write a poem, entitled "Why Bring Back the Drink?"

It follows:

Why bring back the drink and cause man to fall,
Why bring back the drink and then put him in jail?
Do you think the punishment for his evil is fair
While you stand by and breathe the free air?
Or are you waiting for your dues by and by
When the God of the just shall judge from on high?
Hath not the Lord said in the Bible so plain,
"Thou are thy brother's keeper,"
Yes even to Cain!

Why bring back the drink and give man poison instead,
For the money he needs to buy him his bread?
Why give him that rot to destroy body and soul;
Weaken his mind which he cannot control;
Unsteady the powers of his foot and his hand
When he endeavors to travel the land;
Shatter his nerves and blur his eyes,
And send him to Hell when he's got to die?

Why give a man drink and destroy his sweet home,
The best place he can find wherein he doth roam;
Destroy that dear spot, rob the children so fair,
Of a father's good gifts, of his love and his care;
Break the homemaker's heart and give her instead,
A drunken husband and no roof and no bread;
No money, no nothing to cheer his dear life,
Only worry and heartaches, sorrow and strife?

Why bring back the drink and tempt your dear son,
To fill his clean body with whiskey and rum;
Destroy that temple that God has given him,
His spirit to dwell in and keep him from sin?
What can you do and what can you say,
When you've placed a stumbling block in his way?
His guilt is upon you, his blood on your head,
O what will become of you when you're dead?

Are you a wet or are you a dry,
Did you bring back the drink or did you half try,
To prevent this great master's return to our land?
O withhold the cup from your weak brother's hand
God pity us all for this terrible sin,
And help us at once a new life to begin.
Let us rise and stand and strengthen each other
And drive this curse from our weakened brother.

PLAN CONTROL OF JAPAN RAILWAYS IN ONE COMPANY

(International News Service)

TOKYO, June 19.—A gigantic limited company to take over the railways of Japan and float loans up to Yen 50,000,000,000 on the property is contemplated in an ambitious program of the government according to reliable information reaching International News Service.

Besides the so-called naval emergency, officials are said to believe a railway organization to include dozens of private lines, mostly electrified, would be of immense practical and financial value in a critical period.

By offering the railway bonds to the public sufficient money will be obtained to aid the government in its financing of emergency measures, it is pointed out.

TOKYO, June 19.—A gigantic limited company to take over the railways of Japan and float loans up to Yen 50,000,000,000 on the property is contemplated in an ambitious program of the government according to reliable information reaching International News Service.

Besides the so-called naval emergency, officials are said to believe a railway organization to include dozens of private lines, mostly electrified, would be of immense practical and financial value in a critical period.

By offering the railway bonds to the public sufficient money will be obtained to aid the government in its financing of emergency measures, it is pointed out.

Building Plans Made By Board

Hear Report Of Government Inspector; Authorize Purchase Of Materials

TAX COLLECTOR TO OBTAIN BOND

ELLWOOD CITY, June 19.—Further plans for the construction of the new wing to the local high school as a PWA project were discussed by the Board of Education at an adjourned meeting in the Lincoln school last night.

A government engineer, Herman Polss, who will act as inspector for the federal government made a report of his duties to the board. It developed that the board would have to employ an inspector of their own to keep a tab on things and see that they are done right.

Upon recommendation of the Building committee headed by Dr. H. E. Helling the board authorized the purchase of a number of materials that will be used in the construction work. Brick will be purchased from the Pearson Brick Company of New Castle which supplied the brick for the present Lincoln Building. It will be of a same type. Cement will be bought from the Universal Cement Company. The Truscon Company will supply U. S. Steel for the windows and other places. It was announced that the pouring of concrete for the foundation of the new wing was well on its way.

The board authorized a checkup of the first alarm system by Architect Byron McCandless who will see that the alarm can be sounded from any floor in the building.

The board voted to notify the 1934 tax collector, T. A. E. McConahy, that he produce his bond in 15 days. The commission of one-half of one percent for receiving and five percent for collecting was also set at this time. It is the same as last year.

Officers of the board were authorized to negotiate a loan of $5,000 if necessary to meet the June payroll. This may not be necessary as money is beginning to come in from surrounding townships. A check was received from Perry Township for $3800.

Steel Leaders Reach Capital For Conference

Union Steel Leaders With Tighe As Leader Call Upon Federal Officials

RECOGNITION IS BEING SOUGHT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Steel union leaders arrived at the capital today with the avowed aim of clarifying the still troublous labor situation in the industry and of furthering their fight for union recognition.

Headed by Mike F. Tighe, conservative president of the union, the workers' delegation expressed the hope that their proposal for a three-man mediation board, to be appointed by the president, would provide the ultimate solution of the situation.

Other members of the delegation, which went into conference with secretary of labor Perkins this morning, included Edward Miller, Thomas G. Gillis and Louis Leonard. They were shephered into Miss Perkins' office by William Green, A. F. of L., president, following an early morning meeting of the union leaders at the A. F. of L. headquarters here.

Counter-Proposal

"We are simply carrying out the instructions of the convention held in Pittsburgh last week." Green explained. "We are submitting to Secretary Perkins the counter-proposal of the steel workers.

"It is our hope that this counter-proposal will be submitted by the administration to the steel operators for acceptance and approval. If it is accepted, it will avert a strike and will establish cordial relations between the workers and the operators.

"It seems inconceivable that the steel magnates should reject this counter-proposal, which provides that President Roosevelt would appoint three persons who would have authority to call elections among steel employes to select bargaining representatives. It would also require steel operators to recognize for collective bargaining purposes the labor organization receiving a majority of employe votes in any given plant election."

Leaders Attend

In addition to Secretary Perkins and the labor leaders, Hugh Kerwin and James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliators, took part in the conference.

Although recurrent rumors have indicated the union leaders would confer with President Roosevelt, it was said at the White House this morning that no such meeting was in prospect. The president, however, was to confer with Secretary Perkins this afternoon and the assumption was that Miss Perkins would lay before her chief the gist of her discussions with the union leaders.

Chryse Chora was a name given by the ancients to a part of India comprising the present Burma and the northern part of Pegu.

Honest Officials Should Be Elected To Public Offices

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., June 19.—Selection of experienced, honest and efficient officials to administer the affairs of both state and local governments was emphasized today by Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, in an address before the opening session here of the annual convention of the State Association of Borough Officers.

"In both state and local government," said the attorney general, "it is imperative that we have at the helm officials who through experience and proved capacity have demonstrated their ability to direct affairs efficiently, economically and to the full advantage of the taxpayers."

Governor Nominee

Schnader's remarks were reminiscent of his recent successful campaign in the state primaries to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination. In that campaign he stressed his own long years of experience in public life as qualifying him for the job as governor.

The attorney general's address embraced a wide field of subjects, including the real estate tax burden, home rule, unemployment relief and co-ordination of police activities.

"At this time of stress," he asserted, "our goal is both difficult and worthy of our greatest effort. Specifically, it is to achive for the state, its subdivisions and its people that condition of prosperity and happiness which to a large degree existed before the depression and whose attainment represents the highest aim of government."

And Now Look At The Baby Film Folk Of Yesteryear!

Jackie Coogan earned $2,000,000 as a baby star and he lasted longer than most juvenile film folk. Now, at 12, he is out of the picture as a luminary.

The charming Baby Peggy of a few years ago finds that she can't get a part at 17, and recently took an extra job as a page in a Hollywood stage presentation.

In the old days of silents, Jane and Katherine Lee wowed 'em out of their seats. Now they are in vaudeville, with an occasional night club appearance thrown in.

Madge Evans is an exception to the rule that baby stars' careers are brief. She was a star at five years old and is one of the better known leading lights today.

Not long ago Wesley Barry was well up in the Hollywood money as a juvenile star. Now the young man is leading an orchestra.

Steel Leaders Reach Capital For Conference

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Steel union leaders arrived at the capital today with the avowed aim of clarifying the still troublous labor situation in the industry and of furthering their fight for union recognition.

Headed by Mike F. Tighe, conservative president of the union, the workers' delegation expressed the hope that their proposal for a three-man mediation board, to be appointed by the president, would provide the ultimate solution of the situation.

Other members of the delegation, which went into conference with secretary of labor Perkins this morning, included Edward Miller, Thomas G. Gillis and Louis Leonard. They were shephered into Miss Perkins' office by William Green, A. F. of L., president, following an early morning meeting of the union leaders at the A. F. of L. headquarters here.

Counter-Proposal

"We are simply carrying out the instructions of the convention held in Pittsburgh last week," Green explained. "We are submitting to Secretary Perkins the counter-proposal of the steel workers.

"It is our hope that this counter-proposal will be submitted by the administration to the steel operators for acceptance and approval. If it is accepted, it will avert a strike and will establish cordial relations between the workers and the operators.

"It seems inconceivable that the steel magnates should reject this counter-proposal, which provides that President Roosevelt would appoint three persons who would have authority to call elections among steel employes to select bargaining representatives. It would also require steel operators to recognize for collective bargaining purposes the labor organization receiving a majority of employe votes in any given plant election."

Leaders Attend

In addition to Secretary Perkins and the labor leaders, Hugh Kerwin and James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliators, took part in the conference.

Although recurrent rumors have indicated the union leaders would confer with President Roosevelt, it was said at the White House this morning that no such meeting was in prospect. The president, however, was to confer with Secretary Perkins this afternoon and the assumption was that Miss Perkins would lay before her chief the gist of her discussions with the union leaders.

Honest Officials Should Be Elected To Public Offices

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., June 19.—Selection of experienced, honest and efficient officials to administer the affairs of both state and local governments was emphasized today by Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, in an address before the opening session here of the annual convention of the State Association of Borough Officers.

"In both state and local government," said the attorney general, "it is imperative that we have at the helm officials who through experience and proved capacity have demonstrated their ability to direct affairs efficiently, economically and to the full advantage of the taxpayers."

Governor Nominee

Schnader's remarks were reminiscent of his recent successful campaign in the state primaries to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination. In that campaign he stressed his own long years of experience in public life as qualifying him for the job as governor.

The attorney general's address embraced a wide field of subjects, including the real estate tax burden, home rule, unemployment relief and co-ordination of police activities.

"At this time of stress," he asserted, "our goal is both difficult and worthy of our greatest effort. Specifically, it is to achive for the state, its subdivisions and its people that condition of prosperity and happiness which to a large degree existed before the depression and whose attainment represents the highest aim of government."

And Now Look At The Baby Film Folk Of Yesteryear!

Jackie Coogan earned $2,000,000 as a baby star and he lasted longer than most juvenile film folk. Now, at 12, he is out of the picture as a luminary.

The charming Baby Peggy of a few years ago finds that she can't get a part at 17, and recently took an extra job as a page in a Hollywood stage presentation.

In the old days of silents, Jane and Katherine Lee wowed 'em out of their seats. Now they are in vaudeville, with an occasional night club appearance thrown in.

Madge Evans is an exception to the rule that baby stars' careers are brief She was a star at five years old and is one of the better known leading lights today.

Not long ago Wesley Barry was well up in the Hollywood money as a juvenile star. Now the young man is leading an orchestra.

Building Plans Made By Board

TAX COLLECTOR TO OBTAIN BOND

ELLWOOD CITY, June 19.—Further plans for the construction of the new wing to the local high school as a PWA project were discussed by the Board of Education at an adjourned meeting in the Lincoln school last night.

A government engineer, Herman Polss, who will act as inspector for the federal government made a report of his duties to the board. It developed that the board would have to employ an inspector of their own to keep a tab on things and see that they are done right.

Upon recommendation of the Building committee headed by Dr. H. E. Helling the board authorized the purchase of a number of materials that will be used in the construction work. Brick will be purchased from the Pearson Brick Company of New Castle which supplied the brick for the present Lincoln Building. It will be of a same type. Cement will be bought from the Universal Cement Company. The Truscon Company will supply U. S. Steel for the windows and other places. It was announced that the pouring of concrete for the foundation of the new wing was well on its way.

The board authorized a checkup of the first alarm system by Architect Byron McCandless who will see that the alarm can be sounded from any floor in the building.

The board voted to notify the 1934 tax collector, T. A. E. McConahy, that he produce his bond in 15 days. The commission of one-half of one percent for receiving and five percent for collecting was also set at this time. It is the same as last year.

Officers of the board were authorized to negotiate a loan of $5,000 if necessary to meet the June payroll. This may not be necessary as money is beginning to come in from surrounding townships. A check was received from Perry Township for $3800.

It would also require steel operators to recognize for collective bargaining purposes the labor organization receiving a majority of employe votes in any given plant election."

Leaders Attend

In addition to Secretary Perkins and the labor leaders, Hugh Kerwin and James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliators, took part in the conference.

Although recurrent rumors have indicated the union leaders would confer with President Roosevelt, it was said at the White House this morning that no such meeting was in prospect. The president, however, was to confer with Secretary Perkins this afternoon and the assumption was that Miss Perkins would lay before her chief the gist of her discussions with the union leaders.

Chryse Chora was a name given by the ancients to a part of India comprising the present Burma and the northern part of Pegu.

Honest Officials Should Be Elected To Public Offices

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., June 19.—Selection of experienced, honest and efficient officials to administer the affairs of both state and local governments was emphasized today by Attorney General William A. Schnader, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, in an address before the opening session here of the annual convention of the State Association of Borough Officers.

"In both state and local government," said the attorney general, "it is imperative that we have at the helm officials who through experience and proved capacity have demonstrated their ability to direct affairs efficiently, economically and to the full advantage of the taxpayers."

Governor Nominee

Schnader's remarks were reminiscent of his recent successful campaign in the state primaries to win the Republican gubernatorial nomination. In that campaign he stressed his own long years of experience in public life as qualifying him for the job as governor.

The attorney general's address embraced a wide field of subjects, including the real estate tax burden, home rule, unemployment relief and co-ordination of police activities.

"At this time of stress," he asserted, "our goal is both difficult and worthy of our greatest effort. Specifically, it is to achive for the state, its subdivisions and its people that condition of prosperity and happiness which to a large degree existed before the depression and whose attainment represents the highest aim of government."

And Now Look At The Baby Film Folk Of Yesteryear!

Jackie Coogan earned $2,000,000 as a baby star and he lasted longer than most juvenile film folk. Now, at 12, he is out of the picture as a luminary.

The charming Baby Peggy of a few years ago finds that she can't get a part at 17, and recently took an extra job as a page in a Hollywood stage presentation.

In the old days of silents, Jane and Katherine Lee wowed 'em out of their seats. Now they are in vaudeville, with an occasional night club appearance thrown in.

Madge Evans is an exception to the rule that baby stars' careers are brief. She was a star at five years old and is one of the better known leading lights today.

Not long ago Wesley Barry was well up in the Hollywood money as a juvenile star. Now the young man is leading an orchestra.

Phoney Prince Declares Love For Young Girl

PRINCE THREATENS TO COMMIT SUICIDE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19—The drama of the Prince and the Poetess, whose Greenwich Village romance was rudely interrupted yesterday when they were found after a fortnight's search, was to be unrolled today in the not-so-romantic atmosphere of West Side court.

The Poetess, 18-year-old Louise Krist, may be sent to an institution as a wayward minor. The middle-aged Pseudo Prince, Childe De Rohan D'Harcourt, whose poetry was generally adjudged to be as bad as his police record, may be held on a charge of seduction. But both claim their "monumental" love will conquer all; that they will be married and persue their artistic careers elsewhere.

Ignoring the pleas of her distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krist, the counterfit prince's "little rosebud" declared she would stick to the ex-wife-beater, attempted extortionist and master of mixed metaphors. The seedy-looking 48-year-old D'Harcourt, equally devoted, threatened to kill himself if "we are kept irretrievably apart," but as an afterthought, offered up a prayer to Allah for freedom.

House Of Frohman Plans To Move Out Of Theatre World

Daniel Frohman To Vacate Old Office Over Lyceum Theatre

By DIXIE TIGHE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 19—The House of Frohman opened its doors to the theater world forty-two years ago. In all those years it found room only for plays of merit, taste and distinction. No unworthy production ever slipped by its doorkeeper, Charles Frohman, whose life was lost when the Lusitania sank.

Today the House of Frohman is preparing to move out of the theater world. Its glamor is being readied for reminiscence. The famous, remote office where Charles Frohman often talked with Maude Adams, Ethel Barrymore, John Drew, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks—name any star of two decades ago—is being stripped of the things that he cherished; things that will pass to museums, or be swiftly acquired by collectors.

Daniel Frohman is the sole living member of the famous Frohman trio, Daniel, Gustave and Charles—sons of Sandusky, Ohio, but he has no desire to rescue Charles Frohman, Inc., from its intent to become a memory. Indeed, Daniel Frohman is almost ready to call the Daniel Frohman productions a thing of the past. But, he plans the inevitable "Just one more production."

Daniel Frohman's office is over the gallery of the old Lyceum theater, a dreary fronted building made incongruously alive by the hearty photographs from "Sailors Beware", the rowdy play that is housed in Daniel Frohman's Lyceum theater. The walls of his office are papered in photographs of great names in the photograph. And some day he knows they will go the way of "Brother Charles'" treasures.

His thoughts wandered to the successes of the House of Frohman, he talked earnestly of the problems, the mistakes that he feels are in the theater of today. Quite suddenly he reverted to Charles—

"You know he never made contracts. He trusted everyone. They trusted him. I used to tell him it was bad business. I always liked to get everything down on paper—but Charles never would do more than have an agreeable talk with his stars, playwrights—"

A few blocks away from the almost antiquated office of Daniel Frohman is the modern, high speed advertising office of Louis H. Frohman, son of Gustave Frohman, the brother who managed the road companies.

His father and his uncles wanted him to carry on. But he felt he was a born advertising man and he preferred to test his predilection rather than bow to the family influence. Even the passing of the House of Frohman has brought him no regret at his decision.

"I know all the great stars since childhood— but I'm afraid the theater was never in my blood."

Charge Boys Tried To Wreck Train

Trio Accused At Camden, N. J.—Freight Train Saves Passengers

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., June 19.—Accused of trying to wreck an express train, running between Atlantic City and Camden, three boys were under arrest here today.

The three young prisoners—Frank Lilley, 15; Edward Kirth, 13, and Edward Kane, 14—were charged with having attempted to wreck a train of eleven coaches, filled with passengers, which left Atlantic City for Camden late last Friday night.

According to police the Kirth and Kane boys looked on while the Lilley lad pushed two heavy metal tie plates, used for fastening rails together, between the tracks and guide rails on the Thurman street bridge here.

The only thing that saved the express from a disastrous derailment was the fact that a slow frieght train passed over the spot just before the passenger carrier came along, flattening the obstruction, according to railroad officials.

Young Lilley was held without bail, while the other two boys were released in custody of their parents.

Sea Monster In Lake Michigan Is Only Young Seal

Sickly Baby Seal Is Thrown Into Lake Michigan And Scares Fishermen

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 19—All the mystery surrounding Lake Michigan's sea monster was stripped away today. It was only little Oscar, a sickly baby seal that couldn't make the grade at Shedd aquarium.

Instead of being upwards of seven feet in length, as fisherman reported, little Oscar measures but three feet from stem to stern.

A soft hearted keeper of the seals at the aquarium is responsible for Oscar's presence in the lake. Anaemic and showing little promise of growing up, Oscar was condemned to death by Walter Chute, director. But keeper Ted Barron, rather than kill the animal, secretly tossed him into the lake.

New Court Action In Series, Result Of Talking Pictures

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19—Another suit was filed in federal court here today in the long series of court actions since the development of talking pictures.

The plaintiff was Standard Sound Reporting Corp. and the defendants American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the Western Electric Co. and the latter wholly owned subsidiary, Electrical research Products Inc.

Seven actions were filed asking total damages of $22,500,000 based on allegations of restraint of trade and unfair competition in the talking picture field. The suits parallel four other recent actions.

The reason for the suits was the long term contracts which Western Electric has with thousands of theatres for equipment and servicing.

New York City directories have a standard sound recording corp. listed on East 38th street, but a telephone call revealed that the firm has since moved. There is no Standard Sound Reporting Corp. listed.

Hitler Aide Is Closely Guarded While At Harvard

Attends Twenty-Fifth Reunion Of Class And Banters Over Olden Days

RABBI NEARLY R CAUSES RIOT

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, June 19.—Resigned to the shadow of his police bodyguard disguised in costumes of the Harvard class of '09, Dr. Ernest Franz Sedgwick Hanfstaengl, Hitler's aide and closest friend, today did the social rounds and bantered over the good old days with his classmates at their twenty-fifth reunion.

"Putzy," as his classmates called him when he was playing pranks in the Harvard yard, was somewhat bewildered by the precautions taken for his protection from Anti-Nazi demonstrators.

The arrival in the Harvard yard by Rabbi Joseph S. Shubow, of Boston, also a Harvard graduate, almost caused a riot call.

Refuses To Talk

"My people wish to know what your reported statement means that everything would soon be settled for the Jews in Germany," said Rabbi Shubow, in a trembling, intense voice. "What does it mean—extermination?"

"No, no, no," replied Dr. Hanfstaengl. "I can not talk politics. I am here on a vacation."

The Harvard yard police went into action. They literally dragged "Putzy" away from his friends, his questioner, and very nearly from the reunion festivities. The area was blocked off. Trees were searched and spectators questioned. Rabbi Shubow was as bewildered as Dr. Hanfstaengl.

Aside from a dozen postcards received by the university from a group of radicals in New York protesting against Harvard paying tribute to Hitler's press chief, there were no further incidents to mar the sensational journey of "Putzy."

State Repaving Washington Street

Begin Work On Repaving Cartway In Business Section Monday

Work was started on the repaving of Washington street, in the main business section of the city Monday afternoon, by employes of the State Highway Department. The street has been torn up between the Diamond and Mercer street, and heavy paving block has been placed at that point, which will replace the old worn bricks.

The work was started following the completion of the repaving work between Beaver street and the West Washington street bridge.

Work was started a year ago, on the repaving of the street, but was discontinued when funds were exhausted. The work is now to be carried forward to completion, it is stated.

NEGROES FINED FOR MISCONDUCT

Township Trouble Leads To Pair's Arrest; Plead Guilty Here

Two negroes who gave East St. Louis, Ill., as their home address, were haled before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing this morning by State Highway Corporal L. J. Lawton and Constable Robert McClenahan of Pulaski township on charges of violating the state's motor code and disorderly conduct in the New Bedford district last night.

The pair was arrested on a dirt road leading toward Struthers, O., in the vicinity of the Villa Marie convent.

Martin Ellis was charged with parking his machine too close to the highway and parking it with no headlights burning and with misconduct while Clarence Thompson was charged with being drunk and disorderly. It is said the two became loud and boisterous when their car became disabled.

The pair pleaded guilty when arraigned and Alderman Ewing fined Ellis $5 and costs for misconduct, and $10 each on two motor code violations. He paid it. Thompson paid a fine of $5 for disorderly conduct. Both were discharged.

How To Be Pretty Without Medicines

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19—Dr. Emlyn Jones statistician in the state health department, suggests that courtesy is a more effective prescription for obtaining healthy, youthfulness in appearance than are "pills and potions and facial treatments."

Declaring it is self evident that a pleasant state of mind aids the body's performance Dr. Jones said:

"The courteous person, therefore, is much more likely to have health of mind and body, to be content, to be youthful and attractive, than a person who is discourteous. And many a person who seeks diligently for health or youth would surely find courtesy a much more effective prescription than pills and potions and facial treatments, upon which they now place great dependence."

Good manners, Dr. Jones added, cannot be learned once and then be put on and taken off like a cloak. "They must be altered, added to, kept in repair, made use of all the time."

Lindberghs, Tunneys Buying Baby Things

NEW YORK, June 19.—The Daily News says the stork is expected in two famous American families, those of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Gene Tunney.

Confirmation was withheld at both households. The News says, "friends of both families made no secret of the fact that both are laying in fresh supplies of baby clothes."

Col. Lindbergh has one son, Jon Morrow, born after his first child was killed by kidnapers, and Tunney, the former heavyweight boxing champion, also has one son, Gene Lauder Tunney.

President Is Preparing For His Vacation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19—President Roosevelt today prepared for a trip which will, in effect, begin his long summer vacation.

He planned to leave tonight for New Haven, Conn., where tomorrow he will receive a degree from Yale. During the day the president will attend an alumni luncheon and probably will make a brief informal talk.

Immediately after the day's schedule at Yale is concluded he will board the government yacht Sequoita, which has been sent north and begin a leisurely cruise to New London, Conn.

On Friday, from the Sequoia's decks, Mr. Roosevelt will watch his son Franklin, Jr., row with the Harvard freshmen crew against Yale at New London. That he will board a train for his Hyde Park, N. Y. home where he plans to spend one or two days resting.

From Hyde Park Mr. Roosevelt will return to the White House, to clean up odds and ends of work before leaving on a trip to Puerta Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Hawaii.

The Hawaiian trip will begin June 30, under present plans.

Washington will see little of the president during the hot months. Soon after returning here from Hawaii, about August 5, the executive will go north to his Hyde Park home. He will remain there for the rest of the month. At least possibly until the middle of September.

New Publication Severely Scored

"The Blue Eagle" Is Name Of Publication Appearing In Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Appearance of the first issues of the NRA's new publication "The Blue Eagle," today challenged the regulatory powers of the joint congressional committee on printing.

The publication in its first two numbers carries advertisements of several department stores, in direct conflict with the committee's regulations regarding government documents and publications.

The advertisements carried in "The Blue Eagle," are reprinted from newspapers in various sections of the country, and evidently are carried gratis in the NRA weekly newspaper, but the regulatory language of the committee does not allow any kind of advertising in any document or publication emanating from the government printing office.

Girls At Camp To Dramatize Tales Tonight

Camp East Brook Youngsters Form "Cabins" On Opening Day And Name Them

The crew of young girls who entered Camp East Brook Monday afternoon are already thoroughly acclimatized and are intently interested in the program of activities outlined for them.

After they were settled in their quarters, weighed and examined by a physician, the girls (most of whom are between the ages of 8 and 11 years) chose names of fairy tales to designate their "cabins." In each "cabin" there are about six girls. The names they chose included Sleeping Beauty, Snow White, Goldilocks, Cinderella, Fur Ball, Enchanted Gypsy, Hansel and Gretel.

Tonight after dinner the girls of each cabin will dramatize the fairy tale from which their respective cabins are named. This morning the honor star for neatness went to the Hansel and Gretel cabin.

Use Ambulance For Robbery

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 19.—Enterprising thieves baffled the countryside Monday when officers at Clendemn, near here, determined that the ambulance which shrieked its way back and forth Sunday night was carrying about 1,000 gallons of gasoline from a South Penn filling station.

The J. E. Hafer mortuary discovered the loss when Hafer found that his ambulance was missing. Its tracks led to the looted filling station. Several miles away he found the abandoned ambulance, its siren broken.

The thieves had robbed the station, taken the gas to the outskirts of town, and transferred it to another car.

NEW YORK, June 19—Another suit was filed in federal court here today in the long series of court actions since the development of talking pictures.

The plaintiff was Standard Sound Reporting Corp and the defendants American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the Western Electric Co. and the latter wholly owned subsidiary, Electrical research Products Inc.

Seven actions were filed asking total damages of $22,500,000 based on allegations of restraint of trade and unfair competition in the talking picture field. The suits parallel four other recent actions.

The reason for the suits was the long term contracts which Western Electric has with thousands of theatres for equipment and servicing.

New York City directories have a standard sound recording corp. listed on East 38th street, but a telephone call revealed that the firm has since moved. There is no Standard Sound Reporting Corp. listed.

Hitler Aide Is Closely Guarded While At Harvard

Attends Twenty-Fifth Reunion Of Class And Banters Over Olden Days

RABBI NEARLY R CAUSES RIOT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, June 19.—Resigned to the shadow of his police bodyguard disguised in costumes of the Harvard class of '09, Dr. Ernest Franz Sedgwick Hanfsaengl, Hitler's aide and closest friend, today did the social rounds and bantered over the good old days with his classmates at their twenty-fifth reunion.

"Putzy," as his classmates called him when he was playing pranks in the Harvard yard, was somewhat bewildered by the precautions taken for his protection from Anti-Nazi demonstrators.

The arrival in the Harvard yard by Rabbi Joseph S. Shubow, of Boston, also a Harvard graduate, almost caused a riot call.

Refuses To Talk

"My people wish to know what your reported statement means that everything would soon be settled for the Jews in Germany," said Rabbi Shubow, in a trembling, intense voice. "What does it mean—extermination?"

"No, no, no," replied Dr. Hanfstaengl. "I can not talk politics. I am here on a vacation."

The Harvard yard police went into action. They literally dragged "Putzy" away from his friends, his questioner, and very nearly from the reunion festivities. The area was blocked off. Trees were searched and spectators questioned. Rabbi Shubow was as bewildered as Dr. Hanfstaengl.

Aside from a dozen postcards received by the university from a group of radicals in New York protesting against Harvard paying tribute to Hitler's press chief, there were no further incidents to mar the sensational journey of "Putzy."

State Repaving Washington Street

Begin Work On Repaving Cartway In Business Section Monday

Work was started on the repaving of Washington street, in the main business section of the city Monday afternoon, by employes of the State Highway Department. The street has been torn up between the Diamond and Mercer street, and heavy paving block has been placed at that point, which will replace the old worn bricks.

The work was started following the completion of the repaving work between Beaver street and the West Washington street bridge.

Work was started a year ago, on the repaving of the street, but was discontinued when funds were exhausted. The work is now to be carried forward to completion, it is stated.

NEGROES FINED FOR MISCONDUCT

Township Trouble Leads To Pair's Arrest; Plead Guilty Here

Two negroes who gave East St. Louis, Ill., as their home address, were haled before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing this morning by State Highway Corporal L. J. Lawton and Constable Robert McClenahan of Pulaski township on charges of violating the state's motor code and disorderly conduct in the New Bedford district last night.

The pair was arrested on a dirt road leading toward Struthers, O., in the vicinity of the Villa Marie convent.

Martin Ellis was charged with parking his machine too close to the highway and parking it with no headlights burning and with misconduct while Clarence Thompson was charged with being drunk and disorderly. It is said the two became loud and boisterous when their car became disabled.

The pair pleaded guilty when arraigned and Alderman Ewing fined Ellis $5 and costs for misconduct, and $10 each on two motor code violations. He paid it. Thompson paid a fine of $5 for disorderly conduct. Both were discharged.

How To Be Pretty Without Medicines

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 19—Dr. Emlyn Jones statistician in the state health department, suggests that courtesy is a more effective prescription for obtaining healthy, youthfulness in appearance than are "pills and potions and facial treatments."

Declaring it is self evident that a pleasant state of mind aids the body's performance Dr. Jones said:

"The courteous person, therefore, is much more likely to have health of mind and body, to be content, to be youthful and attractive, than a person who is discourteous. And many a person who seeks diligently for health or youth would surely find courtesy a much more effective prescription than pills and potions and facial treatments, upon which they now place great dependence."

Good manners, Dr. Jones added, cannot be learned once and then be put on and taken off like a cloak. "They must be altered, added to, kept in repair, made use of all the time."

President Is Preparing For His Vacation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19—President Roosevelt today prepared for a trip which will, in effect, begin his long summer vacation.

He planned to leave tonight for New Haven, Conn., where tomorrow he will receive a degree from Yale. During the day the president will attend an alumni luncheon and probably will make a brief informal talk.

Immediately after the day's schedule at Yale is concluded he will board the government yacht Sequoita, which has been sent north and begin a leisurely cruise to New London, Conn.

On Friday, from the Sequoia's decks, Mr. Roosevelt will watch his son Franklin, Jr., row with the Harvard freshmen crew against Yale at New London. That he will board a train for his Hyde Park, N. Y. home where he plans to spend one or two days resting.

From Hyde Park Mr. Roosevelt will return to the White House, to clean up odds and ends of work before leaving on a trip to Puerta Rico, the Virgin Islands, aind Hawaii.

The Hawaiian trip will begin June 30, under present plans.

Washington will see little of the president during the hot months. Soon after returning here from Hawaii, about August 5, the executive will go north to his Hyde Park home. He will remain there for the rest of the month. At least possibly until the middle of September.

New Publication Severely Scored

"The Blue Eagle" Is Name Of Publication Appearing In Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Appearance of the first issues of the NRA's new publication "The Blue Eagle," today challenged the regulatory powers of the joint congressional committee on printing.

The publication in its first two numbers carries advertisements of several department stores, in direct conflict with the committee's regulations regarding government documents and publications.

The advertisements carried in "The Blue Eagle," are reprinted from newspapers in various sections of the country, and evidently are carried gratis in the NRA weekly newspaper, but the regulatory language of the committee does not allow any kind of advertising in any document or publication emanating from the government printing office.

Girls At Camp To Dramatize Tales Tonight

Camp East Brook Youngsters Form "Cabins" On Opening Day And Name Them

The crew of young girls who entered Camp East Brook Monday afternoon are already thoroughly acclimatized and are intently interested in the program of activities outlined for them.

After they were settled in their quarters, weighed and examined by a physician, the girls (most of whom are between the ages of 8 and 11 years) chose names of fairy tales to designate their "cabins." In each "cabin" there are about six girls. The names they chose included Sleeping Beauty, Snow White, Goldilocks, Cinderella, Fur Ball, Enchanted Gypsy, Hansel and Gretel.

Tonight after dinner the girls of each cabin will dramatize the fairy tale from which their respective cabins are named. This morning the honor star for neatness went to the Hansel and Gretel cabin.

Use Ambulance For Robbery

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 19.—Enterprising thieves baffled the countryside Monday when officers at Clendemn, near here, determined that the ambulance which shrieked its way back and forth Sunday night was carrying about 1,000 gallons of gasoline from a South Penn filling station.

The J. E. Hafer mortuary discovered the loss when Hafer found that his ambulance was missing. Its tracks led to the looted filling station. Several miles away he found the abandoned ambulance, its siren broken.

The thieves had robbed the station, taken the gas to the outskirts of town, and transferred it to another car.

Phoney Prince Declares Love For Young Girl

PRINCE THREATENS TO COMMIT SUICIDE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19—The drama of the Prince and the Poetess, whose Greenwich Village romance was rudely interrupted yesterday when they were found after a fortnight's search, was to be unrolled today in the not-so-romantic atmosphere of West Side court.

The Poetess, 18-year-old Louise Krist, may be sent to an institution as a wayward minor. The middle-aged Pseudo Prince, Childe De Rohan D'Harcourt, whose poetry was generally adjudged to be as bad as his police record, may be held on a charge of seduction. But both claim their "monumental" love will conquer all; that they will be married and persue their artistic careers elsewhere.

Ignoring the pleas of her distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krist, the counterfit prince's "little rosebud" declared she would stick to the ex-wife-beater, attempted extortionist and master of mixed metaphors. The seedy-looking 48-year-old D'Harcourt, equally devoted, threatened to kill himself if "we are kept irretrievably apart," but as an afterthought, offered up a prayer to Allah for freedom.

House Of Frohman Plans To Move Out Of Theatre World

Daniel Frohman To Vacate Old Office Over Lyceum Theatre

By DIXIE TIGHE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 19—The House of Frohman opened its doors to the theater world forty-two years ago. In all those years it found room only for plays of merit, taste and distinction. No unworthy production ever slipped by its doorkeeper, Charles Frohman, whose life was lost when the Lusitania sank.

Today the House of Frohman is preparing to move out of the theater world. Its glamor is being readied for reminiscence. The famous, remote office where Charles Frohman often talked with Maude Adams, Ethel Barrymore, John Drew, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks—name any star of two decades ago—is being stripped of the things that he cherished; things that will pass to museums, or be swiftly acquired by collectors.

Daniel Frohman is the sole living member of the famous Frohman trio, Daniel, Gustave and Charles—sons of Sandusky, Ohio, but he has no desire to rescue Charles Frohman, Inc., from its intent to become a memory. Indeed, Daniel Frohman is almost ready to call the Daniel Frohman productions a thing of the past. But, he plans the inevitable "Just one more production."

Daniel Frohman's office is over the gallery of the old Lyceum theater, a dreary fronted building made incongruously alive by the hearty photographs from "Sailors Beware", the rowdy play that is housed in Daniel Frohman's Lyceum theater. The walls of his office are papered in photographs of great names in the photograph. And some day he knows they will go the way of "Brother Charles'" treasures.

His thoughts wandered to the successes of the House of Frohman, he talked earnestly of the problems, the mistakes that he feels are in the theater of today. Quite suddenly he reverted to Charles—

"You know he never made contracts. He trusted everyone. They trusted him. I used to tell him it was bad business. I always liked to get everything down on paper—but Charles never would do more than have an agreeable talk with his stars, playwrights—"

A few blocks away from the almost antiquated office of Daniel Frohman is the modern, high speed advertising office of Louis H. Frohman, son of Gustave Frohman, the brother who managed the road companies.

His father and his uncles wanted him to carry on. But he felt he was a born advertising man and he preferred to test his predilection rather than bow to the family influence. Even the passing of the House of Frohman has brought him no regret at his decision.

"I know all the great stars since childhood— but I'm afraid the theater was never in my blood."

Trio Accused At Camden, N. J.—Freight Train Saves Passengers

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., June 19.—Accused of trying to wreck an express train, running between Atlantic City and Camden, three boys were under arrest here today.

The three young prisoners—Frank Lilley, 15; Edward Kirth, 13, and Edward Kane, 14—were charged with having attempted to wreck a train of eleven coaches, filled with passengers, which left Atlantic City for Camden late last Friday night.

According to police the Kirth and Kane boys looked on while the Lilley lad pushed two heavy metal tie plates, used for fastening rails together, between the tracks and guide rails on the Thurman street bridge here.

The only thing that saved the express from a disastrous derailment was the fact that a slow frieght train passed over the spot just before the passenger carrier came along, flattening the obstruction, according to railroad officials.

Young Lilley was held without bail, while the other two boys were released in custody of their parents.

He will remain at the Naval Academy to pursue his studies.

Sickly Baby Seal Is Thrown Into Lake Michigan And Scares Fishermen

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 19—All the mystery surrounding Lake Michigan's sea monster was stripped away today. It was only little Oscar, a sickly baby seal that couldn't make the grade at Shedd aquarium.

Instead of being upwards of seven feet in length, as fisherman reported, little Oscar measures but three feet from stem to stern.

A soft hearted keeper of the seals at the aquarium is responsible for Oscar's presence in the lake. Anaemic and showing little promise of growing up, Oscar was condemned to death by Walter Chute, director. But keeper Ted Barron, rather than kill the animal, secretly tossed him into the lake.

WASHINGTON, June 19—President Roosevelt today prepared for a trip which will, in effect, begin his long summer vacation.

He planned to leave tonight for New Haven, Conn., where tomorrow he will receive a degree from Yale. During the day the president will attend an alumni luncheon and probably will make a brief informal talk.

Immediately after the day's schedule at Yale is concluded he will board the government yacht Sequoita, which has been sent north and begin a leisurely cruise to New London, Conn.

On Friday, from the Sequoia's decks, Mr. Roosevelt will watch his son Franklin, Jr., row with the Harvard freshmen crew against Yale at New London. That he will board a train for his Hyde Park, N. Y. home where he plans to spend one or two days resting.

From Hyde Park Mr. Roosevelt will return to the White House, to clean up odds and ends of work before leaving on a trip to Puerta Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Hawaii.

The Hawaiian trip will begin June 30, under present plans.

Washington will see little of the president during the hot months. Soon after returning here from Hawaii, about August 5, the executive will go north to his Hyde Park home. He will remain there for the rest of the month. At least possibly until the middle of September.

New Publication Severely Scored

"The Blue Eagle" Is Name Of Publication Appearing In Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Appearance of the first issues of the NRA's new publication "The Blue Eagle," today challenged the regulatory powers of the joint congressional committee on printing.

The publication in its first two numbers carries advertisements of several department stores, in direct conflict with the committee's regulations regarding government documents and publications.

The advertisements carried in "The Blue Eagle," are reprinted from newspapers in various sections of the country, and evidently are carried gratis in the NRA weekly newspaper, but the regulatory language of the committee does not allow any kind of advertising in any document or publication emanating from the government printing office.

Girls At Camp To Dramatize Tales Tonight

Camp East Brook Youngsters Form "Cabins" On Opening Day And Name Them

The crew of young girls who entered Camp East Brook Monday afternoon are already thoroughly acclimatized and are intently interested in the program of activities outlined for them.

After they were settled in their quarters, weighed and examined by a physician, the girls (most of whom are between the ages of 8 and 11 years) chose names of fairy tales to designate their "cabins." In each "cabin" there are about six girls. The names they chose included Sleeping Beauty, Snow White, Goldilocks, Cinderella, Fur Ball, Enchanted Gypsy, Hansel and Gretel.

Tonight after dinner the girls of each cabin will dramatize the fairy tale from which their respective cabins are named. This morning the honor star for neatness went to the Hansel and Gretel cabin.

Use Ambulance For Robbery

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 19.—Enterprising thieves baffled the countryside Monday when officers at Clendemn, near here, determined that the ambulance which shrieked its way back and forth Sunday night was carrying about 1,000 gallons of gasoline from a South Penn filling station.

The J. E. Hafer mortuary discovered the loss when Hafer found that his ambulance was missing. Its tracks led to the looted filling station. Several miles away he found the abandoned ambulance, its siren broken.

The thieves had robbed the station, taken the gas to the outskirts of town, and transferred it to another car.

Arrange For Convenience Of Alumni Members

Committees Will Take Care Of Comfort Of Alumni At Reunion Thursday

DATE IS EXTENDED ON RESERVATIONS

Splendid arrangements have been made for the convenience and comfort of the members of the New Castle High School Alumni, at the annual reunion on Thursday, June 21, in the Cathedral.

Guests, as soon as they arrive, will be escorted to the dining room, where they may be seated and enjoy the company of their friends and classmates until the hour for serving the banquet, it was announced today.

Can Still Buy Tickets

Owing to the fact that more reservations have been received than tickets purchased, the date for purchasing tickets has been advanced to Wednesday evening, after which time, no more tickets will be sold. It is absolutely necessary that the committee know how many expect to attend, in order that dinner may be provided for them without anyone being stinted, as has been the case several times in the past.

Any person having flowers which they can contribute for the table decorations, is asked to notify Paul F. Butz, Bob Weingartner, Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, Mrs. John A. Elliott, or Miss Hattie Welch. These flowers will be called for.

Miss Dorothy Kinney has been named sponsor of the June class of 1929, in place of Mrs. Lucille M. McGoun, who was unable to serve.

Other Committees

The reception committee is composed of President Marjorie Rhodes, vice president, Earl T. Ramsey, treasurer, John D. Kennedy; and Secretary Elizabeth Brudin, with the special guests, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Green, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Orth, and the presidents of the reunion classes, that is those which graduated in five or multiples of five years ago; They are James Goodchild and Heber Baldwin of the 1934 classes, Otto Pearsall, Paul Arrow, Ralph Cooper, Attorney John Powers, Ira M. Ramsey, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mrs. Robert B. Jameson and Mrs. Carmi Glover.

The aides are: Eleanor Galbreath chairman; Rhoda Leslie, Kathryn Boston, Martha Jo McGoun, Eleanor Blanning, Mrs. James Hinish, Anastasia Barnes, Helen Blaha, Gretchen Smith, and Jean Twaddle.

The Marshall are: Charles Nolan, chairman, James Elder, David McBride, Tom Stevenson, Charles Campbell, Herbert Stevenson, and John Stump.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Branstretter's orchestra, while John Haley Phillips and his orchestra will furnish the music at the dinner and program.

Bill Will Affect Railroaders Here

Crosseh Bill Ready For Roosevelt's Signature; Covers All Employes

New Castle's railroad employes and the rest who constitute the nation's million and more railroad employes will be placed on a new federally supervised retirement-pension system once President Roosevelt signs his name to the Crossch bill, sent to him by Congress last week.

The new legislation, which takes effect on the first day of the second month after Mr. Roosevelt approves it, has been designed to increase employment on the railroads by a compulsory retirement system.

The railroads, it is reported, would contribute twice as much to the pension fund as their employes. Under the bill retirement is compulsory at 65 years of age but may come after 30 years' service.

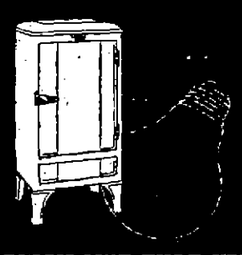
Ours is a Frigidaire '34"



HERE IS A FRIGIDAIRE THAT USES LESS CURRENT THAN ONE ORDINARY LAMP BULB — LESS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE OF REFRIGERATOR

The Frigidaire illustrated directly above is Model Standard 434

Lifetime porcelain, inside and out—with stainless porcelain in the food compartment. No wonder everyone's talking about the Super Series Frigidaire '34, and calling it the finest refrigerator ever created by Frigidaire and General Motors engineers!

And this Frigidaire '34 makes more ice . . . holds more food . . . has a dozen other wonderful, new conveniences.

It has automatic reset defrosting; automatic ice-tray release; the new Sliding Utility Basket for eggs and small articles; and the Frigidaire Servashelf that's so convenient when rearranging things in the refrigerator.

Nor is that all! . . . double Hydrator capacity; interior lighting; faster freezing; extra room for tall bottles. And the powerful, quiet motor operates on so little current!

When you see it, you will quickly realize why the Frigidaire '34 is so popular. And you'll be surprised when you hear how amazingly easy it is to own one. We'd like to have you drop in at one of the showrooms listed below and learn the interesting details.

Within a few days resurfacing of streets and alleys will get under way and men who owe property taxes for 1931, 1932 and 1933 will be given an opportunity to earn money with which to pay the taxes. Half of the money will be applied on their taxes and the other half will be given the men with which to purchase life's necessities. It is reported the first men to be called will be those who owe 1931 and 1932 taxes. As soon as the 1933 statistics are compiled and reach the city solicitor's office, which may be several weeks, the men who owe 1933 taxes will be called. Council yesterday gave authority to Solicitor White to employ Miss Jane Love. She will be employed to figure taxes in connection with the employment of the men.

Police have found intoxicated men on railroad tracks, in creeks and doorways but the first intoxicated man to be found hanging on a picket fence was discovered a day or more ago. The man, who gave his name as Boris Sinkovich, was found hanging on a picket fence in Center alley, according to the report given Mayor Mayne. How he came to be in that predicament is not known but it may be that some kind friend, knowing he could not make his way, did not want to see him fall down so they fixed up an arrangement that kept him in a perpendicular position.

Attorney Norman Martin powwowed with council yesterday and as counsel for Mrs. Alice Reebel offered to settle with the city for damage done to the Reebel property when North street was repaved several years ago. The porch had to be removed and the doors moved to the side. Windows had to be made where the door had been. Concrete steps had to be constructed and according to Attorney Martin, Mrs. Reebel expended about $600. He offered to compromise for $300. If the compromise is not effected the matter will go to court. His proposition was referred to Solicitor White for recommendation.

Grant and North Jefferson street has been the scene of too many accidents recently.....A slow sign should be placed on each side of East Washington street near the stone entrance to the park. The signs may save lives....Automobiles escorting newlyweds yesterday had horns blowing so loudly councilmanic proceedings were interrupted. ....During a discussion in council yesterday when ye olden days were mentioned Mayor Mayne admitted having "stolen" Col. Shaw's horse so he could have a ride. This was when the mayor was a boy....Captain J. Ed Elder has returned to police duty. He was off owing to Mrs. Elder having undergone an operation....Calcium chloride has been placed on Cascade park driveway to the midway.

Council apportioned the taxes on a property in McCleary avenue which was owned by Hettenbaugh and Holmes. The tax on the two lots assessed as one amounted to about $200. A local realtor reported he had sold one-half of the lot so council convened as a board of revision and divided the tax which was paid immediately. The lot is said to have been bought by the Shenango Pottery.

Jimmy Clark, a husky young colored chap of the Grant street section armed himself with a lot of bricks and went looking for someone a few days ago. He gave himself away when the police car hove in sight. He dropped the bricks then ran. He sped to the top of the Canyon street hill but try as he would he could not shake off the plainclothes operatives, McMullen and Lynch. He spent the night in jail. Years ago Lynch had an enviable reputation as a runner and the chase McMullen and he put up yesterday re-established their running record.

Complains Of Catchbasins

Fee Fears Openings Not Large Enough; Water May Flood Property

John Fee, West Washington street, appeared before council which met in city hall Monday and requested the city to fix the catchbasins in that section so that, in case of a heavy rain his property will not be flooded.

He said that the catchbasins opening formerly were 16 inches high but since repaving in West Washington street the opening is now only five inches. The matter was referred to Streets Director Butler and Engineer Hoskins.

HERE IS A FRIGIDAIRE THAT USES LESS CURRENT THAN ONE ORDINARY LAMP BULB — LESS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE OF REFRIGERATOR

Lifetime porcelain, inside and out—with stainless porcelain in the food compartment. No wonder everyone's talking about the Super Series Frigidaire '34, and calling it the finest refrigerator ever created by Frigidaire and General Motors engineers!

And this Frigidaire '34 makes more ice . . . holds more food . . . has a dozen other wonderful, new conveniences.

It has automatic reset defrosting; automatic ice-tray release; the new Sliding Utility Basket for eggs and small articles; and the Frigidaire Servashelf that's so convenient when rearranging things in the refrigerator.

Nor is that all! . . . double Hydrator capacity; interior lighting; faster freezing; extra room for tall bottles. And the powerful, quiet motor operates on so little current!

When you see it, you will quickly realize why the Frigidaire '34 is so popular. And you'll be surprised when you hear how amazingly easy it is to own one. We'd like to have you drop in at one of the showrooms listed below and learn the interesting details.

Within a few days resurfacing of streets and alleys will get under way and men who owe property taxes for 1931, 1932 and 1933 will be given an opportunity to earn money with which to pay the taxes. Half of the money will be applied on their taxes and the other half will be given the men with which to purchase life's necessities. It is reported the first men to be called will be those who owe 1931 and 1932 taxes. As soon as the 1933 statistics are compiled and reach the city solicitor's office, which may be several weeks, the men who owe 1933 taxes will be called. Council yesterday gave authority to Solicitor White to employ Miss Jane Love. She will be employed to figure taxes in connection with the employment of the men.

Police have found intoxicated men on railroad tracks, in creeks and doorways but the first intoxicated man to be found hanging on a picket fence was discovered a day or more ago. The man, who gave his name as Boris Sinkovich, was found hanging on a picket fence in Center alley, according to the report given Mayor Mayne. How he came to be in that predicament is not known but it may be that some kind friend, knowing he could not make his way, did not want to see him fall down so they fixed up an arrangement that kept him in a perpendicular position.

Attorney Norman Martin powwowed with council yesterday and as counsel for Mrs. Alice Reebel offered to settle with the city for damage done to the Reebel property when North street was repaved several years ago. The porch had to be removed and the doors moved to the side. Windows had to be made where the door had been. Concrete steps had to be constructed and according to Attorney Martin, Mrs. Reebel expended about $600. He offered to compromise for $300. If the compromise is not effected the matter will go to court. His proposition was referred to Solicitor White for recommendation.

Grant and North Jefferson street has been the scene of too many accidents recently.....A slow sign should be placed on each side of East Washington street near the stone entrance to the park. The signs may save lives....Automobiles escorting newlyweds yesterday had horns blowing so loudly councilmanic proceedings were interrupted. ....During a discussion in council yesterday when ye olden days were mentioned Mayor Mayne admitted having "stolen" Col. Shaw's horse so he could have a ride. This was when the mayor was a boy....Captain J. Ed Elder has returned to police duty. He was off owing to Mrs. Elder having undergone an operation....Calcium chloride has been placed on Cascade park driveway to the midway.

Council apportioned the taxes on a property in McCleary avenue which was owned by Hettenbaugh and Holmes. The tax on the two lots assessed as one amounted to about $200. A local realtor reported he had sold one-half of the lot so council convened as a board of revision and divided the tax which was paid immediately. The lot is said to have been bought by the Shenango Pottery.

Jimmy Clark, a husky young colored chap of the Grant street section armed himself with a lot of bricks and went looking for someone a few days ago. He gave himself away when the police car hove in sight. He dropped the bricks then ran. He sped to the top of the Canyon street hill but try as he would he could not shake off the plainclothes operatives, McMullen and Lynch. He spent the night in jail. Years ago Lynch had an enviable reputation as a runner and the chase McMullen and he put up yesterday re-established their running record.

Complains Of Catchbasins

Fee Fears Openings Not Large Enough; Water May Flood Property

John Fee, West Washington street, appeared before council which met in city hall Monday and requested the city to fix the catchbasins in that section so that, in case of a heavy rain his property will not be flooded.

He said that the catchbasins opening formerly were 16 inches high but since repaving in West Washington street the opening is now only five inches. The matter was referred to Streets Director Butler and Engineer Hoskins.

Arrange For Convenience Of Alumni Members

DATE IS EXTENDED ON RESERVATIONS

Splendid arrangements have been made for the convenience and comfort of the members of the New Castle High School Alumni, at the annual reunion on Thursday, June 21, in the Cathedral.

Guests as soon as they arrive, will be escorted to the dining room, where they may be seated and enjoy the company of their friends and classmates until the hour for serving the banquet, it was announced today.

Can Still Buy Tickets

Owing to the fact that more reservations have been received than tickets purchased, the date for purchasing tickets has been advanced to Wednesday evening, after which time, no more tickets will be sold. It is absolutely necessary that the committee know how many expect to attend, in order that dinner may be provided for them without anyone being stinted, as has been the case several times in the past.

Any person having flowers which they can contribute for the table decorations, is asked to notify Paul F. Butz, Bob Weingartner, Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, Mrs. John A. Elliott, or Miss Hattie Welch. These flowers will be called for.

Miss Dorothy Kinney has been named sponsor of the June class of 1929, in place of Mrs. Lucille M. McGoun, who was unable to serve.

Other Committees

The reception committee is composed of President Marjorie Rhodes, vice president, Earl T. Ramsey, treasurer, John D. Kennedy; and Secretary Elizabeth Brudin, with the special guests, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Green, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Orth, and the presidents of the reunion classes, that is those which graduated in five or multiples of five years ago; They are James Goodchild and Heber Baldwin of the 1934 classes, Otto Pearsall, Paul Arrow, Ralph Cooper, Attorney John Powers, Ira M. Ramsey, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mrs. Robert B. Jameson and Mrs. Carmi Glover.

The aides are: Eleanor Galbreath chairman; Rhoda Leslie, Kathryn Boston, Martha Jo McGoun, Eleanor Blanning, Mrs. James Hinish, Anastasia Barnes, Helen Blaha, Gretchen Smith, and Jean Twaddle.

The Marshall are: Charles Nolan, chairman, James Elder, David McBride, Tom Stevenson, Charles Campbell, Herbert Stevenson, and John Stump.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Branstretter's orchestra, while John Haley Phillips and his orchestra will furnish the music at the dinner and program.

Bill Will Affect Railroaders Here

Crosseh Bill Ready For Roosevelt's Signature; Covers All Employes

New Castle's railroad employes and the rest who constitute the nation's million and more railroad employes will be placed on a new federally supervised retirement-pension system once President Roosevelt signs his name to the Crossch bill, sent to him by Congress last week.

The new legislation, which takes effect on the first day of the second month after Mr. Roosevelt approves it, has been designed to increase employment on the railroads by a compulsory retirement system.

The railroads, it is reported, would contribute twice as much to the pension fund as their employes. Under the bill retirement is compulsory at 65 years of age but may come after 30 years' service.

Today

Lowing Herd Goes Home.

President, NRA Rejoice.

Only $500,000,000.

Christian Science Case.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE LOWING HERD of Congressmen, preparing to wind slowly home to get itself reelected, expresses satisfaction with work accomplished. To the voters, it appears to have played the part of an automaton, a sort of legislative "robot," carrying out orders from the White House. That is what a majority of the voters wanted done, and Congress does what the voters want, when it knows what that is.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT in a letter sent to West Virginia, expresses satisfaction with the achievements of NRA.

"We have spread employment, we have raised pay, and we are NOT THROUGH YET.

"It is a notable record of recovery. It has led the way for other nations, and has produced widespread, and, I believe, permanent results. Certainly we have a right to celebrate this anniversary."

The NRA executives, with pride, show these results of their work:

Manufacturing production up 50 per cent. Department stores sales up 46 per cent. Variety store sales up 86 per cent. General country store sales up 66 per cent.

And, most important as a test of national recovery spending power optimism in March, 1933, the American public bought 118,000 automobiles, and in March, 1934, it bought 336,013 automobiles, an increase of 184.8 per cent. Also iron and steel production increased 200 per cent; bituminous coal, 62.5 per cent; electric power production, 14.9 per cent; freight car loadings, 15.3 per cent.

Important to publishers, magazine advertising increased 23.5 per cent, and newspaper advertising lineage 35.7 per cent.

In April United States exports were 70.9 per cent above last April and imports increased 59.6 per cent.

There is no doubt, whatever your opinion of NRA and "government interfering in business," that government "interference" has stirred up activity in what was a stagnant business and industrial swamp of despair.

THE "LICENSING PROVISION" of NRA which has now lapsed, gave the President power to force recalcitrant industries or business men to comply with NRA orders, or go out of business. The President never once used this power to issue or refuse a "presidential license" to any business man.

The licensing power was allowed to lapse, without renewal, at the urgent request of Gen. Johnson, who declared that the American industry could govern itself, without any licensing or veto power.

The most aggressive action of the lawmakers during their dying moments was developed in the Senate limiting the President's use of unexpended RFC funds to five hundred million dollars, whereas the President had asked authority to use up to three thousand million dollars.

Once upon a time, five hundred millions would have been considered "a good deal of money," enough to build the Panama Canal, for instance, and several other canals. But it is merely petty cash now.

Swift legislation, pushed along by Senators and Representatives anxious to get home, was interrupted for a moment by Senator Huey Long, introducing a bill to have the government take care of bankrupt farmers. But that difficulty was overcome.

AT MINEOLA, Long Island, Mrs. Lucy F. Kirk, a Christian Scientist, brought suit for injuries suffered in an automobile collision. Justice Paul Bonynge told the jury, which agreed with him, that if pain and injury are not real, but imaginary, as Christian Science teaches, then a Christian Scientist cannot properly claim damages for personal injuries.

The justice said to the jury:

"If pains are not real, and fractures do not exist, obviously you men are in no position under the law to award damages that do not exist. If they (the injuries) are not real, as, according to the teachings of the departed patron saint of Christian Science, then, of course, she, the plaintiff, has no place here."

The justice pointed out that the plaintiff had refused to accept the assistance of a doctor. The jury found for the defendant, against the Christian Scientist.

It is respectfully suggested by this writer, who believes in old-fashioned science, and not in Christian Science, that the trial in question suggests the ancient time of Haroun Al Raschid rather than a modern American court.

Suppose an ordinary Christian, not a Christian Scientist, had appeared as plaintiff against a man, saying:

"This man struck me on the side of the head, knocked me down, and compelled me to give him all my money. I want him punished, and I want damages."

Would the justice have said to the plaintiff:

"You call yourself Christian; don't you know that Christianity teaches you, if you are struck on one cheek, to turn the other cheek; did you do that? Don't you know that your Christian religion commands you to take all you have and give to the poor? Is it not evident that this highwayman was poor? If you were a sincere Christian, you would have turned the other cheek, to be knocked down again, and would have given him what money you had at home, as well as what you had with you. You have no standing in this court, because you call yourself a Christian and don't turn the other cheek, and don't take all you have and give to the poor."

The case should be taken to some higher court, in which the plaintiff might find that a particular religious belief, sound or otherwise, does not deprive her of justice under ordinary American law.

FRENCH NEWSPAPERS and statesmen fear that Mussolini has had the international wool pulled over his eyes by the ingenious Hitler. According to the forceful Doumergue, and others, France goes to war only when forced to do so, loves peace, fights only when compelled. Germans, on the other hand, love war for its own sake, and plan it in advance. So say the French.

There is no doubt that France, England and to a lesser extent Italy, want no war at present. After a big war when nations have divided the property of the conquered, they are somewhat in the condition of a python that has swallowed a small donkey. They want time to lie and digest, in peace.

In comparatively recent French history, that of Napoleon and Louis the Fourteenth, for instance, there has been no pronounced objection to making war for its own sake, and for the sake of conquest.

FRANCE RESPONDS in a common-sense way to the alarm caused by the meeting and secret conversation between Hitler and Mussolini. The deputies appropriate three thousand million francs, to build new fighting airplanes, submarines and other weapons of defense, in spite of a money stringency, and hard times in France.

If the French are ever defeated again, as in 1871, it will not be because of being taken by surprise.

William Davies, Of Youngstown, Dies; Other News As Written By Johns

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
(Brython)

Sad tidings of the death of the friends, William Davies, of Youngstown, O., have been received by friends in New Castle. Mr. Davies was born and educated at Morristown, South Wales, and he left for the United States 50 years ago and spent most of his time at Youngstown. He was a bricklayer by trade. He was well known to the Welsh people of New Castle, visiting here very often and making his headquarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jones of East Reynolds street and Llewellyn Thomas of South Mercer street.

The Bible tells us that it is not good that the man should be alone and this is the experience of our friend, Rev. Rees T. Williams, at the present time, because his wife and young son, Hugh, are on their vacation at the home of Mrs. Williams' parents at Bangor, Pa. But the loneliness will not last very long for Rev. Williams is arranging to take his vacation in the near future to join his wife and baby at Bangor.

Rev. S. L. Cobb filled the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening and gave a wonderful, powerful sermon which pleased the members very much. After the sermon he gave communion.

An interesting meeting was held last Saturday evening by members of the Star of Wales lodge No. 60 True Ivorites of America. The meeting was presided over by Griffith Phillips and all the other officers were present. Business in preparation for the coming of the order at Rome, N. Y., was taken care of. The local lodge has nominated Daniel Hughes, treasurer of the lodge, to the office of Grand Secretary of the order.

Mrs. William Phillips of East Reynolds street has recovered from the illness of several weeks ago and is busy with her family preparing to give a grand reception to her oldest son, William John Phillips, who will visit the family next month from California. It has been ten years since the family saw him last. He has a high position with the Pacific railroad at California.

Friends will be glad to hear that the former Florence Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Jenkins, of Delaware avenue, and her husband, Walter Cope, are arranging to spend their honeymoon in England and Wales. They will sail from New York City on Saturday, June 30, and meet Mrs. Cope's father at Swansea, South Wales. Mr. Jenkins has been enjoying the fresh air of dear old Wales since last Christmas.

Lowing Herd Goes Home.

President, NRA Rejoice.

Only $500,000,000.

Christian Science Case.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE LOWING HERD of Congressmen, preparing to wind slowly home to get itself reelected, expresses satisfaction with work accomplished. To the voters, it appears to have played the part of an automaton, a sort of legislative "robot," carrying out orders from the White House. That is what a majority of the voters wanted done, and Congress does what the voters want, when it knows what that is.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT in a letter sent to West Virginia, expresses satisfaction with the achievements of NRA.

"We have spread employment, we have raised pay, and we are NOT THROUGH YET.

"It is a notable record of recovery. It has led the way for other nations, and has produced widespread, and, I believe, permanent results. Certainly we have a right to celebrate this anniversary."

The NRA executives, with pride, show these results of their work:

Manufacturing production up 50 per cent. Department stores sales up 46 per cent. Variety store sales up 86 per cent. General country store sales up 66 per cent.

And, most important as a test of national recovery spending power optimism in March, 1933, the American public bought 118,000 automobiles, and in March, 1934, it bought 336,013 automobiles, an increase of 184.8 per cent. Also iron and steel production increased 200 per cent; bituminous coal, 62.5 per cent; electric power production, 14.9 per cent; freight car loadings, 15.3 per cent.

Important to publishers, magazine advertising increased 23.5 per cent, and newspaper advertising lineage 35.7 per cent.

In April United States exports were 70.9 per cent above last April and imports increased 59.6 per cent.

There is no doubt, whatever your opinion of NRA and "government interfering in business," that government "interference" has stirred up activity in what was a stagnant business and industrial swamp of despair.

THE "LICENSING PROVISION" of NRA which has now lapsed, gave the President power to force recalcitrant industries or business men to comply with NRA orders, or go out of business. The President never once used this power to issue or refuse a "presidential license" to any business man.

The licensing power was allowed to lapse, without renewal, at the urgent request of Gen. Johnson, who declared that the American industry could govern itself, without any licensing or veto power.

The most aggressive action of the lawmakers during their dying moments was developed in the Senate limiting the President's use of unexpended RFC funds to five hundred million dollars, whereas the President had asked authority to use up to three thousand million dollars.

Once upon a time, five hundred millions would have been considered "a good deal of money," enough to build the Panama Canal, for instance, and several other canals. But it is merely petty cash now.

Swift legislation, pushed along by Senators and Representatives anxious to get home, was interrupted for a moment by Senator Huey Long, introducing a bill to have the government take care of bankrupt farmers. But that difficulty was overcome.

AT MINEOLA, Long Island, Mrs. Lucy F. Kirk, a Christian Scientist, brought suit for injuries suffered in an automobile collision. Justice Paul Bonynge told the jury, which agreed with him, that if pain and injury are not real, but imaginary, as Christian Sicence teaches, then a Christian Scientist cannot properly claim damages for personal injuries.

The justice said to the jury:

"If pains are not real, and fractures do not exist, obviously you men are in no position under the law to award damages that do not exist. If they (the injuries) are not real, as, according to the teachings of the departed patron saint of Christian Science, then, of course, she, the plaintiff, has no place here."

The justice pointed out that the plaintiff had refused to accept the assistance of a doctor. The jury found for the defendant, against the Christian Scientist.

It is respectfully suggested by this writer, who believes in old-fashioned science, and not in Christian Science, that the trial in question suggests the ancient time of Haroun Al Raschid rather than a modern American court.

Suppose an ordinary Christian, not a Christian Scientist, had appeared as plaintiff against a man, saying:

"This man struck me on the side of the head, knocked me down, and compelled me to give him all my money. I want him punished, and I want damages."

Would the justice have said to the plaintiff:

"You call yourself Christian; don't you know that Christianity teaches you, if you are struck on one cheek, to turn the other cheek; did you do that? Don't you know that your Christian religion commands you to take all you have and give to the poor? Is it not evident that this highwayman was poor? If you were a sincere Christian, you would have turned the other cheek, to be knocked down again, and would have given him what money you had at home, as well as what you had with you. You have no standing in this court, because you call yourself a Christian and don't turn the other cheek, and don't take all you have and give to the poor."

The case should be taken to some higher court, in which the plaintiff might find that a particular religious belief, sound or otherwise, does not deprive her of justice under ordinary American law.

FRENCH NEWSPAPERS and statesmen fear that Mussolini has had the international wool pulled over his eyes by the ingenious Hitler. According to the forceful Doumergue, and others, France goes to war only when forced to do so, loves peace, fights only when compelled. Germans, on the other hand, love war for its own sake, and plan it in advance. So say the French.

There is no doubt that France, England and to a lesser extent Italy, want no war at present. After a big war when nations have divided the property of the conquered, they are somewhat in the condition of a python that has swallowed a small donkey. They want time to lie and digest, in peace.

In comparatively recent French history, that of Napoleon and Louis the Fourteenth, for instance, there has been no pronounced objection to making war for its own sake, and for the sake of conquest.

FRANCE RESPONDS in a common-sense way to the alarm caused by the meeting and secret conversation between Hitler and Mussolini. The deputies appropriate three thousand million francs, to build new fighting airplanes, submarines and other weapons of defense, in spite of a money stringency, and hard times in France.

If the French are ever defeated again, as in 1871, it will not be because of being taken by surprise.

"We have spread employment, we have raised pay, and we are NOT THROUGH YET.

"It is a notable record of recovery. It has led the way for other nations, and has produced widespread, and, I believe, permanent results. Certainly we have a right to celebrate this anniversary."

The NRA executives, with pride, show these results of their work:

Manufacturing production up 50 per cent. Department stores sales up 46 per cent. Variety store sales up 86 per cent. General country store sales up 66 per cent.

And, most important as a test of national recovery spending power optimism in March, 1933, the American public bought 118,000 automobiles, and in March, 1934, it bought 336,013 automobiles, an increase of 184.8 per cent. Also iron and steel production increased 200 per cent; bituminous coal, 62.5 per cent; electric power production, 14.9 per cent; freight car loadings, 15.3 per cent.

Important to publishers, magazine advertising increased 23.5 per cent, and newspaper advertising lineage 35.7 per cent.

In April United States exports were 70.9 per cent above last April and imports increased 59.6 per cent.

There is no doubt, whatever your opinion of NRA and "government interfering in business," that government "interference" has stirred up activity in what was a stagnant business and industrial swamp of despair.

THE "LICENSING PROVISION" of NRA which has now lapsed, gave the President power to force recalcitrant industries or business men to comply with NRA orders, or go out of business. The President never once used this power to issue or refuse a "presidential license" to any business man.

The licensing power was allowed to lapse, without renewal, at the urgent request of Gen. Johnson, who declared that the American industry could govern itself, without any licensing or veto power.

The most aggressive action of the lawmakers during their dying moments was developed in the Senate limiting the President's use of unexpended RFC funds to five hundred million dollars, whereas the President had asked authority to use up to three thousand million dollars.

Once upon a time, five hundred millions would have been considered "a good deal of money," enough to build the Panama Canal, for instance, and several other canals. But it is merely petty cash now.

Swift legislation, pushed along by Senators and Representatives anxious to get home, was interrupted for a moment by Senator Huey Long, introducing a bill to have the government take care of bankrupt farmers. But that difficulty was overcome.

AT MINEOLA, Long Island, Mrs. Lucy F. Kirk, a Christian Scientist, brought suit for injuries suffered in an automobile collision. Justice Paul Bonynge told the jury, which agreed with him, that if pain and injury are not real, but imaginary, as Christian Science teaches, then a Christian Scientist cannot properly claim damages for personal injuries.

The justice said to the jury:

"If pains are not real, and fractures do not exist, obviously you men are in no position under the law to award damages that do not exist. If they (the injuries) are not real, as, according to the teachings of the departed patron saint of Christian Science, then, of course, she, the plaintiff, has no place here."

The justice pointed out that the plaintiff had refused to accept the assistance of a doctor. The jury found for the defendant, against the Christian Scientist.

It is respectfully suggested by this writer, who believes in old-fashioned science, and not in Christian Science, that the trial in question suggests the ancient time of Haroun Al Raschid rather than a modern American court.

Suppose an ordinary Christian, not a Christian Scientist, had appeared as plaintiff against a man, saying:

"This man struck me on the side of the head, knocked me down, and compelled me to give him all my money. I want him punished, and I want damages."

Would the justice have said to the plaintiff:

"You call yourself Christian; don't you know that Christianity teaches you, if you are struck on one cheek, to turn the other cheek; did you do that? Don't you know that your Christian religion commands you to take all you have and give to the poor? Is it not evident that this highwayman was poor? If you were a sincere Christian, you would have turned the other cheek, to be knocked down again, and would have given him what money you had at home, as well as what you had with you. You have no standing in this court, because you call yourself a Christian and don't turn the other cheek, and don't take all you have and give to the poor."

The case should be taken to some higher court, in which the plaintiff might find that a particular religious belief, sound or otherwise, does not deprive her of justice under ordinary American law.

FRENCH NEWSPAPERS and statesmen fear that Mussolini has had the international wool pulled over his eyes by the ingenious Hitler. According to the forceful Doumergue, and others, France goes to war only when forced to do so, loves peace, fights only when compelled. Germans, on the other hand, love war for its own sake, and plan it in advance. So say the French.

There is no doubt that France, England and to a lesser extent Italy, want no war at present. After a big war when nations have divided the property of the conquered, they are somewhat in the condition of a python that has swallowed a small donkey. They want time to lie and digest, in peace.

In comparatively recent French history, that of Napoleon and Louis the Fourteenth, for instance, there has been no pronounced objection to making war for its own sake, and for the sake of conquest.

FRANCE RESPONDS in a common-sense way to the alarm caused by the meeting and secret conversation between Hitler and Mussolini. The deputies appropriate three thousand million francs, to build new fighting airplanes, submarines and other weapons of defense, in spite of a money stringency, and hard times in France.

If the French are ever defeated again, as in 1871, it will not be because of being taken by surprise.

Former Residents Return For Visit

Superintendent G. S. West of the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania railroad, accompanied by Mrs. West and their daughter, Jean, came to New Castle Monday, from Wilmington, Del., for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Fiester, Sheridan avenue.

Mr. West was formerly superintendent of the E. & A. division.

The young West girl will enter Camp East Brook of the Y. W. C. A. today for a vacation outing.

Some Paragraphs For Local Welsh

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
(Brython)

Sad tidings of the death of the friends, William Davies, of Youngstown, O., have been received by friends in New Castle. Mr. Davies was born and educated at Morristown, South Wales, and he left for the United States 50 years ago and spent most of his time at Youngstown. He was a bricklayer by trade. He was well known to the Welsh people of New Castle, visiting here very often and making his headquarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jones of East Reynolds street and Llewellyn Thomas of South Mercer street.

The Bible tells us that it is not good that the man should be alone and this is the experience of our friend, Rev. Rees T. Williams, at the present time, because his wife and young son, Hugh, are on their vacation at the home of Mrs. Williams' parents at Bangor, Pa. But the loneliness will not last very long for Rev. Williams is arranging to take his vacation in the near future to join his wife and baby at Bangor.

Rev. S. L. Cobb filled the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening and gave a wonderful, powerful sermon which pleased the members very much. After the sermon he gave communion.

An interesting meeting was held last Saturday evening by members of the Star of Wales lodge No. 60 True Ivorites of America. The meeting was presided over by Griffith Phillips and all the other officers were present. Business in preparation for the coming of the annual convention of the order at Rome, N. Y., was taken care of. The local lodge has nominated Daniel Hughes, treasurer of the lodge, to the office of Grand Secretary of the order.

Mrs. William Phillips of East Reynolds street has recovered from the illness of several weeks ago and is busy with her family preparing to give a grand reception to her oldest son, William John Phillips, who will visit the family next month from California. It has been ten years since the family saw him last. He has a high position with the Pacific railroad at California.

Friends will be glad to hear that the former Florence Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Jenkins, of Delaware avenue, and her husband, Walter Cope, are arranging to spend their honeymoon in England and Wales. They will sail from New York City on Saturday, June 30, and meet Mrs. Cope's father at Swansea, South Wales. Mr. Jenkins has been enjoying the fresh air of dear old Wales since last Christmas.

JUROR IN ARCTIC

(International News Service)

MILTON, Mass.— If Norfolk County authorities want Frederick P. MacIntosh as a prospective juror for the Millen-Faber murder trial, they will have to do some traveling. MacIntosh is a member of the Byrd expedition at Little America.

A woman is a person who hates her furniture if it isn't like her neighbor's, and hates her hat if it is.

FIDAC MEETING

A very interesting meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Earl J. Watt post American legion was held recently at the Legion home and a special Fidac program presented. Talks given were as follows: "Fidac Carries On," Genevieve Lago; "Fidac Find 'Em," Helen Kinney; "Government of England," Mrs. Elizabeth Miller; "Educational System," Helen Wallis. The four-county president, Mrs. Dennison, and Mrs. McMullen of the Slippery Rock unit, who were special guests, also gave interesting talks. Reports of the council meeting recently held at Sharon were given by Gertrude Kelley and Helen Kinney. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, June 25, at which time new officers will be elected. A party will also be held following the meeting, in honor of the children who sold poppies.

Doumergue Has Fostered New Arms Proposal

French Premier Has New Plan In Mind For Compromise With Germany

ARMED PEACE IS AIM OF FRENCH

By ARNO DOSCH-FLUEROT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 19.—Gaston Doumergue, premier of France, has a plan for a disarmament compromise with Germany, International News Service was reliably informed today.

Possessed of information on the extent of German re-armament which has convinced him that a Franco-German arms race is inevitable unless he comes to terms, Doumergue has worked out a series of diplomatic moves prior to opening up his compromise.

Louis Barthou, France's foreign minister, is racing today across Europe towards Bucharest as part of the plan on the success of which the rest depends.

Wants Acclamation

Doumergue wants a triumphal acclamation in Bucharest of the Franco-Soviet policy of mutual guarantee pacts thereby showing the strength of France's continental alliances.

While Germany is impressed—the German word, "imponiert," was used in explanation to the International News Service—by this show of strength Doumergue plans to use the prestige thus gained by sending Barthou to London to make the same show of diplomatic strength before the British.

All this gallery play is deliberate on the part of the mild suave French premier to show that a reversible republican ministry can play as bold and consistent a game as dictators.

Seek Armed Peace

Then negotiations for armed peace will begin first with the British in July where they will make or break, then with Hitler and simultaneously with Mussolini whose announcement of two 35,000 ton warships is regarded as a challenge to a naval race.

The terms of the compromise will finally be fixed in Barthou's conversations with Sir John Simon, head of the British foreign office, in July but it is regarded here as equally important that France at that time will be in a position to impose compliance.

Bible Conference At Slippery Rock

Sixth Annual Session Of The Western Pennsylvania District Will Begin June 24

GEORGE M. LANDIS

George M. Landis, former pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, also former president of the Western Pennsylvania Bible conference and now secretary of the Greenwood Hills Bible conference in Central Pennsylvania, will speak each morning next week at the sixth annual session of the Western Pennsylvania Bible conference at Slippery Rock in the First Presbyterian church.

The sessions will begin Sunday, June 24, and will continue until July 1, with the daily program as follows:

(Eastern Standard Time)

10:00 a. m., George M. Landis, Monday through Friday.

2:00 p. m., (on Sundays 2:30) the Rev. Harry M. Lintz.

Monday and Tuesday, the Rev. Samuel Miller, D. D.

Wednesday and Thursday, the Rev. Ivan O. Wilson.

Friday and Saturday, the Rev. C. H. Heaton.

3:00 p. m., first Sunday (3:30) Dr. Herbert Mackenzie.

Monday-Saturday, the Rev. Herbert Mackenzie, D. D.

Second Sunday, (3:30), the Rev. J. Oliver Buswell, D. D.

7:30 p. m., throughout conference, the Rev. Harry M. Lintz.

The Rev. Harry McCormick Lintz is one of the younger men of the Moody Bible Institute Extension department field staff. The Rev. Herbert Mackenzie, D. D., Cleveland, Ohio, is president of the Erieside Bible conference. The Rev. Samuel Miller, D. D., pastor of the First Lutheran church of Jamestown, N. Y.; the Rev. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city and the Rev. J. Oliver Buswell, D. D., president of Wheaton college, will also be heard.

INDIAN GIRL WOULD FLY
(International News Service)

Drought And Labor Difficulties Will Make Campaigning Tough For Democrats Facing Election

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 19—The 18 or 20 week stretch between now and the November date for election of senators and representatives looks less and less like being a very favorable interval for Democratic candidates to campaign in.

Not that it is reasonable to expect the administration's majority in the house of representatives to be entirely wiped out, or to expect that it will fail to gain a few seats in the senate but it may not gain as many senate seats as it had hoped for and it may lose more representatives than it had anticipated.

Weather conditions are making its agricultural program appear more and more ridiculous.

And prospects are for serious labor trouble during the summer.

As fast as one jam is straightened out, between employers and employes another one develops. It is too much to believe that all of them can be adjusted without some mighty bitter conflicts. To be sure, President Roosevelt argues that labor's recently increasingly aggressive attitude is a sign of improving times, which the workers are determined to turn to their advantage. The fact remains that a politician of the party in power, running for office in the midst of an epidemic of bad industrial disturbances is placed in an unsatisfactorily defensive position.

As for the crops, it undoubtedly is unfair to blame the administration for drouth and insect pests. Nevertheless, when they prevail the administration invariably IS blamed for them.

And the administration can legitimately be blamed for having acquiesced in a policy of crop reduction, which now threatens to result in an actual national food shortage, with the possible necessity for the importation of supplies to avert an outright famine.

The worst of the matter is that no really sensible person ever regarded the crop cut plan except with deep misgivings.

Anyone with an ounce of sense could see that it was a dangerous experiment.

With good luck it might have turned out in a fashion to make skeptics think they had been mistaken, but the dice turned up contrariwise—revealing the crackbrained character of such economics too conclusively for even the muddiest understanding to miss the significance of the demonstration.

Drouth stricken farmers may be somewhat placated, upon reflecting that their crops would have been burned up, anyway and that at least they have been paid for what they didn't plant: also by $1,000,000,000 in relief for their losses.

It isn't so safe to predict that city consumers will be satisfied, as food cost advances—and as they begin to foot the relief bill in increased taxes.

Farm relief isn't the only item that will increase taxes either.

All the other billions of new expense that the administration has been running the country into presently will begin to reflect themselves in the tax collector's exactions.

However, these additions hardly will have had time to make themselves felt in the course of the coming congressional election campaign they'll weigh later.

But labor trouble, if it develops, will be an immediate issue.

The cost of living unmistakably is mounting gradually. NRA codes in part are responsible for this. There likewise has been considerable inflation of the currency, and it is taking effect by degrees. There wont be a famine but crop reduction and the drouth, between them, promise to advance food prices still farther.

Labor wants capital to pay this increase and somewhat more, in the form of higher wages. Capital is reluctant to do so, thus curtailing its profits.

These considerations foreshadow a fierce congressional campaign.

As the "ins" the Democratic candidates will have to do the explaining.

Committee Plans School Reunion

At the committee meeting Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Robert Magill, Highland avenue, plans were furthered for the Mahoningtown school reunion, which will be an event of August 1.

The former pupils and friends will meet at the school at 2 p. m. and after a period of renewing acquaintances, there will be a program of entertainment and speaking.

At 6 o'clock the group will go to Cascade park for a picnic supper.

Ellwood Motorist Gets Into Trolley Tube By Mistake

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 19—A switchman peered from his signal tower into the trolley tube that penetrates Mt. Washington—gleaming in the darkness were a pair of automobile headlights, bounding over the rails and crossties.

Signals flashed. All inbound cars were stopped. Outbound cars slowed up. A crowd gathered at the portals. Five or six minutes elapsed and out came Harry Kellar of Ellwood City driving a car with several passengers and a string of street cars trailing him.

Perspiring Kellar blinked at the sunlight and explained:

"I was just trying to find Dormont."

A conductor showed him an easy way and kellar left fearing that embarrassed expression of motorists who have mistaken the trolley tube for a vehicular tube.

There's only one automatic refrigerator on the market today that has no moving parts to vibrate, get noisy and wear out. It's the new GAS Refrigerator!

If you want the latest and most advanced type of refrigeration, you will choose the Gas Refrigerator. It gives you everything that other refrigerators give, plus three advantages that you simply cannot get in any other refrigerator. First, it costs only 3¢ a day to operate; second, it is completely and permanently silent because there is nothing in it that moves—nothing that can possibly make noise; and third, it has no moving parts to vibrate, to get noisy, to wear out and to require costly repair, adjustment or replacement.

MAGIC: The same Natural Gas that serves you so well, so faithfully, and so economically in cooking your food on your Gas Range, also safeguards your food in the Modern Gas Refrigerator. A tiny gas flame operates a refrigeration system which is so simple, so silent, so safe and so economical that you ought, by all means, to investigate it before you buy any refrigerator.

So, before you buy any refrigerator, be sure to inspect the new GAS Refrigerator, and compare it point by point with other types. It is on display at your dealers—and at your Gas Company salesroom. See them now, while we have a complete range of sizes. Small initial payment—convenient terms.

Doumergue Has Fostered New Arms Proposal

French Premier Has New Plan In Mind For Compromise With Germany

ARMED PEACE IS AIM OF FRENCH

By ARNO DOSCH-FLUEROT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 19.—Gaston Doumergue, premier of France, has a plan for a disarmament compromise with Germany, International News Service was reliably informed today.

Possessed of information on the extent of German re-armament which has convinced him that a Franco-German arms race is inevitable unless he comes to terms, Doumergue has worked out a series of diplomatic moves prior to opening up his compromise.

Louis Barthou, France's foreign minister, is racing today across Europe towards Bucharest as part of the plan on the success of which the rest depends.

Wants Acclamation

Doumergue wants a triumphal acclamation in Bucharest of the Franco-Soviet policy of mutual guarantee pacts thereby showing the strength of France's continental alliances.

While Germany is impressed—the German word, "imponiert," was used in explanation to the International News Service—by this show of strength Doumergue plans to use the prestige thus gained by sending Barthou to London to make the same show of diplomatic strength before the British.

All this gallery play is deliberate on the part of the mild suave French premier to show that a reversible republican ministry can play as bold and consistent a game as dictators.

Seek Armed Peace

Then negotiations for armed peace will begin first with the British in July where they will make or break, then with Hitler and simultaneously with Mussolini whose announcement of two 35,000 ton warships is regarded as a challenge to a naval race.

The terms of the compromise will finally be fixed in Barthou's conversations with Sir John Simon, head of the British foreign office, in July but it is regarded here as equally important that France at that time will be in a position to impose compliance.

Drought And Labor Difficulties Will Make Campaigning Tough For Democrats Facing Election

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 19—The 18 or 20 week stretch between now and the November date for election of senators and representatives looks less and less like being a very favorable interval for Democratic candidates to campaign in.

Not that it is reasonable to expect the administration's majority in the house of representatives to be entirely wiped out, or to expect that it will fail to gain a few seats in the senate but it may not gain as many senate seats as it had hoped for and it may lose more representatives than it had anticipated.

Weather conditions are making its agricultural program appear more and more ridiculous.

And prospects are for serious labor trouble during the summer.

As fast as one jam is straightened out, between employers and employes another one develops. It is too much to believe that all of them can be adjusted without some mighty bitter conflicts. To be sure, President Roosevelt argues that labor's recently increasingly aggressive attitude is a sign of improving times, which the workers are determined to turn to their advantage. The fact remains that a politician of the party in power, running for office in the midst of an epidemic of bad industrial disturbances is placed in an unsatisfactorily defensive position.

As for the crops, it undoubtedly is unfair to blame the administration for drouth and insect pests. Nevertheless, when they prevail the administration invariably IS blamed for them.

And the administration can legitimately be blamed for having acquiesced in a policy of crop reduction, which now threatens to result in an actual national food shortage, with the possible necessity for the importation of supplies to avert an outright famine.

The worst of the matter is that no really sensible person ever regarded the crop cut plan except with deep misgivings.

Anyone with an ounce of sense could see that it was a dangerous experiment.

With good luck it might have turned out in a fashion to make skeptics think they had been mistaken, but the dice turned up contrariwise—revealing the crackbrained character of such economics too conclusively for even the muddiest understanding to miss the significance of the demonstration.

Drouth stricken farmers may be somewhat placated, upon reflecting that their crops would have been burned up, anyway and that at least they have been paid for what they didn't plant: also by $1,000,000,000 in relief for their losses.

It isn't so safe to predict that city consumers will be satisfied, as food cost advances—and as they begin to foot the relief bill in increased taxes.

Farm relief isn't the only item that will increase taxes either.

All the other billions of new expense that the administration has been running the country into presently will begin to reflect themselves in the tax collector's exactions.

However, these additions hardly will have had time to make themselves felt in the course of the coming congressional election campaign they'll weigh later.

But labor trouble, if it develops, will be an immediate issue.

The cost of living unmistakably is mounting gradually. NRA codes in part are responsible for this. There likewise has been considerable inflation of the currency, and it is taking effect by degrees. There wont be a famine but crop reduction and the drouth, between them, promise to advance food prices still farther.

Labor wants capital to pay this increase and somewhat more, in the form of higher wages. Capital is reluctant to do so, thus curtailing its profits.

These considerations foreshadow a fierce congressional campaign.

As the "ins" the Democratic candidates will have to do the explaining.

Ellwood Motorist Gets Into Trolley Tube By Mistake

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 19—A switchman peered from his signal tower into the trolley tube that penetrates Mt. Washington—gleaming in the darkness were a pair of automobile headlights, bounding over the rails and crossties.

Signals flashed. All inbound cars were stopped. Outbound cars slowed up. A crowd gathered at the portals. Five or six minutes elapsed and out came Harry Kellar of Ellwood City driving a car with several passengers and a string of street cars trailing him.

Perspiring Kellar blinked at the sunlight and explained:

"I was just trying to find Dormont."

A conductor showed him an easy way and kellar left fearing that embarrassed expression of motorists who have mistaken the trolley tube for a vehicular tube.

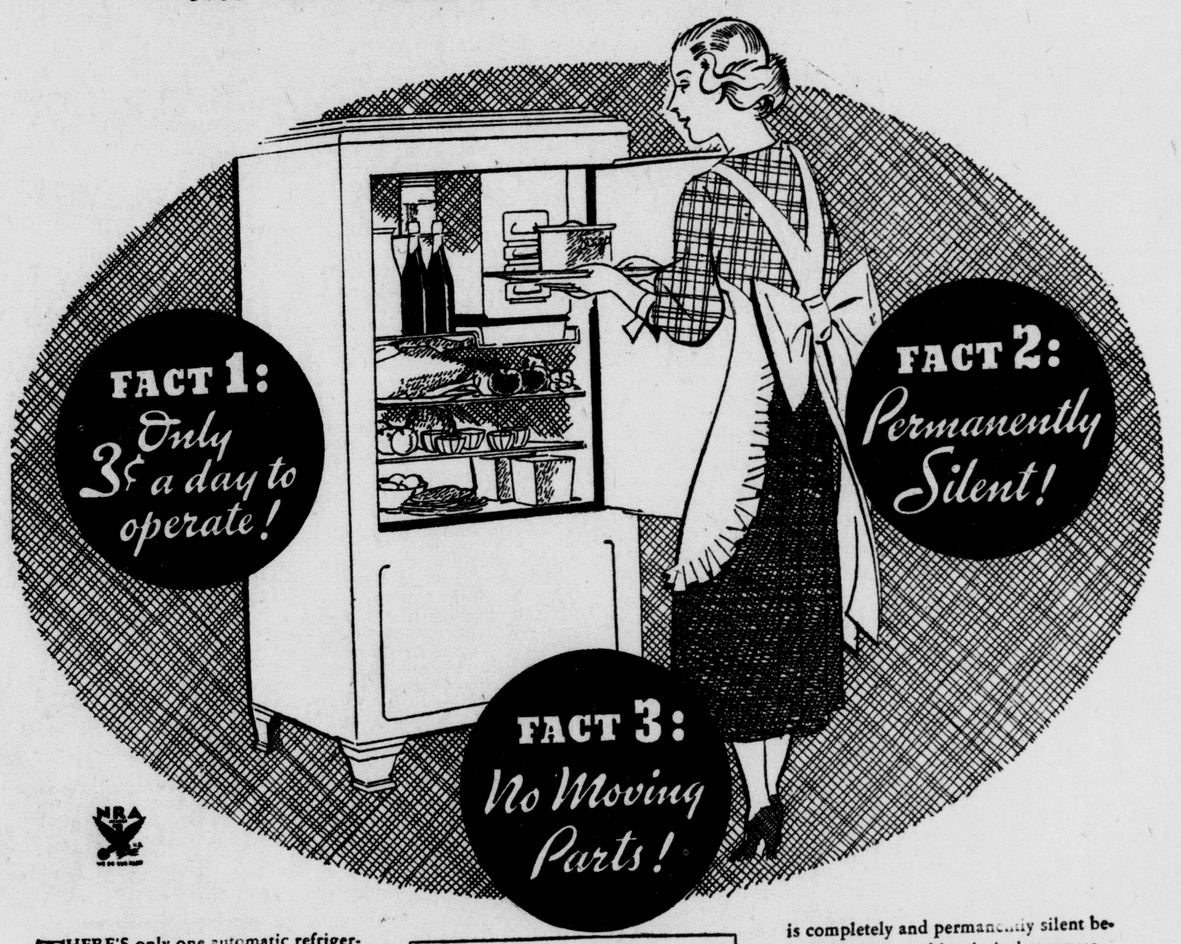
Consider these 3 FACTS and you will choose the new GAS REFRIGERATOR



THERE'S only one automatic refrigerator on the market today that will operate for a cost as low as 3c a day. It's the new GAS Refrigerator!

There's only one automatic refrigerator on the market today that is silent—and will always be silent. It's the new GAS Refrigerator!

There's only one automatic refrigerator on the market today that has no moving parts to vibrate, get noisy and wear out. It's the new GAS Refrigerator!

If you want the latest and most advanced type of refrigeration, you will choose the Gas Refrigerator. It gives you everything that other refrigerators give, plus three advantages that you simply cannot get in any other refrigerator. First, it costs only 3¢ a day to operate; second, it is completely and permanently silent because there is nothing in it that moves—nothing that can possibly make noise; and third, it has no moving parts to vibrate, to get noisy, to wear out and to require costly repair, adjustment or replacement.

So, before you buy any refrigerator, be sure to inspect the new GAS Refrigerator, and compare it point by point with other types. It is on display at your dealers—and at your Gas Company salesroom. See them now, while we have a complete range of sizes. Small initial payment—convenient terms.

MAGIC: The same Natural Gas that serves you so well, so faithfully, and so economically in cooking your food on your Gas Range, also safeguards your food in the Modern Gas Refrigerator. A tiny gas flame operates a refrigeration system which is so simple, so silent, so safe and so economical that you ought, by all means, to investigate it before you buy any refrigerator.

Maxie Baer And "Mama" Are Best Of Pals At Party

New Heavyweight Champion Takes "Mama" Baer Out To Show Her New York Sights

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Heavyweight champion Max Baer took his girl out last night and had "one heluva time."

She was tall. She was sweet. And she had a heluva time.

But before she left the champion, she said:

"Better go to sleep now, little man, you've had a busy day."

Maxie laughed and said:

"Isn't she marvelous?"

He's said that before and many, many times, but the sincerity behind it this time was something that made the girl smile proudly.

Need any more be said? you guessed it. It was his mother, here from Denver.

Did the boys put on a party for her last night?

But, it's only begun. Just as long as she stays in New York, she's dated up by the champion, who says he's going to keep her here as long as she'll stay, because:

"I was on edge since the fight, waiting for her to get here and tell me how happy she was."

There were plenty of girls at the party but all they got was a passing glance as the big champion whispered sweet things into his mother's ear and caressed her.

Helen Moody To Be Sports Scribe

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Temporarily discarding her tennis racquet for a typewriter, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, former queen of the courts, sailed on the Europa early today for England where she will cover the Wimbledon tournament as a newspaperwoman.

Declaring she plans to recapture some of the titles she was forced to forego through illness, the Californian said her condition was so improved that she hoped to enter tournament play this fall.

Average Of 290 In Swimming Classes

The final week of the "Learn To Swim" campaign of the Y. M. C. A. began Monday with a host of youngsters as large as any that took part in the opening classes of last week participating. On Friday the final tests will be conducted to determine how many of the non-swimmers have learned to swim.

In the busy instruction periods last week over 290 boys took part. The class attendance each day averaged that.

The Y conducts the drive free of charge.

Girls Go For Maxie Baer In Great Big Way

Girls By Hundreds Are Just "Crazee" To Meet Big Handsome Champion

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—"Adonis"—"Perfect Man"—"Frieze of the Parthenon."

These were a few of the honeyed words culled today from the avalanche of mash notes which have descended upon Max Baer since the handsome California boxer toppled the heavyweight championship crown from the brow of Carnera.

No less than 10,000 girls have written to Maxie since Thursday night, according to Ancil Hoffman, his manager. Some 14,000 have telephoned and more than 3,000 tried to jam their way into his hotel quarters.

"Now don't print anything that'll make them stop writing," Hoffman warned. "We wan't them to write, and we answer every letter."

"I dare you to meet me," wrote a girl described as a young, reckless and beautiful debutante. Another said that after seeing Baer she had given her fiance the gate for all time.

East New Castle Cards Ryantown

East New Castle Merchants baseball team will play an Independent league game at the Shenango High field with Ryantown at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Players on the Merchants roster will report promptly ready for play at the appointed hour. This is a National league battle.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Bay Pelkey, former Oakland, Cal. boxer who started Maxie Baer on a ring career claims he has the most deadly wallop of any boxer who ever entered the ring "Dempsey had nothing on Baer for a wallop" said Pelkey While they're singing the praises of the new heavyweight king there is a ballyhoo under way for a second meeting between Baer and the ex-champion, Primo Carnera. The proposed fight would occur in October.

Australia yesterday at Paris defeated France in the semi-final round of European zone Davis cup play Jack Crawford beat Christian Boussus 2-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0 in the fourth match to give Australia the clinching third victory.

Home Run Race Is Interesting

Ruth Abdicating Throne; Gehrig, Bonura, Johnson, Klein Seek Honor

GEHRIG PLAYS WITH BROKEN TOE

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—By taking frequent vacations to rest his aged dogs, Babe Ruth has definitely served notice that he is abdicating his home run throne without a struggle.

Who will ascend the throne and wear the crown held so long and worn so jauntily by the illustrious Bambino?

Seven have already entered valid claims and more may horn in before September rolls around.

Many Seek Crown

At the moment Bob Johnson of the Athletics has the strongest claim but Gehrig of the Yanks, long considered the Crown Prince of swat and eager for kingship in his own right, Bonura of the White Sox, Foxx of the A's, Klein of the Cubs, Ott of the Giants and Collins of the Cardinals all will find supporters in the realm of fandom.

Johnson boosted his claims in a losing cause yesterday when he got to Earnshaw for two homers, his 18th and 19th, to take a commanding lead over the pack. If he maintains his current pace, he may hit 53 homers this year which would leave him 7 shy of Ruth's record season.

Bonura, Gehrig and Klein each has 17 to his credit and, of course, are very much in the running. Of the seven candidates, three are outfielders and four first basemen.

Gehrig Plays

A broken toe failed to prevent Gehrig from getting No. 17 yesterday. He refused to take a rest because he wants to extend his consecutive game record, now well above 1,400, so far no player may ever equal it.

Despite Lou's roundtripper and another by Crosetti, the Tigers won, 6 to 5, on a two run splurge in the ninth.

The White Sox took a pair from the A's, 3 to 2, and 5 to 0. A big inning won each game.

Rain stopped the nightcap in the fifth.

Browns Lose Two

The Browns continued to find the going rough along the Atlantic seaboard. They dropped the opener, 6 to 5.

The second game was a nightmare especially for the pitchers, the Sox winning it, 14 to 9.

Carnera May Not Meet Baer Again

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—The problem of "who will Max Baer fight next September" was to be discussed today by Ancil Hoffman, manager of the new heavyweight champion, and promoter Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden. No concrete developments were expected, however, Johnston indicating that Primo Carnera will not get another crack at the title and that Hoffman has no particular contender in mind at present.

CHICAGO BOUND? —:— By Jack Sords

Only Those Who Have Lost Understand How Primo Carnera Feels

It is the most terrible feeling one can have. You're absolutely desolate You feel as though you have lost every friend you have ever had. You feel ashamed and wander about hoping you do not meet anyone you know. This is the feeling one experiences immediately after he loses a ring title, according to George Chip, ex-middleweight champion.

Twenty four hours after Primo Carnera dropped the world's heavyweight title to Max Baer, the mob had left him a forgotten man and rushed to the waving banner of Max Baer, the new heavyweight king. Primo was reported as heartbroken and Chip who went through the same experience when Al CoCoy knocked him loose from the middleweight crown in 1916 graphically described the feelings of the big Italian.

"No one who hasn't won a ring championship knows the emotion a man goes through when he is separated from the title. I know. I passed through the experience. I felt the same as Primo the night. Al McCoy put me away when my train got here. I travelled through the back alleys to my home. I was heart broken, ashamed. Its a feeling only few will ever know."

Praises Mike Gibbsons

Chip also talked of smart fighters. In his opinion the smartest fighter he has recollections of is none other than Mike Gibbons of St. Paul who punched out a decision over Chip. In this connection he tells of meeting Mike after his fight with the late Harry Greb at Pittsburgh. "How do you figure this fellow Greb?" Gibbons asked Chip. The latter smiled then replied: "Mike, you fought him and if you can't figure him, who can?" was George's reply.

Chip walloped in the days when there were husky wallopers, and scientific boxers: f'rinstance George Knockout Brown, Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, Billy Murray, Eddie Clabby, Tommy Gibbons, Les Darcy, Al McCoy, Frank Klaus, Sailor Petroskey, Joe Borrell—and others who can be recalled. Chip's hands show the result of having used them severely. The knuckles are shoved back almost to the wrist and he bears facial battle scars. He got these scars in accomplishing the things he set out to do.

"I set out first to provide my parents with a home and second to win a championship" said George. Events shaped differently than I anticipated. I won the championship first and several days later provided my parents with a home. That day was as happy as the night I won the championship," said the former champion.

Yachts Stage Trial Races

By MONTAGUE WORTHLEY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19.—The trial races among America's cup-defense yachts being held off here have not afforded much of a line on their relative all around merits so far, as only light breezes have been encountered along with smooth seas. The dependable defender must be good in heavy blows and seas as well, so the members of the cup and race committees and most of the skippers are at least hoping if not praying for more of a blow today when the fourth of the first series of races is scheduled to be held.

Yankee is recognized as the best heavy weather cup boat, and, that she might be made speedier in lighter breezes, her designer, Frank C. Paine, had a major operation performed on her last spring. In yesterday's race against Wetamoe she won by the large margin of nine minutes, eight seconds, which indicates the operation must have been successful.

In the other fracas between Rainbow and the Old Vanitie, the former won by the narrow margin of two minutes, nine seconds over the 30-mile windward and leeward course that took all four contenders from the Brenton reef lightship and to around the Clay Hill buoy off Block island and back. On the first or weather leg, Rainbow's time was three minutes, twelve seconds better than Vanitie's, but, on the run back the 1914 sloop cut that margin down by one minute.

The bagpipe, up to the eighteenth century, was common in almost every country in Europe.

Deadlock In Lawrence Loop

West Pittsburg And Polish Tied For First Place In County League

FIRST HALF TO END SATURDAY

Polish Nationals and West Pittsburg are in a deadlock for first place in the Lawrence County Baseball league and Bessemer is only one game behind. The former two teams are scheduled to play Wednesday and a "break" in the standing may result. The Polish will play at Mahoning and Hillsville will play at West Pittsburg. The first half ends with Saturday's games.

After Saturday the West Side will have ceased to be a member of the league and their place will be taken by Wampum which was quite prominent in the league several years ago.

The league standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
West Pittsburg	12	5	.709
Polish N. A.	12	5	.700
Bessemer	12	6	.666
Mahoning	7	9	.437
Hillsville	5	10	.333
West Side	4	16	.200

League Managers To Meet Tonight

An important meeting of the managers and officials of the Independent baseball league are asked to meet at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock for discussion of the last half of the playing season. It is imperative that all teams have representatives at the meeting.

So far there are no teams ready to drop out of the Independent league at the end of the first half. The league has been very successful. Large crowds are attending the games, and are being rewarded by fast plays and fine hitting.

PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight on the Lehigh field at 6:30 o'clock, Manufacturers Light & Heat mushball team will oppose the Phalanx. The game is expected to be replete with action.

Maxie Baer And "Mama" Are Best Of Pals At Party

New Heavyweight Champion Takes "Mama" Baer Out To Show Her New York Sights

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Heavyweight champion Max Baer took his girl out last night and had "one heluva time."

She was tall. She was sweet. And she had a heluva time.

But before she left the champion, she said:

"Better go to sleep now, little man, you've had a busy day."

Maxie laughed and said:

"Isn't she marvelous?"

He's said that before and many, many times, but the sincerity behind it this time was something that made the girl smile proudly.

Need any more be said? you guessed it. It was his mother, here from Denver.

Did the boys put on a party for her last night?

But, it's only begun. Just as long as she stays in New York, she's dated up by the champion, who says he's going to keep her here as long as she'll stay, because:

"I was on edge since the fight, waiting for her to get here and tell me how happy she was."

There were plenty of girls at the party but all they got was a passing glance as the big champion whispered sweet things into his mother's ear and caressed her.

Helen Moody To Be Sports Scribe

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Temporarily discarding her tennis racquet for a typewriter, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, former queen of the courts, sailed on the Europa early today for England where she will cover the Wimbledon tournament as a newspaperwoman.

Declaring she plans to recapture some of the titles she was forced to forego through illness, the Californian said her condition was so improved that she hoped to enter tournament play this fall.

Average Of 290 In Swimming Classes

The final week of the "Learn To Swim" campaign of the Y. M. C. A. began Monday with a host of youngsters as large as any that took part in the opening classes of last week participating. On Friday the final tests will be conducted to determine how many of the non-swimmers have learned to swim.

In the busy instruction periods last week over 290 boys took part. The class attendance each day averaged that.

The Y conducts the drive free of charge.

Girls By Hundreds Are Just "Crazee" To Meet Big Handsome Champion

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—"Adonis"—"Perfect Man"—"Frieze of the Parthenon."

These were a few of the honeyed words culled today from the avalanche of mash notes which have descended upon Max Baer since the handsome California boxer toppled the heavyweight championship crown from the brow of Carnera.

No less than 10,000 girls have written to Maxie since Thursday night, according to Ancil Hoffman, his manager. Some 14,000 have telephoned and more than 3,000 tried to jam their way into his hotel quarters.

"Now don't print anything that'll make them stop writing," Hoffman warned. "We wan't them to write, and we answer every letter."

"I dare you to meet me," wrote a girl described as a young, reckless and beautiful debutante. Another said that after seeing Baer she had given her fiance the gate for all time.

Home Run Race Is Interesting

Ruth Abdicating Throne; Gehrig, Bonura, Johnson, Klein Seek Honor

GEHRIG PLAYS WITH BROKEN TOE

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—By taking frequent vacations to rest his aged dogs, Babe Ruth has definitely served notice that he is abdicating his home run throne without a struggle.

Who will ascend the throne and wear the crown held so long and worn so jauntily by the illustrious Bambino?

Seven have already entered valid claims and more may horn in before September rolls around.

Many Seek Crown

At the moment Bob Johnson of the Athletics has the strongest claim but Gehrig of the Yanks, long considered the Crown Prince of swat and eager for kingship in his own right, Bonura of the White Sox, Foxx of the A's, Klein of the Cubs, Ott of the Giants and Collins of the Cardinals all will find supporters in the realm of fandom.

Johnson boosted his claims in a losing cause yesterday when he got to Earnshaw for two homers, his 18th and 19th, to take a commanding lead over the pack. If he maintains his current pace, he may hit 53 homers this year which would leave him 7 shy of Ruth's record season.

Bonura, Gehrig and Klein each has 17 to his credit and, of course, are very much in the running. Of the seven candidates, three are outfielders and four first basemen.

Gehrig Plays

A broken toe failed to prevent Gehrig from getting No. 17 yesterday. He refused to take a rest because he wants to extend his consecutive game record, now well above 1,400, so far no player may ever equal it.

Despite Lou's roundtripper and another by Crosetti, the Tigers won, 6 to 5, on a two run splurge in the ninth.

The White Sox took a pair from the A's, 3 to 2, and 5 to 0. A big inning won each game.

Rain stopped the nightcap in the fifth.

Browns Lose Two

The Browns continued to find the going rough along the Atlantic seaboard. They dropped the opener, 6 to 5.

The second game was a nightmare especially for the pitchers, the Sox winning it, 14 to 9.

Carnera May Not Meet Baer Again

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—The problem of "who will Max Baer fight next September" was to be discussed today by Ancil Hoffman, manager of the new heavyweight champion, and promoter Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden. No concrete developments were expected, however, Johnston indicating that Primo Carnera will not get another crack at the title and that Hoffman has no particular contender in mind at present.

CHICAGO BOUND? —:— By Jack Sords

Only Those Who Have Lost Understand How Primo Carnera Feels

It is the most terrible feeling one can have. You're absolutely desolate You feel as though you have lost every friend you have ever had. You feel ashamed and wander about hoping you do not meet anyone you know. This is the feeling one experiences immediately after he loses a ring title, according to George Chip, ex-middleweight champion.

Twenty four hours after Primo Carnera dropped the world's heavyweight title to Max Baer, the mob had left him a forgotten man and rushed to the waving banner of Max Baer, the new heavyweight king. Primo was reported as heartbroken and Chip who went through the same experience when Al CcCoy knocked him loose from the middleweight crown in 1916 graphically described the feelings of the big Italian.

"No one who hasn't won a ring championship knows the emotion a man goes through when he is separated from the title. I know. I passed through the experience. I felt the same as Primo the night. Al McCoy put me away when my train got here. I travelled through the back alleys to my home. I was heart broken, ashamed. Its a feeling only few will ever know."

Praises Mike Gibbsons

Chip also talked of smart fighters. In his opinion the smartest fighter he has recollections of is none other than Mike Gibbons of St. Paul who punched out a decision over Chip. In this connection he tells of meeting Mike after his fight with the late Harry Greb at Pittsburgh. "How do you figure this fellow Greb?" Gibbons asked Chip. The latter smiled then replied: "Mike, you fought him and if you can't figure him, who can?" was George's reply.

Chip walloped in the days when there were husky wallopers. and scientific boxers: f'rinstance George Knockout Brown, Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, Billy Murray, Eddie Clabby, Tommy Gibbons, Les Darcy, Al McCoy, Frank Klaus, Sailor Petroskey, Joe Borrell—and others who can be recalled. Chip's hands show the result of having used them severely. The knuckles are shoved back almost to the wrist and he bears facial battle scars. He got these scars in accomplishing the things he set out to do.

"I set out first to provide my parents with a home and second to win a championship" said George Events shaped differently than I anticipated. I won the championship first and several days later provided my parents with a home. That day was as happy as the night I won the championship," said the former champion.

Yachts Stage Trial Races

By MONTAGUE WORTHLEY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19.—The trial races among America's cup-defense yachts being held off here have not afforded much of a line on their relative all around merits so far, as only light breezes have been encountered along with smooth seas. The dependable defender must be good in heavy blows and seas as well, so the members of the cup and race committees and most of the skippers are at least hoping if not praying for more of a blow today when the fourth of the first series of races is scheduled to be held.

Yankee is recognized as the best heavy weather cup boat, and, that she might be made speedier in lighter breezes, her designer, Frank C. Paine, had a major operation performed on her last spring. In yesterday's race against Wetamoe she won by the large margin of nine minutes, eight seconds, which indicates the operation must have been successful.

In the other fracas between Rainbow and the Old Vanitie, the former won by the narrow margin of two minutes, nine seconds over the 30-mile windward and leeward course that took all four contenders from the Brenton reef lightship and to around the Clay Hill buoy off Block island and back. On the first or weather leg, Rainbow's time was three minutes, twelve seconds better than Vanitie's, but, on the run back the 1914 sloop cut that margin down by one minute.

The bagpipe, up to the eighteenth century, was common in almost every country in Europe.

Deadlock In Lawrence Loop

West Pittsburg And Polish Tied For First Place In County League

FIRST HALF TO END SATURDAY

Polish Nationals and West Pittsburg are in a deadlock for first place in the Lawrence County Baseball league and Bessemer is only one game behind. The former two teams are scheduled to play Wednesday and a "break" in the standing may result. The Polish will play at Mahoning and Hillsville will play at West Pittsburg. The first half ends with Saturday's games.

After Saturday the West Side will have ceased to be a member of the league and their place will be taken by Wampum which was quite prominent in the league several years ago.

The league standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
West Pittsburg	12	5	.700
Polish N. A.	12	5	.700
Bessemer	12	6	.666
Mahoning	7	9	.437
Hillsville	5	10	.333
West Side	4	16	.200

League Managers To Meet Tonight

An important meeting of the managers and officials of the Independent baseball league are asked to meet at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock for discussion of the last half of the playing season. It is imperative that all teams have representatives at the meeting.

So far there are no teams ready to drop out of the Independent league at the end of the first half. The league has been very successful. Large crowds are attending the games, and are being rewarded by fast plays and fine hitting.

PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight on the Lehigh field at 6:30 o'clock, Manufacturers Light & Heat mushball team will oppose the Phalanx. The game is expected to be replete with action.

Girls Go For Maxie Baer In Great Big Way

Girls By Hundreds Are Just "Crazee" To Meet Big Handsome Champion

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—"Adonis"—"Perfect Man"—"Frieze of the Parthenon."

These were a few of the honeyed words culled today from the avalanche of mash notes which have descended upon Max Baer since the handsome California boxer toppled the heavyweight championship crown from the brow of Carnera.

No less than 10,000 girls have written to Maxie since Thursday night, according to Ancil Hoffman, his manager. Some 14,000 have telephoned and more than 3,000 tried to jam their way into his hotel quarters.

"Now don't print anything that'll make them stop writing," Hoffman warned. "We wan't them to write, and we answer every letter."

"I dare you to meet me," wrote a girl described as a young, reckless and beautiful debutante. Another said that after seeing Baer she had given her fiance the gate for all time.

East New Castle Cards Ryantown

East New Castle Merchants baseball team will play an Independent league game at the Shenango High field with Ryantown at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Players on the Merchants roster will report promptly ready for play at the appointed hour. This is a National league battle.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Ray Pelkey, former Oakland, Cal. boxer who started Maxie Baer on a ring career claims he has the most deadly wallop of any boxer who ever entered the ring "Dempsey had nothing on Baer for a wallop" said Pelkey While they're singing the praises of the new heavyweight king there is a ballyhoo under way for a second meeting between Baer and the ex-champion, Primo Carnera. The proposed fight would occur in October.

Australia yesterday at Paris defeated France in the semi-final round of European zone Davis cup play Jack Crawford beat Christian Boussus 2-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0 in the fourth match to give Australia the clinching third victory.

John Szymanski graduate of Fordham who was critically injured in a football game with Cornell November 21, 1931 believes he owes his recovery to prayer and is going to be a Paulish father.

Jackie Brown of England retained the world flyweight crown at Manchester, England last night when he stood off Valentin Angelmann of France in 15 rounds. The decision was a draw.

Harry Cooper of Chicago conquered Ky Laffoon of Denver by three strokes in the playoff for the Western Open golf title yesterday at Peoria. He got first prize of $500, a cut on the day's receipts and a silver championship trophy.

Home Run Race Is Interesting

Ruth Abdicating Throne; Gehrig, Bonura, Johnson, Klein Seek Honor

GEHRIG PLAYS WITH BROKEN TOE

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 19.—By taking frequent vacations to rest his aged dogs, Babe Ruth has definitely served notice that he is abdicating his home run throne without a struggle.

Who will ascend the throne and wear the crown held so long and worn so jauntily by the illustrious Bambino?

Seven have already entered valid claims and more may horn in before September rolls around.

Many Seek Crown

At the moment Bob Johnson of the Athletics has the strongest claim but Gehrig of the Yanks, long considered the Crown Prince of swat and eager for kingship in his own right, Bonura of the White Sox, Foxx of the A's, Klein of the Cubs, Ott of the Giants and Collins of the Cardinals all will find supporters in the realm of fandom.

Johnson boosted his claims in a losing cause yesterday when he got to Earnshaw for two homers, his 18th and 19th, to take a commanding lead over the pack. If he maintains his current pace, he may hit 53 homers this year which would leave him 7 shy of Ruth's record season.

Bonura, Gehrig and Klein each has 17 to his credit and, of course, are very much in the running. Of the seven candidates, three are outfielders and four first basemen.

Gehrig Plays

A broken toe failed to prevent Gehrig from getting No. 17 yesterday. He refused to take a rest because he wants to extend his consecutive game record, now well above 1,400, so far no player may ever equal it.

Despite Lou's roundtripper and another by Crosetti, the Tigers won, 6 to 5, on a two run splurge in the ninth.

The White Sox took a pair from the A's, 3 to 2, and 5 to 0. A big inning won each game.

Rain stopped the nightcap in the fifth.

Browns Lose Two

The Browns continued to find the going rough along the Atlantic seaboard. They dropped the opener, 6 to 5.

The second game was a nightmare especially for the pitchers, the Sox winning it, 14 to 9.

Carnera May Not Meet Baer Again

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19.—The problem of "who will Max Baer fight next September" was to be discussed today by Ancil Hoffman, manager of the new heavyweight champion, and promoter Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden. No concrete developments were expected, however, Johnston indicating that Primo Carnera will not get another crack at the title and that Hoffman has no particular contender in mind at present.

CHICAGO BOUND? —:— By Jack Sords

Only Those Who Have Lost Understand How Primo Carnera Feels

It is the most terrible feeling one can have. You're absolutely desolate You feel as though you have lost every friend you have ever had. You feel ashamed and wander about hoping you do not meet anyone you know. This is the feeling one experiences immediately after he loses a ring title, according to George Chip, ex-middleweight champion.

Twenty four hours after Primo Carnera dropped the world's heavyweight title to Max Baer, the mob had left him a forgotten man and rushed to the waving banner of Max Baer, the new heavyweight king. Primo was reported as heartbroken and Chip who went through the same experience when Al McCoy knocked him loose from the middleweight crown in 1916 graphically described the feelings of the big Italian.

"No one who hasn't won a ring championship knows the emotion a man goes through when he is separated from the title. I know. I passed through the experience. I felt the same as Primo the night. Al McCoy put me away when my train got here. I travelled through the back alleys to my home. I was heart broken, ashamed. Its a feeling only few will ever know."

Praises Mike Gibbsons

Chip also talked of smart fighters. In his opinion the smartest fighter he has recollections of is none other than Mike Gibbons of St. Paul who punched out a decision over Chip. In this connection he tells of meeting Mike after his fight with the late Harry Greb at Pittsburgh. "How do you figure this fellow Greb?" Gibbons asked Chip. The latter smiled then replied: "Mike, you fought him and if you can't figure him, who can?" was George's reply.

Chip walloped in the days when there were husky wallopers, and scientific boxers: f'instance George Knockout Brown, Eddie McGoorty, Jack Dillon, Billy Murray, Eddie Clabby, Tommy Gibbons, Les Darcy, Al McCoy, Frank Klaus, Sailor Petroskey, Joe Borrell—and others who can be recalled. Chip's hands show the result of having used them severely. The knuckles are shoved back almost to the wrist and he bears facial battle scars. He got these scars in accomplishing the things he set out to do.

"I set out first to provide my parents with a home and second to win a championship" said George. Events shaped differently than I anticipated. I won the championship first and several days later provided my parents with a home. That day was as happy as the night I won the championship," said the former champion.

Harry Cooper Is New Golf Champ

Cooper Wins Western Open Championship In Playoff With Ky Laffoon

(International News Service)

PEORIA, Ill., June 19.—Harry Cooper, Chicago professional, today was the western open golf association champion of 1934, having defeated Ky Laffoon of Denver by three strokes in a double overtime playoff at country club of Peoria.

It took Cooper 36 extra holes to finally win against the magic putter of the young Denver professional. They had tied at the end of the regular four rounds with 72 hole scores of 274.

SANDLOT JIBJABS

SCARAZZOS VS. OAK A. C.

Scarazzos will play the Oak A. C. tonight at the Gaston Park field at 6 o'clock. Manager Stanley Coprowski wants the following Scarazzo players to report for the game—Tex Richards, N. Beres, Bartlett, Andy Beres, DiMuccio, Vallensi, Mastern, Turco, Viggiano, L. Pascarella, Marino, G. Augustine, Biondi, Natale and Tip Richards. Scarazzos have defeated the Oak A. C. twice this year.

MARSHALLS WANT GAMES.

Marshall's baseball team would like to schedule games with all of the Independent League teams in the county. For games call 9020 and ask for Jimmie.

AUDIAS VS. TOLANS.

One of the best softball games of the year will be played tonight at the B. & O. field when the Audias and Tolan A. C. tangle. Manager Henry Engs will send his sensational young ace pitcher, Herman Morris, to the knoll for the Tolans, and Manager Joe Augostine will counter with Sammy Pezzone. The Tolans have won five straight league games and are headed for the top of the league. The Audias are in second place in the league standing.

SECOUND ROUND STARTS.

The second round of the first half of the American Softball schedule will start tonight. The Scarazzos and Oak A. C. tangle at Gaston Park, with H. Smith and Perch Ross the umpires. The Audia-Tolan game at B. & O. field will be handled by Babovsky and Conti. The Pump Stations will play at Canyon field with the Unions and Wilson and Paglia will umpire.

GAMES WASHED OUT.

All of the scheduled games in the National Softball League were rained out last night. If possible these games will be played Wednesday at the fields scheduled for Monday night.

THREE PLAYERS QUIT.

Three of the Audia players have quit the team it is reported. DelRoss the star pitcher, Zingaro and N. Gennock being the players in mention. These players are not allowed to sign up with any other team in the softball league, this year.

CHAMPIONS WIN GAME.

Champion baseball team won from the South Side Ramblers at the Miller Avenue field 9 to 8 in a well played game. Brightshue and George did the flinging for the Ramblers, with Gall the winning pitcher for the Champions.

RADIATORS VS CUNNINGHAMS

The Radiator-Cunningham A. C. will play their postponed game at the Radiator Field at 6 o'clock on Wednesday night, it was announced today. This game was postponed from last night on account of rain.

MERCHANTS VS POWERS

West Side Merchants will play the Penn Power at the Boroline field at 6 o'clock tonight. The West Siders will play the Spencers Wednesday night at the Spencer field, this game was postponed from last night.

CASTLETONS TAKE GAME.

The Castleton softball team took a 4 to 3 upset over the strong Cunningham A. C. at Gaston Park field Sunday afternoon. Babs was the winning pitcher and Small and Dickson the losing pitchers. Martin won the game in the final inning with a screaming triple. The famous Franklin Firemen will be the opponents of the Castletons next Sunday at Gaston Park field.

THIRD U. P. GAME TONIGHT

Third U. P. church softball team will play the St. Andrews team tonight at the Gaston Park Field at 6 o'clock. This was a postponed game from Monday night. All of the Third U. P. players arre asked to take notice of the game being scheduled for tonight.

ADD SANDLOT JIBJABS GET NEW UNIFORMS

Richfield midgets, formerly the Carnegie midgets, will meet at eight o'clock tonight at 506 South Jefferson street. New uniforms will be distributed to the players. They want games with teams players of which are between 12 and 15 years of age. Managers can call Frank at 9120.

Yachts Stage Trial Races

By MONTAGUE WORTHLEY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19.—The trial races among America's cup defense yachts being held off here have not afforded much of a line on their relative all around merits so far, as only light breezes have been encountered along with smooth seas. The dependable defender must be good in heavy blows and seas as well, so the members of the cup and race committees and most of the skippers are at least hoping if not praying for more of a blow today when the fourth of the first series of races is scheduled to be held.

Yankee is recognized as the best heavy weather cup boat, and, that she might be made speedier in lighter breezes, her designer, Frank C. Paine, had a major operation performed on her last spring. In yesterday's race against Wetamoe she won by the large margin of nine minutes, eight seconds, which indicates the operation must have been successful.

In the other fracas between Rainbow and the Old Vanitie, the former won by the narrow margin of two minutes, nine seconds over the 30-mile windward and leeward course that took all four contenders from the Brenton reef lightship and to around the Clay Hill buoy off Block island and back. On the first or weather leg, Rainbow's time was three minutes, twelve seconds better than Vanitie's, but, on the run back the 1914 sloop cut that margin down by one minute.

The bagpipe, up to the eighteenth century, was common in almost every country in Europe.

Deadlock In Lawrence Loop

West Pittsburg And Polish Tied For First Place In County League

FIRST HALF TO END SATURDAY

Polish Nationals and West Pittsburg are in a deadlock for first place in the Lawrence County Baseball league and Bessemer is only one game behind. The former two teams are scheduled to play Wednesday and a "break" in the standing may result. The Polish will play at Mahoning and Hillsville will play at West Pittsburg. The first half ends with Saturday's games.

After Saturday the West Side will have ceased to be a member of the league and their place will be taken by Wampum which was quite prominent in the league several years ago.

The league standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
West Pittsburg	12	5	.700
Polish N. A.	12	5	.700
Bessemer	12	6	.663
Mahoning	7	9	.437
Hillsville	5	10	.333
West Side	4	16	.200

League Managers To Meet Tonight

An important meeting of the managers and officials of the Independent baseball league are asked to meet at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock for discussion of the last half of the playing season. It is imperative that all teams have representatives at the meeting.

So far there are no teams ready to drop out of the Independent league at the end of the first half. The league has been very successful. Large crowds are attending the games, and are being rewarded by fast plays and fine hitting.

PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight on the Lehigh field at 6:30 o'clock, Manufacturers Light & Heat mushball team will oppose the Phalanx. The game is expected to be replete with action.

Half Million On Drought Relief

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Prospect of nearly 500,000 persons on drought relief this winter confronted the administration today.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said the 300,000 persons now being aided with government funds through work relief programs may rise by 50 per cent.

Relief directors from all parts of the drought area, conferring here, reported the government is substantially meeting the needs of drought victims.

Hopkins plans to visit the blighted territory to determine the needs of these states this winter.

Police Arrest Four In House

Police last night paid a visit to West Falls street where Sam Cornelius had rented a house.

When they returned to the police station the police had Sam, two male and one female friend. They had been drinking, it is alleged.

All but the woman got castor oil this morning.

The mayor promised the woman, docketed as Mary Doe, a glass of oil, if she was apprehended in such company a second time.

All were discharged.

Boy Hit By Auto Leaves Hospital

Joseph Pivarnik, aged 7, of Ralph avenue, who was struck by a truck a week ago Monday in front of the St. Michael's church, returned to his home from the New Castle hospital on Monday.

The youth was playing when he was alleged to have run in front of the vehicle. He received a fractured right leg.

GROVE CITY WOMAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 19.—Mrs. Florence Millsop Brunton, 41, died at the Grove City hospital Sunday evening. She has been a Grove City resident all her life. She is survived by her husband, William Brunton, her children, Raymond, Ralph, Dorris, Billy and infant son, born at the time of her death. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Millsop who with her brothers, Quinton, James, John, all of Grove City; her sister, Mrs. Ralph Schlosser of Mount Vernon, Ohio, are her survivors. The funeral date has been set tentatively for Wednesday at 2 p. m., from the Millsop home. The deceased was a member of the Grace Methodist church and the P. H. C. lodge.

FIND NO ROBBERS

City police squad rushed to Croton avenue last night when persons residing at 906 Croton avenue believed someone was in the house. An investigation proved no one was in the residence.

May Retaliate On Germany In Drastic Manner

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Disclosure that the United States is considering drastic retaliation against Germany for its action in proclaiming a moratorium on all foreign debt payments was made at the white house today.

President Roosevelt, it was learned, recently asked Secretary of State Hull whether any legislation was necessary before congress adjourned to enable the government to take retaliatory action against Germany. Secretary Hull replied that it was not necessary and that under the foreign exchange section of legislation enacted last year, the government has the power to take whatever action it deems necessary.

DRIVES HIS CAR INTO TRAIN

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., June 19.—Driving his new automobile into a freight train, William Evans, 64, was seriously injured here today.

Police expressed belief that Evans became confused and drove his car directly into the train on an Erie crossing.

WINDOWS STOLEN

Police yesterday sought persons who stole the windows from a vacant house at 104 Mulberry street. The miscreants already removed cupboards.

WELL, folks, the Wash. St. paving job in front of Frank (Fleetwing) Dewberry's gas emporium is done and it is one swell job. Pete Lightner and his state boys worked night and day to get the street opened and they deserve a lot of praise. Frank wants to thank all his friends who were put to so much inconvenience getting into the station and backing out and it proves conclusively that while a man may walk a mile for a camel he will drive a much longer way to get that good Fleetwing gas. Come down to the west side, folks, and see a pretty street and when you are here sail in and fill up and Frank will give you his autograph. 1t—6

Half Million On Drought Relief

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Prospect of nearly 500,000 persons on drought relief this winter confronted the administration today.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said the 300,000 persons now being aided with government funds through work relief programs may rise by 50 per cent.

Relief directors from all parts of the drought area, conferring here, reported the government is substantially meeting the needs of drought victims.

Hopkins plans to visit the blighted territory to determine the needs of these states this winter.

Police Arrest Four In House

Police last night paid a visit to West Falls street where Sam Cornelius had rented a house.

When they returned to the police station the police had Sam, two male and one female friend. They had been drinking, it is alleged.

All but the woman got castor oil this morning.

The mayor promised the woman, docketed as Mary Doe, a glass of oil, if she was apprehended in such company a second time.

All were discharged.

Boy Hit By Auto Leaves Hospital

Joseph Pivarnik, aged 7, of Ralph avenue, who was struck by a truck a week ago Monday in front of the St. Michael's church, returned to his home from the New Castle hospital on Monday.

The youth was playing when he was alleged to have run in front of the vehicle. He received a fractured right leg.

GROVE CITY WOMAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 19.—Mrs. Florence Millsop Brunton, 41, died at the Grove City hospital Sunday evening. She has been a Grove City resident all her life. She is survived by her husband, William Brunton, her children, Raymond, Ralph, Dorris, Billy and infant son, born at the time of her death. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Millsop who with her brothers, Quinton, James, John, all of Grove City; her sister, Mrs. Ralph Schlosser of Mount Vernon, Ohio, are her survivors. The funeral date has been set tentatively for Wednesday at 2 p. m., from the Millsop home. The deceased was a member of the Grace Methodist church and the P. H. C. lodge.

FIND NO ROBBERS

City police squad rushed to Croton avenue last night when persons residing at 906 Croton avenue believed someone was in the house. An investigation proved no one was in the residence.

May Retaliate On Germany In Drastic Manner

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Disclosure that the United States is considering drastic retaliation against Germany for its action in proclaiming a moratorium on all foreign debt payments was made at the white house today.

President Roosevelt, it was learned, recently asked Secretary of State Hull whether any legislation was necessary before congress adjourned to enable the government to take retaliatory action against Germany. Secretary Hull replied that it was not necessary and that under the foreign exchange section of legislation enacted last year, the government has the power to take whatever action it deems necessary.

DRIVES HIS CAR INTO TRAIN

Irregularity Occurs In Stock Market As Result Of Congress Adjourning

UTILITY STOCKS ARE UP SLIGHTLY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19—Irregularity due to profit taking induced by an opening upturn characterized the stock market today.

The over night mark up evidenced at the opening today was apparently due to the adjournment of congress today.

The commodity markets, however, displayed independent strength. Wheat, corn and the other grains moved fractionally higher and cotton jumped about 50 cents a bale.

The unexpected passage of the railroad labor bill was reflected in the railroad shares where Atchison, New York Central, Lackawanna and southern railway declined fractionally.

United States steel and other steel shares also turned irregular after the opening and dipped fractionally. The downturn in operations to 56.1 per cent reported by the American Iron and Steel Institute also contributed to the irregularity.

The utilities, as a group, gave a good account of themselves. Consolidated gas, public service of N. J. and other issues, continued in fair demand to reach their best levels in weeks American Telephone, however continued to meet with offerings and sold down fractically.

Fears Her Daughter And Her Young Son May Be Stranded

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 19.—Fear that Virginia Lee Corbin, former child firm star, and her 18 months old son are stranded somewhere in Europe was expressed today by her mother, Mrs. Virginia Corbin.

Mrs. Corbin said her daughter in a letter Nov. 25, 1933, had advised she would return here by Christmas. At that time the actress was residing at 44 Rue Brunnell in Paris with her husband, Theodore Krol, a New York stock broker.

Another Poetry Evening Will Be Conducted Here

Another "poetry evening" will be conducted at the New Castle Free public library on Tuesday evening, June 26 Miss Alice M. Sterling librarian, today announced.

Quite a number of requests for a meeting of this kind have been received from poetry lovers who were unable to be at the last meeting.

The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock and will be conducted in the cool story hour room of the library basement.

Rural Carriers Meet Thursday

All rural mail carriers of Lawrence County are expected to be in the New Castle post office on Thursday night at eight o'clock when a meeting will be held. The meeting is called by the Lawrence County Federated Rural Letter carriers.

The striking resemblance of the girl posing with the sailor in the above photo to Grace Budd (inset) who was ten when kidnaped six years ago caused parents of the missing girl to ask New York police to try to learn identity of the young woman. Picture was published in a New York newspaper in connection with visit of U. S. fleet. (Central Press)

Railroad Scion Elopes

Leonor F. Loree II, 19, grandson of the railroad magnate who has been learning railroading from the ground up, gave the home folks a surprise by eloping with Elizabeth Schulten, 23, of New York. They were wed at Media, Pa. He's shown on the job before elopement. (Central Press)

In Mystery Death

Newark, N. J., police are probing strange death of Elinor Coleman, 23, who was brought to a hospital there by Vernon D. Shelters, salesman, after a nocturnal auto ride. Doctors found her dead. Shelters said as they were on their way home, she excused herself for a few minutes. When her continued absence had alarmed him, he started a search and found her lying in the road, seriously injured, although no car had passed. (Central Press)

Looking Backward

Twenty-three years ago today George V and Mary were the headliners in the world's show: it was their coronation day. They are shown in the costumes they wore as they played their roles in ancient Westminster Abbey that day.

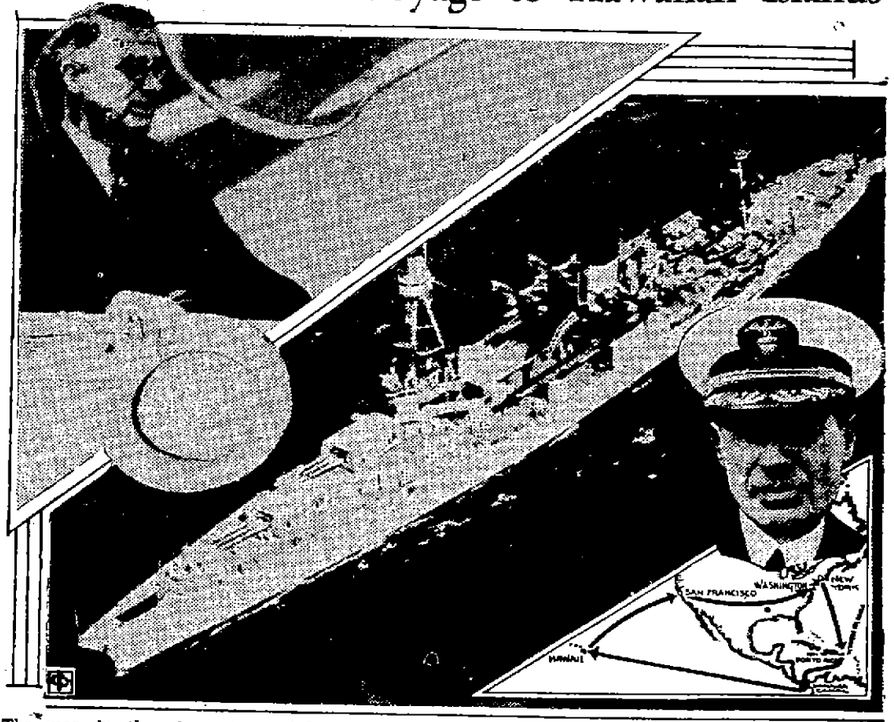
FIVE CANDIDATES TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY OF MEXICO

Here are the five candidates in the race for the presidency of Mexico in the national elections scheduled to take place July 1 throughout the republic—General Lazaro Cardenas, National Revolutionary party; Colonel Adalberto Tejeda, Leftist Socialist party; Roman Badillo, Social Anti-Continuist party; General Antonio Villareal, Revolutionary Confederation of Independent parties, and Hernan Laborde, Workers and Peasants bloc. The election is for a six-year term with no opportunity at re-election owing to the recent constitutional amendment which abolished the practice.

Roosevelt Set for Voyage to Hawaiian Islands



The map in the above layout shows the route President Roosevelt will follow on his trip to the Hawiian Islands the latter part of June, by way of the Virgin Islands and the Panama canal, returning via San Francisco. The U. S. S. Houston, above, commanded by Captain Walter B. Woodson, lower right, will carry the president to Hawaii and then to San Francisco.

Astor, Ex-Fiancee Play "Ring Around the Rosey"

MODERN FATHER MOTHERS CHILD

Young father who has learned to care for his baby.

According to the New York Maternity Center association the men are rolling up their sleeves, donning aprons and learning to take over the task of tending baby. At the center a man learns all about bands, swabs, feeding bottles and baby bathing in a course given at the request of the men themselves. And they are not the least bit clumsy, according to Miss Hazel Corbin, director of the center. "Rather, they are gentle, careful and cautious," she says. One of the fathers is pictured with his baby on his knee.

UTILITY STOCKS ARE UP SLIGHTLY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19—Irregularity due to profit taking induced by an opening upturn characterized the stock market today.

The over night mark up evidenced at the opening today was apparently due to the adjournment of congress today.

The commodity markets, however, displayed independent strength. Wheat, corn and the other grains moved fractionally higher and cotton jumped about 50 cents a bale.

The unexpected passage of the railroad labor bill was reflected in the railroad shares where Atchison, New York Central, Lackawanna and southern railway declined fractionally.

United States steel and other steel shares also turned irregular after the opening and dipped fractionally. The downturn in operations to 56.1 per cent reported by the American Iron and Steel institute also contributed to the irregularity.

The utilities, as a group, gave a good account of themselves. Consolidated gas, public service of N. J. and other issues, continued in fair demand to reach their best levels in weeks American Telephone, however continued to meet with offerings and sold down fractically.

Fears Her Daughter And Her Young Son May Be Stranded

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 19.—Fear that Virginia Lee Corbin, former child firm star, and her 18 months old son are stranded somewhere in Europe was expressed today by her mother, Mrs. Virginia Corbin.

Mrs. Corbin said her daughter in a letter Nov. 25, 1933, had advised she would return here by Christmas. At that time the actress was residing at 44 Rue Brunnell in Paris with her husband, Theodore Krol, a New York stock broker.

Another Poetry Evening Will Be Conducted Here

Another "poetry evening" will be conducted at the New Castle Free public library on Tuesday evening, June 26 Miss Alice M. Sterling librarian, today announced.

Quite a number of requests for a meeting of this kind have been received from poetry lovers who were unable to be at the last meeting.

The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock and will be conducted in the cool story hour room of the library basement.

Rural Carriers Meet Thursday

All rural mail carriers of Lawrence County are expected to be in the New Castle post office on Thursday night at eight o'clock when a meeting will be held. The meeting is called by the Lawrence County Federated Rural Letter carriers.

The striking resemblance of the girl posing with the sailor in the above photo to Grace Budd (inset) who was ten when kidnaped six years ago caused parents of the missing girl to ask New York police to try to learn identity of the young woman. Picture was published in a New York newspaper in connection with visit of U. S. fleet. (Central Press)

Railroad Scion Elopes

Leonor F. Loree II, 19, grandson of the railroad magnate who has been learning railroading from the ground up, gave the home folks a surprise by eloping with Elizabeth Schulten, 23, of New York. They were wed at Media, Pa. He's shown on the job before elopement. (Central Press)

In Mystery Death

Newark, N. J., police are probing strange death of Elinor Coleman, 23, who was brought to a hospital there by Vernon D. Shelters, salesman, after a nocturnal auto ride. Doctors found her dead. Shelters said as they were on their way home, she excused herself for a few minutes. When her continued absence had alarmed him, he started a search and found her lying in the road, seriously injured, although no car had passed. (Central Press)

Looking Backward

Twenty-three years ago today George V and Mary were the headliners in the world's show: it was their coronation day. They are shown in the costumes they wore as they played their roles in ancient Westminster Abbey that day.

For other notable anniversaries, see "Today is the Day."

Astor, Ex-Fiancee Play "Ring Around the Rosey"

FIVE CANDIDATES TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY OF MEXICO

Here are the five candidates in the race for the presidency of Mexico in the national elections scheduled to take place July 1 throughout the republic—General Lazaro Cardenas, National Revolutionary party; Colonel Adalberto Tejeda, Leftist Socialist party; Roman Badillo, Social Anti-Continuist party; General Antonio Villareal, Revolutionary Confederation of Independent parties, and Hernan Laborde, Workers and Peasants bloc. The election is for a six-year term with no opportunity at re-election owing to the recent constitutional amendment which abolished the practice.

Roosevelt Set for Voyage to Hawaiian Islands

MODERN FATHER MOTHERS CHILD

Young father who has learned to care for his baby.

According to the New York Maternity Center association the men are rolling up their sleeves, donning aprons and learning to take over the task of tending baby. At the center a man learns all about bands, swabs, feeding bottles and baby bathing in a course given at the request of the men themselves. And they are not the least bit clumsy, according to Miss Hazel Corbin, director of the center. "Rather, they are gentle, careful and cautious," she says. One of the fathers is pictured with his baby on his knee.

WELL, folks, the Wash. St. paving job in front of Frank (Fleetwing) Dewberry's gas emporium is done and it is one swell job. Pete Lightner and his state boys worked night and day to get the street opened and they deserve a lot of praise. Frank wants to thank all his friends who were put to so much inconvenience getting into the station and backing out and it proves conclusively that while a man may walk a mile for a camel he will drive a much longer way to get that good Fleetwing gas. Come down to the west side, folks, and see a pretty street and when you are here sail in and fill up and Frank will give you his autograph. 1t—6

Half Million On Drought Relief

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Prospect of nearly 500,000 persons on drought relief this winter confronted the administration today.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said the 300,000 persons now being aided with government funds through work relief programs may rise by 50 per cent.

Relief directors from all parts of the drought area, conferring here, reported the government is substantially meeting the needs of drought victims.

Hopkins plans to visit the blighted territory to determine the needs of these states this winter.

Police Arrest Four In House

Police last night paid a visit to West Falls street where Sam Cornelius had rented a house.

When they returned to the police station the police had Sam, two male and one female friend. They had been drinking, it is alleged.

All but the woman got castor oil this morning.

The mayor promised the woman, docketed as Mary Doe, a glass of oil, if she was apprehended in such company a second time.

All were discharged.

Boy Hit By Auto Leaves Hospital

Joseph Pivarnik, aged 7, of Ralph avenue, who was struck by a truck a week ago Monday in front of the St. Michael's church, returned to his home from the New Castle hospital on Monday.

The youth was playing when he was alleged to have run in front of the vehicle. He received a fractured right leg.

GROVE CITY WOMAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 19.—Mrs. Florence Millsop Brunton, 41, died at the Grove City hospital Sunday evening. She has been a Grove City resident all her life. She is survived by her husband, William Brunton, her children, Raymond, Ralph, Dorris, Billy and infant son, born at the time of her death. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Millsop who with her brothers, Quinton, James, John, all of Grove City; her sister, Mrs. Ralph Schlosser of Mount Vernon, Ohio, are her survivors. The funeral date has been set tentatively for Wednesday at 2 p. m., from the Millsop home. The deceased was a member of the Grace Methodist church and the P. H. C. lodge.

FIND NO ROBBERS

City police squad rushed to Croton avenue last night when persons residing at 906 Croton avenue believed someone was in the house. An investigation proved no one was in the residence.

May Retaliate On Germany In Drastic Manner

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Disclosure that the United States is considering drastic retaliation against Germany for its action in proclaiming a moratorium on all foreign debt payments was made at the white house today.

President Roosevelt, it was learned, recently asked Secretary of State Hull whether any legislation was necessary before congress adjourned to enable the government to take retaliatory action against Germany. Secretary Hull replied that it was not necessary and that under the foreign exchange section of legislation enacted last year, the government has the power to take whatever action it deems necessary.

Roosevelt Will Name Commission Members

Several New Federal Commissions Established By Congress Before Adjourning

Lucrative Jobs Are To Be Passed Out By President To Deserving Supporters

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt was considering a long list of names today from which he will select members for the several new federal commissions established by congress.

He is expected to appoint the five-man commissioner to enforce the new stock exchange regulatory bill during the week since that act becomes effective July 1.

James M. Landis and George Matthews, of the Federal Trade Commission have been prominently mentioned, with Landis considered a certain appointee. Among others reported under consideration are Roland Redmond, counsel for the New York Stock Exchange, J. M. B. Hoxsie, exchange official, and Morris Tremaine, New York state controller. Senator Goldsborough (R) of Maryland is being urged as a Republican member.

To Appoint Seven

The president is to appoint seven members to the new Federal Communications Commission which will replace the existing Radio Commission and take over Interstate Commerce Commission control over telephones, radio, telegraph and cable lines.

Harry L. Hopkins is understood to be the president's choice to head the housing set-up.

As a result of passage of the loans and industries bill, the RFC is expected to add a number of high-salaried employes.

The president also will appoint an Air Mail Commission of five members, who will receive $9,500 each, to develop a permanent air mail policy.

Three members of the Railway Retirement Board, each to draw $10,000 a year, must be named. One member is to be named by employes, one by employers and the third by the president.

Continue Trial Of Thomas Davis

Illinois Judge Overrules Motion To Dismiss Charges Against Youth

EXPECT JURY TO BE PICKED TODAY

(International News Service)

CARLYLE, Ill., June 19—Trial was continued here today in the case of Thomas A. Davis, Jr., Pittsburgh high school student who is charged with shooting and wounding chief deputy Sheriff H. A. Donnewald and later stealing his car.

Selection of a jury was expected to be completed today. A motion for dismissal of charges was overruled by circuit Judge F. R. Dove late yesterday.

It was claimed by the defense that the youth had not been brought to trial within the statutory limit. The court ruled, however, that the period during which Davis was on trial in Pittsburgh charged with shooting a Pennsylvania state highway patrolman was not included within the limitation because of his being outside the court's jurisdiction.

Wounded Deputy

Davis, who was acquitted recently of the killing of the patrolman, is alleged to have shot the deputy sheriff during a struggle in the Clinton county jail on September 22, 1933. At that time, Davis was being held under suspicion for having a rifle and hunting knife in his car.

The youth, after escaping from the jail several days later, was captured in northern Illinois. He was later extradicted to Pennsylvania.

Davis' father and mother and 10 year old sister have been in the courtroom here during the trial.

Trainmen's Wives Meet Last Night

Have Pleasant Social Time Following Regular Business Meeting

An exceptionally interesting and enjoyable meeting of the Augustra Statzer Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was conducted at the regular meeting place in the Clendenin building Monday evening.

After the business session the women played a number of games of bingo and at the close a tasty lunch was served by Mrs. C. B. Schooley, Mrs. Rose Gilliland and Mrs. Elsie Striner.

The next meeting of the trainmen's wives will take place on Monday evening, July 16.

INTEREST IN GAMES

The games and matches that have been in play at the Madison avenue horseshoe court have been attracting interest in seventh ward. The teams playing have usually had large groups of spectators in the "gallery." Among the players frequently on the court are Hockman and Leichty, Bender, Sr. and Holliday, Sullivan and Bender, Jr. All players who think they are "pretty good" and would like to meet some others to prove the fact are asked to call T. N. Hockman, West Madison avenue, to schedule games.

VISIT IN WARD

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Robinson, of Selbia, Alabama, Mrs. Sally Lawson, of Roanoke, Va., Miss Ruth Stepp, of Pasadena, Calif., and James Skarlet, of Jacksonville, Fla., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Allen, Liberty street. Believe Sharon Robberies Solved

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., June 19.—With the arrest of Steve Senich, 28, at Lisbon, O., today, police believe that a series of robberies, in which band instruments and automobiles were taken in this area, has been cleared up.

Booked at Lisbon on a reckless driving charge, Senich was said to have confessed the robberies. He is a resident of Sharon, and has been out on parole from the workhouse.

Band instruments valued at $2,000 were taken from high schools in Sharon, Sharpsville, North Canton and Steubenville. Three automobiles were also stolen. Senich was quoted as saying he pawned the instruments in Ohio cities.

Man Loses Eye In Odd Accident

Struck In Face By Particles Of Broken Bottle At Youngstown Dance Club

Frank F. Stevenson, of Cuyahoga Falls, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital here, recovering from the effects of a freak accident in which he lost his left eye, Saturday evening.

Mr. Stevenson with his wife, had attended the Colgan-Clary wedding here Saturday afternoon, and had gone to Youngstown with some of the members of the wedding party, who were leaving there by train for their homes.

Afterwards they went to Bannow Brook, a dancing club outside Youngstown. The party was unable to get into the dance floor and were walking about on the grounds outside, when someone hurled a bottle, allegedly at the lights, which went astray and struck a tree near Mr. Stevenson. The bottle shattered and a piece of it struck Mr. Stevenson in the face, cutting the left eyeball in two and also lacerating the right eye and his forehead. He was given first-aid treatment by a physician who was in the party and was then brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital here, where the eyeball was removed.

Will Seek Change In Salary Order

Dr. Green And R. W. Hazen To See Dr. Rule At Harrisburg

In an effort to get the Department of Public Instruction to change its ruling concerning the salaries of school teachers here for the coming term, Dr. C. C. Green and Attorney Roy W. Hazen, a member of the board will go to Harrisburg. At the last board meeting Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent informed the local board that they could not continue the 20 per cent reduction of teachers' salaries but could make a fifteen per cent cut this year.

The board had built the budget on the assumption that it could continue the 20 per cent reduction. In addition the state department has cut the school appropriations 15 per cent which added to the salary cut ruling means about $50,000 to the local school district.

Ban Cows From Cunningham Park

Police yesterday played cowboy here.

They staged their act in Cunningham park.

However, they didn't mount a buckskin pony and twirl a lariat to down the cows which were roaming the park.

Instead they gave orders to the owners to keep his cows fastened in such a way they could not roam through the park now being improved.

Roosevelt Will Name Commission Members

Several New Federal Commissions Established By Congress Before Adjourning

Lucrative Jobs Are To Be Passed Out By President To Deserving Supporters

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt was considering a long list of names today from which he will select members for the several new federal commissions established by congress.

He is expected to appoint the five-man commissioner to enforce the new stock exchange regulatory bill during the week since that act becomes effective July 1.

James M. Landis and George Matthews, of the Federal Trade Commission have been prominently mentioned, with Landis considered a certain appointee. Among others reported under consideration are Roland Redmond, counsel for the New York Stock Exchange, J. M. B. Hoxsie, exchange official, and Morris Tremaine, New York state controller. Senator Goldsborough (R) of Maryland is being urged as a Republican member.

To Appoint Seven

The president is to appoint seven members to the new Federal Communications Commission which will replace the existing Radio Commission and take over Interstate Commerce Commission control over telephones, radio, telegraph and cable lines.

Harry L. Hopkins is understood to be the president's choice to head the housing set-up.

As a result of passage of the loans and industries bill, the RFC is expected to add a number of high-salaried employes.

The president also will appoint an Air Mail Commission of five members, who will receive $9,500 each, to develop a permanent air mail policy.

Three members of the Railway Retirement Board, each to draw $10,000 a year, must be named. One member is to be named by employes, one by employers and the third by the president.

Continue Trial Of Thomas Davis

Illinois Judge Overrules Motion To Dismiss Charges Against Youth

EXPECT JURY TO BE PICKED TODAY

(International News Service)

CARLYLE, Ill., June 19—Trial was continued here today in the case of Thomas A. Davis, Jr., Pittsburgh high school student who is charged with shooting and wounding chief deputy Sheriff H. A. Donnewald and later stealing his car.

Selection of a jury was expected to be completed today. A motion for dismissal of charges was overruled by circuit Judge F. R. Dove late yesterday.

It was claimed by the defense that the youth had not been brought to trial within the statutory limit. The court ruled, however, that the period during which Davis was on trial in Pittsburgh charged with shooting a Pennsylvania state highway patrolman was not included within the limitation because of his being outside the court's jurisdiction.

Wounded Deputy

Davis, who was acquitted recently of the killing of the patrolman, is alleged to have shot the deputy sheriff during a struggle in the Clinton county jail on September 22, 1933. At that time, Davis was being held under suspicion for having a rifle and hunting knife in his car.

The youth, after escaping from the jail several days later, was captured in northern Illinois. He was later extradicted to Pennsylvania.

Davis' father and mother and 10 year old sister have been in the courtroom here during the trial.

Believe Sharon Robberies Solved

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., June 19.—With the arrest of Steve Senich, 28, at Lisbon, O., today, police believe that a series of robberies, in which band instruments and automobiles were taken in this area, has been cleared up.

Booked at Lisbon on a reckless driving charge, Senich was said to have confessed the robberies. He is a resident of Sharon, and has been out on parole from the workhouse.

Band instruments valued at $2,000 were taken from high schools in Sharon, Sharpsville, North Canton and Steubenville. Three automobiles were also stolen. Senich was quoted as saying he pawned the instruments in Ohio cities.

The president will receive an honorary degree from Yale University on Wednesday and will watch the Yale-Harvard boat race at New London on Friday, when his son, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., will row with the Harvard freshman crew.

The president will leave for his Pacific cruise on June 30th, while the first lady of the land will spend a vacation motoring.

Man Loses Eye In Odd Accident

Struck In Face By Particles Of Broken Bottle At Youngstown Dance Club

Frank F. Stevenson, of Cuyahoga Falls, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital here, recovering from the effects of a freak accident in which he lost his left eye, Saturday evening.

Mr. Stevenson with his wife, had attended the Colgan-Clary wedding here Saturday afternoon, and had gone to Youngstown with some of the members of the wedding party, who were leaving there by train for their homes.

Afterwards they went to Bannow Brook, a dancing club outside Youngstown. The party was unable to get into the dance floor and were walking about on the grounds outside, when someone hurled a bottle, allegedly at the lights, which went astray and struck a tree near Mr. Stevenson. The bottle shattered and a piece of it struck Mr. Stevenson in the face, cutting the left eyeball in two and also lacerating the right eye and his forehead. He was given first-aid treatment by a physician who was in the party and was then brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital here, where the eyeball was removed.

Will Seek Change In Salary Order

Dr. Green And R. W. Hazen To See Dr. Rule At Harrisburg

In an effort to get the Department of Public Instruction to change its ruling concerning the salaries of school teachers here for the coming term, Dr. C. C. Green and Attorney Roy W. Hazen, a member of the board will go to Harrisburg. At the last board meeting Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent informed the local board that they could not continue the 20 per cent reduction of teachers' salaries but could make a fifteen per cent cut this year.

The board had built the budget on the assumption that it could continue the 20 per cent reduction. In addition the state department has cut the school appropriations 15 per cent which added to the salary cut ruling means about $50,000 to the local school district.

Ban Cows From Cunningham Park

Police yesterday played cowboy here.

They staged their act in Cunningham park.

However, they didn't mount a buckskin pony and twirl a lariat to down the cows which were roaming the park.

Instead they gave orders to the owners to keep his cows fastened in such a way they could not roam through the park now being improved.

UTILITY STOCKS ARE UP SLIGHTLY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 19—Irregularity due to profit taking induced by an opening upturn characterized the stock market today.

The over night mark up evidenced at the opening today was apparently due to the adjournment of congress today.

The commodity markets, however, displayed independent strength. Wheat, corn and the other grains moved fractionally higher and cotton jumped about 50 cents a bale.

The unexpected passage of the railroad labor bill was reflected in the railroad shares where Atchison, New York Central, Lackawanna and southern railway declined fractionally.

United States steel and other steel shares also turned irregular after the opening and dipped fractionally. The downturn in operations to 56.1 per cent reported by the American Iron and Steel institute also contributed to the irregularity.

The utilities, as a group, gave a good account of themselves. Consolidated gas, public service of N. J. and other issues, continued in fair demand to reach their best levels in weeks American Telephone, however continued to meet with offerings and sold down fractionally.

The striking resemblance of the girl posing with the sailor in the above photo to Grace Budd (inset) who was ten when kidnaped six years ago caused parents of the missing girl to ask New York police to try to learn identity of the young woman. Picture was published in a New York newspaper in connection with visit of U. S. fleet. (Central Press)

Railroad Scion Elopes

Leonor F. Loree II, 19, grandson of the railroad magnate who has been learning railroading from the ground up, gave the home folks a surprise by eloping with Elizabeth Schulten, 23, of New York. They were wed at Media, Pa. He's shown on the job before elopement. (Central Press)

In Mystery Death

Newark, N. J., police are probing strange death of Elinor Coleman, 23, who was brought to a hospital there by Vernon D. Shelters, salesman, after a nocturnal auto ride. Doctors found her dead. Shelters said as they were on their way home, she excused herself for a few minutes. When her continued absence had alarmed him, he started a search and found her lying in the road, seriously injured, although no car had passed. (Central Press)

Looking Backward

Twenty-three years ago today George V and Mary were the headliners in the world's show; it was their coronation day. They are shown in the costumes they wore as they played their roles in ancient Westminster Abbey that day.

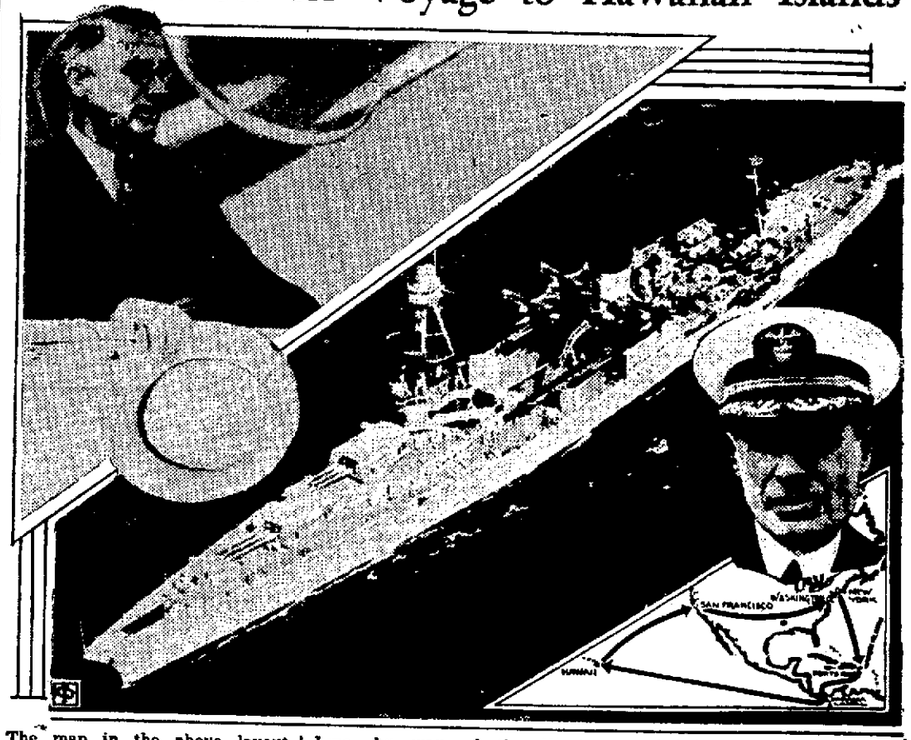
FIVE CANDIDATES TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY OF MEXICO

Here are the five candidates in the race for the presidency of Mexico in the national elections scheduled to take place July 1 throughout the republic—General Lazaro Cardenas, National Revolutionary party; Colonel Adalberto Tejeda, Leftist Socialist party; Roman Badillo, Social Anti-Continuist party; General Antonio Villareal, Revolutionary Confederation of Independent parties, and Hernan Laborde, Workers and Peasants bloc. The election is for a six-year term with no opportunity at re-election owing to the recent constitutional amendment which abolished the practice.

Roosevelt Set for Voyage to Hawaiian Islands



The map in the above layout shows the route President Roosevelt will follow on his trip to the Hawiian Islands the latter part of June, by way of the Virgin Islands and the Panama canal, returning via San Francisco. The U. S. S. Houston, above, commanded by Captain Walter B. Woodson, lower right, will carry the president to Hawaii and then to San Francisco.

Astor, Ex-Fiancee Play "Ring Around the Rosey"

MODERN FATHER MOTHERS CHILD

Young father who has learned to care for his baby.

According to the New York Maternity Center association the men are rolling up their sleeves, donning aprons and learning to take over the task of tending baby. At the center a man learns all about bands, swabs, feeding bottles and baby bathing in a course given at the request of the men themselves. And they are not the least bit clumsy, according to Miss Hazel Corbin, director of the center. "Rather, they are gentle, careful and cautious," she says. One of the fathers is pictured with his baby on his knee.

Roosevelt Will Name Commission Members

Lucrative Jobs Are To Be Passed Out By President To Deserving Supporters

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt was considering a long list of names today from which he will select members for the several new federal commissions established by congress.

He is expected to appoint the five-man commissioner to enforce the new stock exchange regulatory bill during the week since that act becomes effective July 1.

James M. Landis and George Matthews, of the Federal Trade Commission have been prominently mentioned, with Landis considered a certain appointee. Among others reported under consideration are Roland Redmond, counsel for the New York Stock Exchange, J. M. B. Hoxsie, exchange official, and Morris Tremaine, New York state controller. Senator Goldsborough (R) of Maryland is being urged as a Republican member.

To Appoint Seven

The president is to appoint seven members to the new Federal Communications Commission which will replace the existing Radio Commission and take over Interstate Commerce Commission control over telephones, radio, telegraph and cable lines.

Harry L. Hopkins is understood to be the president's choice to head the housing set-up.

As a result of passage of the loans and industries bill, the RFC is expected to add a number of high-salaried employes.

The president also will appoint an Air Mail Commission of five members, who will receive $9,500 each, to develop a permanent air mail policy.

Three members of the Railway Retirement Board, each to draw $10,000 a year, must be named. One member is to be named by employes, one by employers and the third by the president.

Continue Trial Of Thomas Davis

Illinois Judge Overrules Motion To Dismiss Charges Against Youth

EXPECT JURY TO BE PICKED TODAY

(International News Service)

CARLYLE, Ill., June 19—Trial was continued here today in the case of Thomas A. Davis, Jr., Pittsburgh high school student who is charged with shooting and wounding chief deputy Sheriff H. A. Donnewald and later stealing his car.

Selection of a jury was expected to be completed today. A motion for dismissal of charges was overruled by circuit Judge F. R. Dove late yesterday.

It was claimed by the defense that the youth had not been brought to trial within the statutory limit. The court ruled, however, that the period during which Davis was on trial in Pittsburgh charged with shooting a Pennsylvania state highway patrolman was not included within the limitation because of his being outside the court's jurisdiction.

Wounded Deputy

Davis, who was acquitted recently of the killing of the patrolman, is alleged to have shot the deputy sheriff during a struggle in the Clinton county jail on September 22, 1933. At that time, Davis was being held under suspicion for having a rifle and hunting knife in his car.

The youth, after escaping from the jail several days later, was captured in northern Illinois. He was later extradicted to Pennsylvania.

Davis' father and mother and 10 year old sister have been in the courtroom here during the trial.

Struck In Face By Particles Of Broken Bottle At Youngstown Dance Club

Frank F. Stevenson, of Cuyahoga Falls, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital here, recovering from the effects of a freak accident in which he lost his left eye, Saturday evening.

Mr. Stevenson with his wife, had attended the Colgan-Clary wedding here Saturday afternoon, and had gone to Youngstown with some of the members of the wedding party, who were leaving there by train for their homes.

Afterwards they went to Bannow Brook, a dancing club outside Youngstown. The party was unable to get into the dance floor and were walking about on the grounds outside, when someone hurled a bottle, allegedly at the lights, which went astray and struck a tree near Mr. Stevenson. The bottle shattered and a piece of it struck Mr. Stevenson in the face, cutting the left eyeball in two and also lacerating the right eye and his forehead. He was given first-aid treatment by a physician who was in the party and was then brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital here, where the eyeball was removed.

Will Seek Change In Salary Order

Dr. Green And R. W. Hazen To See Dr. Rule At Harrisburg

In an effort to get the Department of Public Instruction to change its ruling concerning the salaries of school teachers here for the coming term, Dr. C. C. Green and Attorney Roy W. Hazen, a member of the board will go to Harrisburg. At the last board meeting Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent informed the local board that they could not continue the 20 per cent reduction of teachers' salaries but could make a fifteen per cent cut this year.

The board had built the budget on the assumption that it could continue the 20 per cent reduction. In addition the state department has cut the school appropriations 15 per cent which added to the salary cut ruling means about $50,000 to the local school district.

Ban Cows From Cunningham Park

Police yesterday played cowboy here.

They staged their act in Cunningham park.

However, they didn't mount a buckskin pony and twirl a lariat to down the cows which were roaming the park.

Instead they gave orders to the owners to keep his cows fastened in such a way they could not roam through the park now being improved.
